MUTES AND BLIND

COMMITTEE FINDS SCHOOLS SATISFACTORY.

Buildings Must be Repaired—Would Locate Mute School Near Salem for Moral Interest of Inmates.

Salem, Feb. 26.—The house committee, composed of J. M. Hansbrough, J. H. Robbins and B. F. Purdy, which was appointed to investigate into the conditions, management and accounts of the state reform school, the blind school and the deaf-mute school, in its report to the house, stated that the books of the different schools had been examined carefully and had been found near and correctly kept, and that in the matter of purchasing supplies, machinery and stock, a great many very close bargains had been made, that they could detect nothing in the management of the schools that would reflect anything other than good management.

Recommend Repairs.

They recommend the early repair of the industrial building of the reform school which was destroyed by fire in December, 1901, and they also recommend the selection of a more suitable site, nearer to the city, for the mute school as they consider the present location to be detrimental to the best interests of the school. In this relation the report says:

"The foundation of an education for the mute is in seeing, and it is our opinion that the results would be far greater if they were so located that they might have the full benefit of seeing, the old saying that to see is to believe, will surely apply to the mute."

Mutes and Blind Well Cared For.

"The affection shown by the mute children is evidence to us that they are well treated by the present management. The building needs, and must have at the earliest possible date, ventilation under the basement floor. There is no ventilation whatever at present, and the joints and floors are fast decaying on account of moisture underneath, which is also injurious to the health of the pupils and should be remedied at once.

"At the blind school we recommend the building of a new kitchen and dining room, as the present building is old, poorly ventilated, and inconvenient for those that are blessed with good eyes.

"We found everything neatly kept and the progress of this school, and the handwork taught, was far greater than we expected to find. We consider the management first-class in every particular."

TO EDIT NEW LAWS.

Prominent Salem Attorney Will Prepare Them for Publication.

Salem, Feb. 26.—A. O. Condit, a prominent Salem attorney, has been employed by the secretary of state to arrange the new laws for publication and prepare an index for the new volume of session laws. The manuscript will be ready for the printer about the middle of March and the laws will be out about a month later. Mr. Condit had charge of the work of arranging and indexing the laws of the last volume of session laws, and the excellent manner in which he performed the work led the secretary of state to engage him again.

VETOES RAND'S BILL.

Governor Chamberlain Did Not Approve of New Judicial District.

Salem, Feb. 26.—Governor Chamberlain yesterday filed two bills with his veto attached, as follows:

S. B. 186, to divide the 8th judicial district into separate districts. The bill left Union and Willowa counties out of any judicial district. This was a careless piece of legislation.

H. B. No. 68, that raises the salary of the Multnomah county superintendent from $1500 to $2000. This intention was not fully disclosed in the bill.

Only two days more must pass before it will be known what the extent of the work of the recent session of the legislature has been. The constitution gives the governor five days (Sundays excepted) after the final adjournment of the legislature, in which to veto any measure that has been passed. The governor has until Thursday night in which to approve bills or disapprove them. Governor Chamberlain will deny himself to visitors as much as possible and give close attention to the large number of bills that were piled up on his table on the last day of the session.

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ That Causes it Has to be Destroyed, to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing off the scurf will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week at the age of 40 years, she has spent 250 days of 12 hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope, vain, because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is Newbro's "Herpicide"—also a delightful hair dressing and thoroughly antiseptic against all contagion from use of other's hair brushes. Sold by F. W. Schmidt & Co. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

TO LET PORTAGE BY CONTRACT.

Dalles People Send Out Petitions Asking Commissioners to Build by Contract.

The sentiment in favor of building the state portage by contract appears to be quite general, says the Times Mountaineer. In The Dalles the sentiment is almost universal, and a few days ago a petition asking the portage road commissioners to let the work by contract was circulated in Arlington and received the signatures of 81 business men of that city. Arthur Senter, who prepared the petitions and who is taking commendable interest in the matter, has forwarded petitions to Pendleton, La Grande, Union and Baker City where they will no doubt meet with general favor. Certainly the most economical way to do the work is to let it by contract, and this will no doubt be the determination of the board.
