The young people will make their home on the ranch of La Hue & Earnhart.

Death of Miss Pennington.

Miss Celia Pennington died last Monday night at the home of her parents in Albany. Consumption was the cause of death. Miss Pennington was well known in Pendleton, her parents having lived here for a number of years. She was a young woman of splendid character and attainments and was esteemed by a large circle of friends.

Died at County Farm.

Moses Tompkins, aged about 60 years, died at the county farm early this morning, of fistula and other disorders. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Baker & Folson's undertaking parlors. The interment will be in the potter's field. Mr. Tompkins was admitted to the farm from Athena about a year and a half ago.

There were inspected and admitted from Mexico in 1902, 65,213 cattle, 2,776 sheep and lambs and 2,090 goats.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Concerning the People of Pendleton and Vicinity • Notes Personal and Otherwise • By Our Regular Correspondent

Club Notes.

All of the clubs have held regular meetings this week. The Thursday Afternoon with another art program, the Current Literature, with Oregon history, and the Parliamentary, with an interesting practical address by Dr. Cole, on the necessity of individual effort for cleanliness that good old virtue that is next to godliness, and we suppose in this instance the position of next may truthfully be said to be next before and not after. We hope to have more talks of a similar character for the benefit of the clubs. Again the united club women tender thanks for the ever ready support of Pendleton's citizens in helping on any good work undertaken.

The following letter has been received by the president of the state federation from the secretary of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. It has already been referred to the Pendleton clubs, and they will take action for Umatilla county, after asking the Athena clubs to assist; these cities are the only ones in the county having federated clubs:

Mrs. C. B. Wade, President Oregon, F. W. C., Pendleton, Or.

Dear Madam:—It is the desire of our committee on agriculture to obtain from one to five native trees from each county in the state to be planted on the exposition grounds at Portland. Will you please have the kindness to inform the various clubs in your federation, of this action of the committee so that they may make propositions for the trees? The selection of the trees is left entirely to the clubs.

Thanking you in advance for your consideration in this matter, I am, Yours very truly,
HENRY E. REID,
Secretary.

The pictures of the art exhibit have arrived and the club committees and the teachers and pupils of the public school will be busy every working hour from now until Wednesday, getting the courthouse in shape and the pictures in place for the first opening Wednesday morning. The exhibit will be ready for the general public Wednesday afternoon 2 o'clock, and will be open the rest of the week afternoons, 7 to 10 evenings. The committees have spared neither time, hard work or expense in making this exhibit worthy the patronage of every man and woman in the city. The

WANTS A TANNERY.

No Good Reason Why Pendleton Should Not Have Such an Enterprise, Says a Prominent Hide Buyer.

Jack Brown, the hide buyer, is alive to one of the business responsibilities of the city. He declares that there is no good reason why Pendleton should not have a tannery. It would keep during any year, thousands of dollars in the county that is now paid to outside tanners in the preparation of hides for the final market.

In his opinion it would be a far-sighted policy that would insure to some enterprising tanner who thoroughly understood his business, all the free water that he could possibly need in the business. In his opinion, too, this is a much better location for a tannery than Walla Walla, principally because the supply of hides and pelts is much larger in this vicinity.

At Pendleton could be tanned every year thousands of hides and pelts that now go to Walla Walla in the vicinity of which town far less hides and pelts are produced than in Umatilla county. He objects to sending hides and pelts to places to be tanned that have neither so large a natural supply of the product within their reach, nor as good natural advantages for doing the tanning after the hides and pelts are there.

BUTTER INSPECTOR HERE.

Speaks Highly of the Dairy Products in Umatilla County.

E. A. McDonald, of Seattle, government inspector of butter and dairy products, is stopping at the Hotel St. George. Careful inspection of different brands of butter manufactured in Umatilla county failed to reveal the slightest trace of adulteration or inferiority according to the government's standards. Impure butter was found by him, however, in Walla Walla.

Mining Broker Here.

H. S. McCallum, of the firm of McCallum & Compson, miners brokers and financial agents of Baker City, is in the city. Mr. McCallum is here in the interest of the Grand Trunk Mining & Milling Company, of Sumpter, Or. He appointed R. S. Bryson, of the firm of Wade & Bryson, as his agent at this point.

Their mining property at Sumpter is said to be on the same lode as the North Pole, and Golconda mines are located, and the prospects for the future of the property is very flattering.

teachers and pupils have been untiring in their efforts, and with the co-operation of the parents and citizens generally next week may mark a long step in advance in our educational work.

There is one point to which the general committee would like to call attention, as there has been some misunderstanding on the subject. The tickets to the exhibit admitting the buyer at any time afternoons or evenings, have been placed at the very low price of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, and no complimentary tickets will be given out.

Above all things, the American child should be taught and trained to feel that whatever is worth having in this world is worth working for and paying for. It is hoped that every child will feel an honest pride, when he looks at the pictures that will adorn his school room as a result of this art exhibit in the fact that he worked diligently and also paid his money for those pictures. That they will hang there long after he has left the school for the benefit of other pupils yet to come. To uproot the ambition in the hearts of children to get something for nothing, to put in its place the worthier spirit of self-help and helpfulness to others, will be to implant the germ of future civic usefulness. This is an object toward which the club and the school are working, the development of sturdy character.

Short programs filled by the children will be given at the exhibit. The program will be published next week.

Thursday Afternoon Club.

The Thursday Afternoon Club held its regular meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Alice Sheridan. Art was the theme for the afternoon's work, particular attention being given to Jean Francois Millet. Roll call was responded to by anecdotes of artists.

Mrs. John Halley read an interesting sketch of the life of Millet, and copies of his most famous pictures, "The Angelus," "The Man With the Hoe," "The Gleaners," etc., were exhibited and discussed.

Mrs. Helen Marston, who was in fine voice, rendered two vocal numbers, "Ave Marie," and "Love in a Bubble." Mrs. H. C. Gurensen read Edwin Markham's "Man With the Hoe," truly interpreting the poetic and dramatic meaning of this master piece. Members were given souvenirs in the form of an artistic palette.

Grain Growing Nicely.

J. B. Grubb, mail carrier on rural free delivery route No. 1, from this city to Holdman, is on his route again after an illness of six weeks, with the grip. Mr. Grubb says the grain in the vicinity of Holdman and along the entire route is beginning to grow nicely and that considerable spring seeding is now in progress.

Religion Under Socialism.

The Socialist Club will hold their regular weekly meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Union Labor hall in Despain block. The chairman for the meeting is Jerry Despain, and the subject for discussion is "Religion Under Socialism." Several new members are to be taken into the club.

"THE OLD MILL STREAM."

Touching Drama of the Catskills Warmly Greeted Here.

Daniel Sully, supported by a strong company, presented "The Old Mill Stream" at the Frazer last night to a large audience, which showed its appreciation of good acting, good scenery and true dramatic art, by frequent applause, given in a manner that indicated that it came from the heart.

Daniel Sully needed no introduction to a Pendleton audience. He was greeted with a hearty burst of cheers when he appeared on the stage, and at the close of the second act responded to an encore by giving a five minutes' talk in which he said that his constant aim had always been and would always be, to elevate the stage by making each succeeding play he offered, better than its predecessor.

Mr. Sully's support was excellent throughout. W. F. Kokman as Gus Shults did some clever acting. Harold La Costa, though not yet a fully matured actor, has ability of a high order. C. O. Wallace as Dr. Winnie, and John T. Powers as Dick Flood, deserve mention.

The three women in the company sustained their parts well. There was not a weak point in the performance. The dramatic climaxes were numerous and touching. The portrayal of country life and character was perfect, the moral tone was high and the play will be long remembered by those who love the homely sentiment that clings to the commonplace paths of life and duty.
