POPE CELEBRATES

Sixty Thousand Pilgrims Occupied the Standing Room in Front of St. Peter's.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS CORONATION.

Crown Inside the Cathedral Was so Dense That Women Fainted—The Pope was Prostrated After the Ceremonies and Had to Be Disrobed and Put to Bed.

Rome, March 3.—The pope celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his coronation today with great solemnity. St. Peter's was crowded, scores of Americans being present. Inside the great edifice, at the singing of the Te Deum, the scene was one of marvelous brilliancy. The papal noble guards were resplendent in their new uniforms, consisting of purple doublets, white leather breeches, high patent leather boots, and polished steel helmets with white horse-hair tufts. A score of members of the Sacred College were present, their red robes offering a most pleasing contrast to the black habits of the crowd of priests. It is estimated that over 50,000 spectators assembled in the basilica.

The ceremonies were conducted during a torrential downpour of rain. Sixty-five thousand pilgrims occupied the standing room before St. Peter's. It was the most notable crowd seen in Rome for years, and the largest number of cardinals seen at one time in half a century.

After the ceremony there was an impromptu demonstration. The pope had gone to a window overlooking the piazza to see the people come out of the church. His Holiness was recognized and in a twinkling the great space was crowded with people fluttering handkerchiefs, waving their hats and cherishing the venerable pontiff.

The pope, surrounded by the cardinals and dignitaries of the pontifical court, was carried to and from the basilica in the Sedia Gestatoria. By request of the pope himself, the people were allowed to throng the various halls and witness the impressive procession to and from the basilica. Late in the day an official bulletin was issued by Dr. Lapponi stating that the aged pontiff had withstood the fatigues of the day remarkably well.

He looked better than he has for a fortnight past, though his face was pale and drawn, and his voice was hoarse. Before leaving his apartments this morning he said: "After this I die happy."

After returning to his apartments the pope was alarmingly prostrated, but did not faint. Lapponi, fearing that his patient would lose consciousness, insisted that he should go to bed at once. He was so weak that he was unable to assist in disrobing.

The crowd inside of the cathedral was so dense that a woman in the gallery fainted. In falling she knocked against several others, with such force as to precipitate them on the heads of those beneath them. None were seriously hurt.

New York Observes the Jubilee.

New York, March 3.—Were St. Patrick's cathedral as large as St. Peter's at Rome it would scarcely have been able to accommodate the thousands of devoted Catholics who sought admission today on the occasion of the celebration of the pope's jubilee. The celebration formed one of the most elaborate ecclesiastical ceremonies ever seen in New York. The participants included all of the bishops of the ecclesiastical province of New York, clad in their gorgeous robes of office, together with all the clergy of the diocese. Archbishop Falconio, the apostolic delegate at Washington, celebrated pontifical mass and Archbishop Farley preached the sermon. The feature of the elaborate musical program was Gouod's "Messe Solenne" for solo, chorus, orchestra and organ.

STOCK LOSSES LIGHT.

Five Per Cent Will Cover All Herds in the Interior.

Stockmen throughout Eastern Oregon are feeling good over the spring weather of the past week, and everywhere we hear it joyously announced that "winter is over." In spite of the length of the winter, it has not been a very severe one, and with rare exceptions the stockmen were well supplied with hay. A prominent sheepman of this place estimates the loss of sheep in this entire section, from all causes, at less than five per cent. The biggest loss we have heard of is 300 head out of a total of 6000 belonging to one man, and this is just five per cent.—Antelope Herald.

BODY OF MRS. KNAPP

Chief of Police of Hamilton Further Identifies the Body—Will Take it to Hamilton, Where Knapp's Trial Will Be Held.

New Albany, Ind., March 3.—Edward King, of Cincinnati, arrived here this morning and viewed the body found in the river yesterday. He positively identified it as that of Hannah Knapp. King's wife is a sister of Knapp.

The chief of police of Hamilton arrived at 9 o'clock this morning and further identified the body as that of the murdered Mrs. Knapp. King tried to secure possession of the body for burial, but the authorities ordered it to be taken to Hamilton, where Knapp's trial will be held. The woman was petite, being only five feet high; weight 110 pounds.

Hamilton, O., March 3.—Knapp has not been informed that the body was positively identified as his murdered wife. The sheriff will keep the news from him as he does not want to interrupt the bragadoero. Confessions are constantly being made and added to by the murderer. The sheriff is afraid he will become mute when he learns that the case is positive against him.

When Knapp was told this afternoon of the finding of his wife's body, he laughed. He may be asked tonight to make the identification himself. He said he didn't want to see the body, but if they would bring him the ring from her finger he would tell whether the identification was correct. He begins to talk crazy.

New Albany, Ind., March 3.—Chas. Goddard, an uncle of Hannah Goddard Knapp, arrived this afternoon and identified the body as that of his niece.

Yet Another Crime. Hamilton, Ohio, March 3.—Knapp this afternoon confessed to another crime. He says he is the man who in 1886 assaulted a young girl at New Madrid Bend, Mo. He was chased by a mob which he held at bay with a Winchester and escaped across the Mississippi in the darkness. He told the story without any apparent emotion and laughed when he explained how he got across the river.

SNOW STORM IS GENERAL.

Growing Crops Needed Moisture—Several Bands of Sheared Sheep in Umatilla County—One Foot of New Snow at Kamela.

The snow which began falling in this city at 3 o'clock this morning, is part of a general storm and reaches from the town of Umatilla to Huntington, according to advices.

There has been one or two bands of sheep sheared in this county, but the warm sun which has been melting the snow away during the afternoon will prevent any serious consequences to these bands. The snow has covered the grass temporarily, and some of the stock on the foothills has been turned out for several days. Feed is yet plentiful in Umatilla county, however, and the short spell of feeding weather, will not cause any serious loss or inconvenience.

In the farming district the snow was badly needed. The ground was very dry in many localities and the need of a warm spring rain was being felt by the growing wheat. Seeding that was in progress has been temporarily suspended. Plowing in the outlying districts was full under way and will be stopped for a couple of days.

The ranges needed just such a warm wetting as they will get from this little storm, and barring the possibility of a slight loss of sheared sheep, which might be caught away from the steds, there will be no bad results from the slight change. At Kamela a foot of new snow fell today with a hard storm blowing at 3 o'clock. Advices from the interior of Umatilla county indicate that about the same amount of snow has fallen throughout the county, that fell here.
