BLAKLEY BRAND LAW

PROVIDES FOR RECORDING BRANDS OF CATTLE.

Persons Not Regularly Engaged as Butchers Must Keep the Hide With Ears Attached for 30 Days.

House bill No. 44, introduced by Representative W. M. Blakley, providing for the protection of stock-growers and buyers is as follows:

Section 1. Any person engaged in the business of slaughtering cattle must keep at their place of business a book in which they must enter daily the number and class of cattle slaughtered, the names of the person or persons from whom said cattle were purchased, and the marks and brands of such cattle. Said book must be kept ready at all times for the inspection of any person who may desire to examine the same.

Section 2. Any person not regularly engaged in the business of slaughtering cattle, who at any time slaughters any cattle, must retain in his possession the hide taken off said cattle with the ears attached thereto without any alteration of the marks on the same, or any disfiguration of the brand for the period of 30 days, and any owner of cattle may within the period of time herein mentioned demand an exhibition of the hide or hides of any cattle so killed or slaughtered by the person so killing the same, or by any other person for whose use or benefit such animal or animals were killed, and upon such demand being made he must produce said hide or hides for inspection.

Section 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine not less than $50, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

OREGON'S GEOLOGICAL STORY.

Mrs. Nellie Condon-McCormick's Lecture at Salem.
Salem, Ore., March 3.—Mrs. Nellie

Condon-McCormick, of Eugene, addressed the Salem Woman's Club yesterday afternoon on the geological story of Oregon. In a very clear and entertaining manner she gave a graphic description of the changes that took place on this portion of the surface of the earth during the ages following the first appearance of an island which is now known as the Blue mountains. Her description of the formation of the Willamette valley gave the members of the club an altogether new but more correct idea of the manner in which this beautiful country had its origin. Mrs. McCormick exhibited a number of rare fossils that were collected by Professor Condon in Eastern Oregon. The members of the club were very appreciative and were warm in their expression of gratitude to Mrs. McCormick for valuable instruction.

STILL HOLDING THEIR HOPS.

Growers Still Looking Hopefully for 30 Cents a Pound.

Salem, Ore., March 3.—Hopgrowers of this vicinity who still have their hops of the crop of 1902 are still firmly holding in expectation of further advances before the end of the season. The dullness of the last few weeks does not discourage them, but they insist that in time the brewers must have the hops and will pay from 27 1/2 to 30 cents. The inactivity is generally accounted for by saying that brewers who have contracts with dealers have extended the time for delivery until the last of March or April so that the dealers who have sold short are under no necessity for buying at once. Those who have hops to sell believe that when the brewers eventually demand delivery and must have the hops, the price will advance sufficient to induce the present holders to let go.

T. A. Liveslay, a well known grower and dealer in this city, has just returned from a three months' visit in the East, where he was engaged in disposing of his hops. He confirms the reports that have been published from time to time that the brewers are holding off in the expectation that the present holders will yield to the offers of lower prices. He says that the brewers will eventually buy the hops at the prices the growers are waiting for, if they cannot get them at a less figure.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Acts Gently;
Acts Pleasantly;
Acts Beneficially;
Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.
