PHEASANT FARMING

PROF. A. P. ARMSTRONG TO GROW THIS GAME BIRD.

Homer Davenport Owns the Largest Pheasant Farm in the World at Orange, N. J.—Oregon's Farm to be Stocked From China and Japan.

Prof. A. P. Armstrong, of this city, is to manage the largest pheasantry in the state of Oregon, says the Oregon Daily Journal. This enterprise, which will include the propagation of all the hardier varieties of these strange, and once wild birds, is to be carried out on the mammoth poultry farm of Prof. Armstrong, now in operation near Medford, Ore. Angora cats, Japanese Spaniels and ferrets are also to be raised. The farm contains 200 acres of the best land in that section of the country and, although a portion of it is given over to orchard products, all may be placed at the disposition of the pheasants and other feathered fowl should occasion arise.

Homer Davenport, the celebrated cartoonist, owns the largest pheasantry in the world, located near East Orange, N. J. It is from Mr. Davenport's farm that Prof. Armstrong is to obtain by far the larger portion of his birds although some have been ordered direct from Asia through a Portland firm.

Only for Breeding Purposes.

Eggs and birds will be placed on sale and it is the intention of Mr. Armstrong to make his farm the general Western depot for these fowls. Bantam hens will be exclusively employed to hatch the pheasants and care for them until they reach an age where they can be depended upon to obtain their own food, or in barnyard parlance, "scratch for themselves." This condition is reached by pheasants at a much earlier age than with domestic poultry, because of their natural wild tendencies.

"The farm at Medford is in charge of my brother, and he will have personal supervision over it. I do not intend to leave my business here."

Pheasants From Asia.

Asked what varieties of pheasants had been ordered from Asia, Mr. Armstrong said: "Golden pheasants and Silver Tips have been ordered from Japan and are expected to arrive shortly. It will be some little time before the birds, which are to be supplied by Mr. Davenport are sent West. I cannot name each variety. There are many, all hardy and capable of propagation in the Oregon climate.

"In addition to the poultry there will be a section of my farm devoted to Angora cats, Japanese spaniels and ferrets. I do not know in just what numbers these will be handled, but I will endeavor to supply the Western market at least and all orders coming from no matter what source will be honored. This is a portion of the business I do not care to discuss at length."

SOMETHING OF ECHO.

Brief Review of Enterprises in New Irrigation District.

Echo is the shipping point for all the cattle of the rich Butter Creek country. Since January 1, 140 carloads of cattle have been shipped. These were mostly 2-year-olds, with some 3 and 4-year-olds. Their average weight was 1,200 pounds or more. There are more than 1,000 cattle still to be shipped from Echo this season. Most of them are Shorthorn or Hereford grades.

Echo has an independent telephone system which connects with Butter Creek and Pendleton.

Echo has a rich and fertile country now yielding sage brush and jack rabbits, but which will yield in a few years scores of trainloads of supplies and livestock.

It has a good hotel, where a man can get good fare and good service at reasonable rates. J. A. Green, the proprietor, is just from Colfax, Wash., and is a man who will build up the section, as he is a good hustler.

The Echo Land and Lumber Company is located here. This firm's business is constantly enlarging and they expect to have a constantly increasing trade from the homeseekers who are dropping in by ones and twos and half dozens to look over the land. Robinson & Ripper are the proprietors.

It has the following firms: Charles Miller, general merchandise.

W. H. Boyd, general merchandise. Robinson & Ripper, hardware and lumber.

Willbur McFerron, harness. H. C. Willis, meat market and rabbit cannery.

Dick Jones, feed and livery barn. Van Cleve, blacksmith shop.

Perry Whitworth, blacksmith shop. J. Doran, who is the postmaster and has a stock of drugs and stationery.

S. A. Thomson, barber shop. It has the Henrietta mills, with a 150-barrel capacity a day.

The lodges are represented by the K. O. T. M., Odd Fellows and Masons. It has a good school and a well-attended Methodist church with an energetic Ladies' Aid Society.

WINE OF CARDUI

is a thoroughly scientific and modern remedy, meeting the needs of the modern woman in the modern way—without the torture of an operation. Wine of Cardui has cured them in the privacy of their homes and it has found a place in the hearts of American women that no other medicine has found. In their gratitude over 10,000 American women have written letters commending Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui meets their wants as no other medicine does. It sustains the young girl at the shock of her entrance to womanhood. Women who take Wine of Cardui have little discomfort during pregnancy and little pain at childbirth. When the change of life appears they enter a happy, healthy old age. Every month it comes to the rescue to assist Nature in throwing the impurities from the body.

Miss Sarah Finley

Miss Sarah Finley, of Memphis, Tenn., vice-president of the Palmetto Club of that city, speaks for herself and many friends when she bestows the following praise on Wine of Cardui:

"Among the numerous medicines placed before suffering women for their relief, none can touch Wine of Cardui. It is above them all as a female remedy. It drives pain and disease and restores health in an incredibly short period. I have taken great interest in medicine for the past two years, and have brought health and strength to me. I have also recommended it to a number of my friends and they have spoken of it in the highest terms and that it is praise well bestowed."

If you are suffering from the weakness Wine of Cardui is the medicine you need. You can have health the same as Miss Finley if you will take Wine of Cardui treatment. If you wish to go further than the complete instructions given on the bottle, address Ladies Advisory Department, Wine of Cardui Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
