DRUGGISTS

MONDAY, MARCH 23, 1903.

Once Edward Everett Hale was speaker of the day at the battlefield of Gettysburg. It took him two hours to deliver the speech he had memorized. A man named Lincoln followed him and spoke just three minutes. Everett's speech was forgotten the day it was delivered, but Lincoln's is deathless. It is heart, not art that wins the world over.—Elbert Hubbard.

Several business blocks would now be in course of construction in this city if brick could be procured.

The Oregon stock farm will never be perfected until Eastern hogs and bacon cease to be shipped into the state.

The Sumpter mining men have abandoned the idea of fighting the portage road. That was an awful bluff!

The appointment of J. W. Knowles as register of the La Grande land office, has not yet been confirmed and possibly may not be.

John Mitchell accepts the award of the anthracite commission in the same broad, honest spirit which has marked his course throughout the strike.

The application of the attorneys of Pies Armstrong, the Baker county murderer for a change of venue to this county has been denied and he must face a jury of his neighbors.

Governor McBride has turned back the hand of Progress in Washington for a quarter of a century. His plea for economy in vetoing the Lewis and Clark fair appropriation bill, sounds distressingly hollow when his state will be an equal sharer with Oregon in the benefits of the fair.

I. L. Page, a Missouri newspaper man, is in jail for contempt. He refused to tell how he acquired a $1000 bill, found in his possession by a legislative investigating committee. The case is such a rare one that Mr. Page should make known the secret. The fraternity would rise up and call him blessed.

Umatilla county enjoys six weeks more summer weather each year than her sisters east of the Blue Mountains; while the frost is just starting to melt out of the ground in Grande Ronde, the peach buds in the orchards here are almost at the bursting point. Three weeks earlier spring and three weeks later fall, adds one third to the length of the season.

The friends of S. O. Swackhamer, receiver of the La Grande land office, deeply resent the charge of incompetency made against him. Mr. Swackhamer served his county as sheriff and has amassed a fair-sized fortune by honest effort and good management and this political thrust seems to be extremely unjust. The spoils system carries a broad license with it.

In the city of Los Angeles, noted for its superb homes, gorgeous flower carnivals and beautiful boulevards, one marriage in every four results in a divorce. Faithfulness, infidelity and desertion are the principal causes. California has the greatest ratio of suicide of any state in the Union. It seems that the physical beauty of the state is only "skin deep." There is a moral unhealthfulness underneath it.

The season for commencing the work in the yards and gardens is here. During the winter months rubbish and in some places, filth, have been allowed to accumulate and with the coming of warm weather these gatherings of material become disease breeders. Beautiful, well-kept lawns add greatly to the attractiveness of our city and all citizens should take pride in making Pendleton as pleasing to the eye as possible.

THE SLEEPER STIRS.

Periodically a little flurry of mental activity disturbs the lethargic state of Portland. The following from the Evening Telegram marks one of her transitory periods of consciousness.

"Portland will never be the city that it ought to be, and would therefore speedily become, until it has more extended and expanded railroad service. It must have a railroad into and through Central Oregon, another through the Nehalem region to Tillamook, direct river-route rail communication with the portions of Eastern Washington now tributary to the Northern Pacific, and with Northern Idaho via the Snake river canyon.

"Portland people can do much to compel the building of these lines if they pull together for that purpose and insist with sufficient pertinacity that they must be built. With these, and an ample channel to the sea, there will never again be any question of which is or is to be the principal city of the Pacific Northwest. Portland will stand unrivalled."

DO IT NOW.

These few words compose a rule that is one of the greatest aids in achieving success. Don't put off doing anything that can be attended to at once. He who chases his work always has time to properly attend to all the affairs and generally some to spare. He rests easy at the close of each day, for he is not crowded with duties that ought to have been attended to. But how different is it with the person who allows his work to accumulate, putting off from time to time duties that "do it now" would dispose of and remove from bothering him in future.

How easy it is to attend a matter as soon as it presents itself, but how difficult if allowed to pass to some future time, because of the unfamiliarity with the details which were once fresh in the mind. "Do it now," if followed, means being thoroughly systematic in your affairs.

The Cuban congress will convene in special session tomorrow for the purpose of ratifying the reciprocity treaty with this government. The passage of this treaty marks one of the triumphs which Roosevelt determined to win when he became president.

There is some complaint on the part of physicians against the new health law which provides that the state board of health must send out circulars, giving the proper course of treatment in a certain class of disease.

Winter Eczema

OR TETTER Is one of the many varieties of that tormenting disease called Eczema. It slumbers through the summer and breaks out in winter. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning is at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles, leaving the skin raw and inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves nor anything else applied to the surface can possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain.

It is the acids thrown off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness.

SSS S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood of all irritating substances and humors and does it promptly and effectually. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the unsightly eruptions and sores heal, the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear. eases known as "reportable" cases. The contention is made that the law interferes with the practice of individual physicians in giving free advice to patients whom the physician may be treating at the time. One step further, in the establishment of a state pharmacy to furnish free medicine, will put the doctors out of business.

The O. R. & N. shows a commendable spirit in increasing the pay of its trainmen. It is largely through the efficiency of employes that increased profits come to such industries and every advance in income should be accompanied by increased wages.

WEDDING IN KANSAS.

The ceremony was performed in Charley's business office, and was done up in short order, so that business was interrupted only for a few moments. Charley came from behind the counter with his apron on, and was ready for the ceremony, but at the judge's request removed his apron and donned his coat. The judge tied the knot good and solid, the groom kissed the bride, removed his coat, put on his apron and resumed business. The witnesses were Herman Brenneke, Joseph Sedlacek and Geo. T. Smith.

Somebody may want to know what kind of a business house this is where this marriage took place, but as this is Kansas we will have to say that all we know about it is that it is not a dry goods house. The Bremen boys celebrated the occasion with firecrackers, guns, tin pans and all kinds of musical instruments, and Charley took them in and did the right thing by them.—Marysville News.

The postoffice safe at Genesee, Idaho, was blown open Friday night and $225 in money taken.

Our competitors only by underbuying or by operating with less expense. We claim in all candor and earnestness that we underbuy and operate with less expense; therefore can and do undersell one and all of our competitors. To buy right the buyer must be on the ground.
