California Olive Oil

We have just received a fresh supply of California Olive Oil. We get this from the growers in Southern California. This Oil is absolutely pure. You can prove this to your own satisfaction if you will notice the very perceptible olive flavor. It tastes just as the olives do. It is impossible to counterfeit this flavor and it is not found in any oil which has been adulterated to any considerable extent, because cottonseed oil and other adulterants are practically tasteless.

75c PINT OR $1.25 FULL QUART BOTTLES

Use Olive Oil for every kind of frying or wherever you use butter. Most people, no doubt, consider Olive Oil too expensive for ordinary use, but it is not, as a quart of oil is equal to about two pounds of butter. Shall be pleased to show you our oil.

OUTFITTERS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

"THE WONDER OF THINGS."

A Plant While Growing is All Activity, Throbbing With Light Waves.

Plants express themselves in leaves and in their whole form and qualities; it is their way of voicing the thrills that vibrate them. Wavy lines, curved or straight; surfaces wrinkled or flat; texture coarse or fine, qualities of flavor or odor, are their modes of expression and are the result of their impressions.

A beet plant while growing is all activity, throbbing with light waves, cells dividing and sub-dividing, measuring out the exact amount of protoplasm to cell division. It is a hive of industry; the article we desire to manufacture is sugar. These activities can only proceed while the plant is well. In vain the light waves may bombard the lenses that compose the leaf, in vain fine strains of seed or rich, well-tilled ground, if insects, fungus or other things interfere. The workshop is inactive and orders for sugar remain unfilled. Thus we can see how any injury lowers sugar content.

The question how the beets prepare starch and convert it into sugar is at present, to us, a sealed book. We can only guess that in some way, the isochromatic color and peculiar refractive foliage, possess a charm—are in synchronic accord with the influence of other worlds and thus in some other way the miracle is wrought. Out of the earth using the manure and soil elements, this plant, endowed with pulsing life, catches the wavelets that come from the sun to it, and the world's want finds its answer in sugar of the beet.—From A. B. Leckonby's bulletin, "Sugar Beet Speculation."
