He is simply the average boy, just such a boy as yours or mine, unless they have had special training along this line. The lark sits on the fence post pouring out its soul in its rapturous love song. There is a slight report and all humanitarian grounds, it is not its clear, liquid, flute-like melody is stilled. It was a good shot and the bird flutters down with a broken wing to die a lingering death.

What about the boy? He simply needs training. His energy is misdirected. Teach him to study the nature and the habits of the bird. It is a fascinating study. He will enjoy it. Organize a "Bird Study Club." Get him interested in it. He will soon become their champion instead of their destroyer. Instead of a Saul he will become a Paul. On another page we publish the law recently passed. Cut it out and save it. While the birds are important, your boy is more important. Talk it over with him and get him interested in their protection.

SEATTLE AFOOT.

We are so used to modern convenlences that we take them as a matter of course. Not till we are deprived of them do we begin to appreciate them. The citizens of Seattle are beginning to realize the great convenience of the street cars now that they have to walk. The suburban service and the night service has been abandoned. The sympathies of the public seem to be with the striking employes in spite of the inconvenience to which they are put by the almost total suspension of service.

A FORWARD STEP.

The organization of the Business Men's League or Retailers' Association of Pendieton, is a forward step in the line of progress. As an association they can consider and act up on many things for their own and the city's good. For example, Sunday closing, closing all stores at 6 o'clock, except on Saturday night, the entertainment of distinguished guests, the management of celebrations and body is perfect."

OREGON'S INTEREST IN THE ORIENT.

John Barrett has aroused much interest in the Orient. He has secured the promise of exhibits from Japan. Korea, China, Ceylon and India. The possibilities of trade with the Orient are almost boundless. A vast and teeming population is to be fed. They can make use of all the foodstuffs we can send them. They can be taught to use and thus create a demand for During the past year there has been a steadily increasing demand for it or a 22-rifle-he is not a bad boy. He in China and Japan. ### IT LOOKS GOOD TO THE STOCK.

Last night's rain means much to the stock that have been on short rations for some time past. The hills seem to have put on their robe of green over night. A great deal of interest is being manifested in the anti-trust legislation which was placed on the statute books by the last congress. The impression prevailed at the time that the legislation was innocuous; that the trusts had nothing to fear. It now appears that some of the new laws were loaded for bear. The bureau of commerce is worrying the trusts. The prompt appointment of additional law officers seems to indicate a tendency on the part of the department of justice to strenuously follow Some of the valley counties are get- the anti-trust legislation. ### THE MAN WHO RESIGNED.

A merchant pointed out to a new stenographer the other day several serious and wholly inexcusable mis-takes which he had made. The ste-nographer colored at the first word of the lecture and waited impatiently—and without listening—until it was ided. Then he resigned.
"Why do you resign?" asked the merchant.

"Because I won't let any man take advantage of his power as an em-ployer to speak harshly to me." "What did I say?" asked the mer-

"I don't know just what it was. only know you were jumping on me about my work."

"Why did you leave the position you had before you came to us?" asked the merchant.

"I don't think harshness is the way to help a man to get along."

"And you regard any form of re-proof as harshness?"

The stenographer was silent You can't see that praise is not of the slightest value to you, that criti-cism is invaluable."

The stenographer was silent. "You can't see that by speaking to you of your mistakes I was showing myself to be your friend; that if I had passed over your mistakes should have been doing you an in

The stenographer was slient, "Don't you think you'd better give me another trial?" asked the mer-

'Yes," said the stenographer. But he resigned again within a week and was let go.

At first blush every employe who reads this story will scoff at this stenographer as a fool, as a horrible and unusual example of inordinate vanity. But—isn't the story worth think-ing about? Is this stenographer so unsual, after all? Is such vanity rare or is it only his courage of it that it

It may have been by ambition that the angels fell. It is by self-excuse that the men fall.

A very great man once said that no man had ever yet lifted his head so much as an inch above the mass of his fellows who had not the power of self-criticism-the ability to see his own faults either on his own initiative or when some friend or foe pointed them out. The smaller kinds of superior men close their ears against their enemies, but learn when their friends are venturesome enough to criticise them. The larger kinds of superior men learn much from the frankness of friends, more from the fierce and scorching criticism of their unintentionally friendly foes. And on the day that a man ceases to be capa-ble of self-criticism, ceases to be tolerant and eager for criticism from without on that day his undoing be-

Again and again you hear it said of a man. "He has reached his limit." What does that mean? In every case close study of the man and his career will show that he has reached that stage at which self-exaltation has suc ceeded in silencing self-criticism

"Your Golden Medical Discovery" and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have been of great benefit to me," writes (Prof.) Pleasant A. Oliver. of Viola, Fulton Co., Ark. "Before I used the above mentioned remedies my sleep was not sound; digestion bad: a continued feeling of misery. I now feel like a new man. Any one in need of medical treatment for massi catarrh could do no better than to take treatment of Dr. R. V. Pierce. I know his medicines are all right in this class of diseases."

Sometimes a dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It is better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.
