In all things preserve integrity; and the consciousness of their own uprightness will alleviate the toil of business, soften the hardness of ill-success and disappointments, and give them a humble confidence before God, when the ingratitude of man, or the iniquity of the times may rob thee of other reward.—Paley.

No matter whether Admiral Schley won the battle of Santiago or not, he has completely "taken" Oregon.

Ex-Senator W. A. Harris, of Kansas, is slated as one of the democratic members of the Panama canal commission.

The rival cities of Union county are talking back and forth over the county seat question, when they should be planting sugar beets.

The sale of the Dillon alfalfa farm, near Echo, for $50 per acre, will not have a tendency to check the land hunger exhibited in that district.

Oregon is to prosper at the loss of the states bordering the Mississippi River. Many a thrifty farmer from that immediate region will locate in this state.

The literary art of Central Oregon newspapers is distressingly monotonous. The subject never changes nor grows old. The land notice seems to retain its perennial freshness.

The nation will be glad when the nauseating Burdick affair is over with. Such escapades should be quarantined, as a case of moral plague, and its loathsomeness hidden from public view.

Umatilla county's share of the five per cent of proceeds from sales of public lands in Oregon for this year is $720.51. The amount received by the state, from the United States treasurer, is $23,000.

There will be no referendum vote on the fair appropriation bill. The inclination shown by some of the valley counties to "get even" on Portland has been swept away by a few weeks of sober reflection.

The Chilean government is looking for timber in Oregon. Wherever battieships, merchantmen, railroad tracks, or stately business structures are built, Oregon fir is in demand. It has introduced the state to every civilized country on earth.

Over in Washington the railroads have decided to stop fighting the people through the legislature. It is a costly task to try to force the Westerner to rub his nose on the grindstone. It is a game at which more than railroads can play, as the members of the merger are slowly finding out.

At the time of the appointment of Anna M. Lang to be receiver at The Dalles land office, there were but two such offices in the United States occupied by women, Martha M. Brown, of Gunnison, Colo., and Mrs. Minnie Williams, of Lander, Wyo. Mrs. Williams has since been succeeded by a man, leaving Miss Brown and Miss Lang alone on the list of women receivers.

The determination of the Oregon state board of health, to study closely the bubonic plague, as found in San Francisco, is highly commendable. Oregon is exposed to this curse, and intelligent, scientific measures should be taken to condemn Portland's Chinese district and remove that eyre from the city. It is a standing invitation to the plague.

Seattle is studying the street paving question in a businesslike manner. Her city engineer has just returned from a tour of investigation in Eastern cities, noted for their fine pavements. His report will enable Seattle to select the best and the exand how to bring them into their own lives.

"Let us make Arbor Day a red letter day in our school year, but let us not fix upon this as the limit of our responsibility, for we should not confine our efforts simply to endeavoring to awaken an enthusiasm for the best things of life during one day in the year, but rather let it increase from day to day until the results will be manifest in the life and character of those who may come under our supervision. In what better way can we do this than by getting our children interested in the growth of a shrub or flower, or, perchance, simply in cleaning up the yard a bit, and by endeavoring to keep it in a neat and tidy condition.

"Let us hope that the future Arbor Day will prove more and more an incentive to the study of nature and all that pertains to right living."

VAST IRRIGATION SCHEMES.

"People in this section have no idea of the magnitude of the irrigation work the United States government has entered on," said George H. Maxwell last evening at the Arlington. Mr. Maxwell is executive chairman of the National Irrigation Association, and an expert in matters relating to that subject.

"In Arizona," he continued, "the government has a big force of surveyors at work in the Grand Canon of the Colorado, preparatory to the construction of reservoirs and digging of main canals. The Colorado river will be the Nile of America. From that stream will be taken water enough to irrigate a region that will support a bigger population than California now has. Luckily, too, the Colorado is fullest of water in the summer time, when the crops need moisture.

"It will be a work of years to carry the undertaking to completion, but it will be the greatest benefit ever conferred on the Western people. Once they get the water on those lands, which are of great fertility, abundant crops can be harvested for centuries and failure of harvests is impossible. The section I speak of will produce the finest tropical fruits and choicest vegetables, and can put them on the market fully a month earlier than they are now gathered in any part of the United States."—Washington Post.

ROUND MAN IN A SQUARE HOLE.

Under the present competition for opportunities to labor—which would not exist but for the monopoly of natural resources—boys enter into lines of work, as The Star has said before, for which they have no natural taste or adaptation, which accounts for the large percentage of bunglers in all occupations.

Thus a born machinist is made a dry goods clerk, a natural merchant is drilled into a sorry blacksmith, and the lad with all the materials in his composition for a first-class cowboy and cattle raiser is made to sell ribbons and laces; the natural builder, architect or civil engineer is trained to be a watchmaker, a weaver or a tailor; the home-loving, quiet boy, who should have been a farmer, is sent to sea, while his restless and adventurous scoolmate, who should have gone to sea, is tied down to a farm. And similarly in every occupation, "the round man is in the square hole."—San Francisco Star.

A delegation of Indians from Missoula, Mont., have departed for Washington, where they will lay before the president a complaint against the taxation of their cattle at $1 a head, where the number exceeds 100 head, as announced by Indian Agent Smead in a recent order.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a farmer's wife sits on the porch in the growing shadows of a summer evening, knowing to the full what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But she knows how sound her slumber will be and how refreshed the morning will find her. That's the tiredness of a healthy woman. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. Just as in profound silence a discord jars the ear more forcibly, so now that she has stopped moving about, this tired woman feels more acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves.

Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Words cannot tell what I suffered for thirteen years with uterine trouble and dragging-down pains through my hips and back," writes Mrs. John Dickson, of Grenfell, Assiniboia Dist., N. W. Terr. "I can't describe the misery it was to be on my feet long at a time. I could not eat or sleep. Often I wished to die. Then I saw Dr. Pierce's medicine advertised and thought I would try them. Had not taken one bottle till I was feeling well. After I had taken five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was like a new woman. Could eat and sleep and do all my own work."

Miss Alice Bailey, of Atlanta, Ga., tells how she was permanently cured of inflammation of the ovaries, and escaped the surgeon's knife, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The universal indications of the approach of woman's great enemy, inflammation and tenderness and heat low down in the side, with occasional shooting pains. On examination it may be found that the region of pain will show some swelling. This is the first stage of inflammation of the ovaries.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life.

"I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation. I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound, in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. I had gained eighteen pounds and was in excellent health, and am now.

"You surely deserve great success, and you have my very best wishes."—MISS ALICE BAILEY, 50 North Boulevard, Atlanta, Ga.

Another woman saved from a surgical operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read what she says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot thank you enough for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. If it had not been for your medicine, I think I would have died.

"I will tell you how I suffered. I could hardly walk, was unable to sleep or eat. Menstruation was irregular. At last I had to stay in my bed, and flowed so badly that they sent for a doctor, who said I had inflammation of the ovaries, and must go through an operation, as no medicine could help me, but I could not do that.

"I received a little book of yours, and after reading it, I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now a well woman. I shall praise your medicine as long as I live, and also recommend the same to anyone suffering as I was."—MRS. MINNIE OTTOSON, Ohio, Iowa.

All sick women would be wise if they would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be well.

as long as I live, and also recommend the same to anyone suffering as I was."—MRS. MINNIE OTTOSON, Ohio, Iowa.
