John Fleming, of Fort Benton, Montana, Here Looking for Young Mutton Sheep.

John Fleming, of Fort Benton, Montana, is in the city on his regular semi-annual sheep and cattle purchasing trip.

Mr:. Fleming has in the years gone by bought many thousands of cattle and sheep in this and adjoining coun-ties. Many of these animals were bought in this vicinity and others farther east in Indianapolis, Ind., April 8.—The American xzvfifin kqj ffmc vbz xgwk Otological Association and the West-ern Opthanological and Oto-Laryngo

He is now looking for young mut ton sheep—stockers also—which will be shipped to Montana and full fed for next fall's Eastern markets. He is after lambs, and avers that there ere no finer mutton sheep bred any-where in the United States than in Umatilla county. He will purchase 50,000 lambs and the probability is that he will purchase all of them in this county, which means about $125, 000 more put into circulation here. Charles Cunningham regards the county as overstocked with sheep in more than the number of lambs which will come this spring. One reason for this was the lack of shipping fa cilities last fall when buyers stood ready to take a large number of sheep out of the county but could not find cars to ship them in.
