HELD FOR SEDUCTION.

W. W. Gardner Bound Over in the Sum of $500 to Circuit Court.

W. W. Gardner was yesterday evening bound over by Justice Fitz Gerald to answer the charge of seduction preferred against him by Amy Hollett. The complainant, who is but 17 years of age at this time, is an orphan who has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Mae Montgomery, of Cold Springs. Gardner is a married man, but has kept his domestic relations a secret from the people here until after the present denouement. He has been in the vicinity between two and three years, coming here from the East. Last summer while working for Purl Bowman, the wealthy farmer south of town, he became engaged to the Hollett girl, and under promise of marriage seduced her. Their child was born on the 12th of March. The victim swore to the complaint Monday last. Justice Fitz Gerald bound him over under $500 bond to appear for trial.

It appears that Gardner has practically done nothing to support the girl and in addition to being a scoundrel, is either extremely reckless or not of average intelligence, as he admits the crime, but claims he thought the girl was a year older than she really was at the time the first offense was committed. He also claims that he expects to get a divorce from his wife in the East, and that he would marry the girl if he could do so legally. He has undoubtedly attempted to bribe the girl from giving testimony against him.

Attachment Suits.

Two attachment suits were filed yesterday as follows, in the office of the county clerk: J. A. Drinhouse & Co., of San Francisco vs. James Beardsley, the saloon keeper of this place. The papers were filed by Carter & Raley, attorneys for the plaintiff. The action is for $200 with interest since the first of last July. The second case was brought by James A. Fee, representing John W. Crow and himself. The defendants are William Owen and R. R. Owen, and the action is to recover $935 on a promissory note.

Returns to Chicago.

W. M. Peterson, of Athena, was in the city yesterday and today. He accompanied from Athena to this place Miss Anna Kirk and her sister, Mrs. Edward Koontz. Miss Kirk was on her way to Chicago, where she resumes her studies, after a vacation, in the Northwest University. She is a senior in the pharmacy department and will graduate in December next. Mrs. Koontz was on her way to visit friends at Pasco. The ladies are the daughters of Hon. T. J. Kirk, the wealthy farmer.

Mrs. Eliza McFarland, an Oregon pioneer of 1852, died Tuesday at The Dalles.

GETS A DIVORCE.

Gardner Gets Into Two Courts at Once—Now Declares That He Will Marry Girl He Seduced.

Two chapters were written in the life of W. W. Gardner yesterday in this city.

The most highly colored and sensational chapter was that which tells of his preliminary examination on the charge of seduction, an account of which is given elsewhere. The other chapter was the granting by Judge Ellis of Gardner's petition for a divorce, which has been pending in this court since last July. The divorce was on the grounds of abandonment and infidelity by his wife, whose present whereabouts Gardner professes to have no knowledge.

Judge Ellis stated to a reporter for the East Oregonian that Gardner presented a straight case, consistent and with abundant evidence to prove his complaint and that he was entitled to the divorce. But the judges' astonishment at learning that the plaintiff in the divorce case and the defendant in the seduction case were the same individual was considerable, as not the slightest intimation had reached his ears that the parties were the same.

Until after the hearing of the preliminary case against Gardner in Justice Fitz Gerald's court, Judge Ellis had heard nothing about the seduction case. The facility with which Gardner gave bonds is supposed to be due to the activity and influence of the young lady's relatives and friends and goes far to indicate that Gardner intends eventually to do exactly what he says—marry the girl.

Gardner and his wife, from whom he was divorced yesterday, once lived in Salem, at which place she deserted him and went East, or perhaps to parts unknown, with another man. Peter West is the attorney for Gardner.

GO TO WALLA WALLA.

Public Schools Dismissed Tonight, Until Next Monday Morning.

Professor E. B. Conklin and Miss Parrott will leave tonight for Walla Walla to be present at the opening session of the Inland Empire Teachers' Association, tomorrow morning, at 9:30.

All the other teachers will go on the 8:15 train in the morning. A large number of Eastern Oregon teachers from Wallowa, Union and Baker counties are expected to arrive tonight on No. 5, to join the Pendleton party in the morning.

Superintendent J. H. Ackerman, of Oregon, will present the subject of "Consolidation of Districts and Free Rural Transportation," on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 and will respond to the address of welcome by Mayor Gilbert Hunt, at 8:30 Thursday evening.

On Friday evening President E. Benjamin Andrews, of the University of Nebraska, will deliver a lecture on "Problems of Greater America."

An interesting program has been arranged throughout and the attendance promises to be very large.

School will be dismissed in all the rooms tonight and will remain closed until Monday morning.

PROMINENT IDAHO EDUCATOR.

Well Known Club Woman of Boise to Visit Mrs. C. B. Wade.

Mrs. E. J. Dockery, a prominent club woman and educator, of Boise, Idaho, will arrive here tomorrow morning to be the guest of Mrs. C. B. Wade, and to attend the meeting to be addressed tomorrow by Mrs. Weatherred, in the interest of woman's work on the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Mrs. Dockery is the G. F. secretary of the National Federation of Women's Clubs and is deeply interested in the Lewis and Clark fair, and is one of the most active club women of Idaho.

On Friday morning Mrs. Dockery and Mrs. Wade will go to Walla Walla to attend the meeting of the Inland Empire Teachers' Association, which will convene in that city tomorrow morning.

Nothing But Glass.

C. E. Sherwood, the New York dealer in diamonds and precious stones, arrived yesterday and this morning went west on the Portland train. When asked, "What is the unknown quantity which lies in the front window of Dr. Garretson's store?" he replied: "It is sison pure glass." The "stone" was found about six weeks ago on an island in the Columbia River by E. W. McComas, and there has been considerable speculation as to its quality and worth. Mr. Sherwood says he has stones of every imaginable degree of worthlessness submitted to him for inspection in different parts of the country and has many times examined stones from this region, but never found one that had any value. In this instance he declares the find is nothing but a lump of glass, despite its peculiar shape and the impossibility of accounting for its being found where it was.

In Police Court.

"John Doe," but who gave his name as Peter Ryan, was arraigned in Judge Fitz Gerald's court this afternoon charged with drunkenness and using obscene and vulgar language in the presence of ladies. He was given his choice of $25 fine or 12 and a half days in the city jail. He chose the latter. The defendant is a common hobo with a mind probably somewhat deranged.

WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT.

Mrs. Weatherred to Accompany Ella Wheeler Wilcox to Pendleton.

Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weatherred will accompany Ella Wheeler Wilcox as far as Pendleton. They will arrive on No. 2 at 5:40 this evening and will be met at the train by a large number of club women and friends, who had anticipated a longer visit from Mrs. Wilcox.

Owing to her illness in San Francisco Mrs. Wilcox's plans have already been disarranged and it is impossible for her to stop here.

Mrs. Weatherred will address the citizens of Pendleton at the parlors of the Commercial Association tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m., on the importance of organizing Lewis and Clark women's clubs, and on woman's work in the fair in general.

In towns with strong organizations of women's clubs in the Willamette valley, the effort to organize separate clubs have failed, and it is the sentiment in Pendleton that this work can be carried on through the state federation of clubs, instead of branching out with new organizations.

Mrs. Weatherred will be the guest of Mrs. Wade, at Locust Hill, during her stay in Pendleton.

Leon Cohen Returns From Walla Walla.

Leon Cohen returned from Walla Walla on the noon train today, and reports a most enthusiastic and successful meeting last night at the organization of the Inland Empire baseball league, of which he was elected treasurer. A strong league is formed and the season promises some of the most interesting games ever played in this territory.

New President Here.

Professor French, the newly-chosen president of Weston Normal, arrived from Portland early this morning, accompanied by T. A. Worthington, secretary of the board of regents, and left on the 8:15 train for Weston. Mrs. French, who is teaching at Monmouth, will not come to Weston until the close of this school year.

Sorry He Left Oregon.

D. H. Goss, of Welch, Cherokee Nation, arrived this morning. Mr. Welch lived in this neighborhood many years ago, and expresses regret that he ever left here. He went to Spokane this morning on a short business trip, and will return here before long, with the intention of locating.

Epidemic of Smallpox.

J. N. Gulliford, of Pendleton, came in yesterday from Prineville, and reported several cases of smallpox in that city, one of which, that of Howard Dillon, being very severe, and when Mr. Gulliford left Prineville the doctors in attendance had pronounced the case hopeless.—Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

George Ropers, a prominent English dog expert, will judge the contestants in the Portland Kennel Club's show this week.
