JOLLY DOZEN DANCE.

Was a Most Successful Affair—Next Dance Thursday Evening, April 30.

The dance given by the Jolly Dozen last Monday night was the first following Lent, and was a very successful affair.

Caught Many Coyotes. Employees of Peter West dug out nine young coyotes from one den a few nights ago a mile and a half from town.

Rev. Thoroughman Here.

Rev. A. L. Thoroughman, pastor of the M. E. church, South, of Genesee, Idaho, is now in town visiting relatives and friends, and will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. church, South here on next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Will Open May First.

It is now expected that the Hotel Pendleton will be reopened on or about May 1. It is hardly likely that the entire building will be ready for occupancy by that time, but it will be sufficiently repaired and furnished for the reception of an ordinary number of guests.

Dramatic scenes were enacted in Dublin when, by a unanimous vote, the Irish National convention accepted the Irish land bill, as introduced by Mr. Wyndham. It was a scene of intense enthusiasm.

F. & S. Bitters

The great System Tonic. The remedy that is so popular because of its real merit. Now is the time to take F. & S. Bitters and tone up your system.

TALLMAN & CO. THE DRUGGISTS

PERSONAL MENTION.

Senator Pierce has returned from San Francisco.

Brick burning at the Weston yards began this week.

George Sullivan, of Walla Walla, was in town yesterday.

F. E. Livingood returned from Walla Walla with his family yesterday.

A daughter was born yesterday to U. W. Beeman, of 909 West Railroad street.

Mike Gratz, Jr., returned home yesterday from an extended trip through California.

Miss Hallie Strickland is expected to arrive tomorrow from Seattle to visit with Mrs. C. B. Wade.

Dr. Vaughan, the veterinary, is again very sick. He is suffering severely with gall stone colic.

Charles Wilson, who lives four miles above Pilot Rock, is afflicted with a light form of smallpox.

A. F. Taylor, the Weston merchant, attended the regular meeting of the A. F. and A. M. this week in this place.

Benjamin Wells will move out to his ranch in the mountains in a few days. His family will follow some time in June.

O. A. Colby, of Montana, who has been visiting with his cousins, the Conklin brothers, left for Spokane this morning.

Ernest J. Ellstrom, a native of Sweden, has filed notice of his intention of securing final naturalization papers in this court.

J. N. Gullford, who was taken very ill at Prineville with the grip, came home and has since been quite sick. He is now recovering.

J. W. Duncan, J. W. Maloney, J. H. Gwinn and C. E. Roosevelt have returned from Walla Walla. They remained in that place for a day after the K. of P. convention.

W. R. Logus, the new Western Union manager for this place, arrived last evening from Oregon City and will be in full charge of the affairs of the company here Monday next. Mr. Logus is a young man and unmarried.

Mrs. Jessie Vert, of Pendleton, deputy grand worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, visited the chapter at this place last Thursday evening when the ritualistic work of the order was exemplified. Later in the evening a banquet was given at the Ideal in compliment to Mrs. Vert.—Ontario Democrat.

BUSINESS MEN FAVOR BONDS.

(Concluded.)

E. M. Lyon—I have no expression to make today on the subject.

Best Thing for City.

Tallman & Ayres—We have every reason to believe that the proposed bond issue is the best thing for the city. The business men all ought to favor it, because it will bring more profits into their business than the increase in the taxes can cut out of it.

L. Hunziker—We need better school facilities, and they are a necessity moreover, and can only be had by the expenditure of money.

C. B. Wade—I do not care to be quoted.

For Those Who Follow.

Hawley Bros.—We need better school facilities. To pay for them is one of the burdens taxpayers and public spirited people have to bear and they should not think of evading them.

Ed Beathorn—The best interests of appeal to every thinking man. We call for your washing when ever you say the word; we launder it immediately; we return it to your house at the hour promised.

Our Laundry Methods

DOMESTIC LAUNDRY

Court and Thompson Streets.

the schools demand that the proposition carry.

J. Crawford—My children are out of school, but it is the duty of those who have no children to help those who have. I shall not vote against the bonds.

Joe Hoch—By all means let us carry the bonds. If we don't pass them we will lose some citizens and will get many others, I am afraid. Five ranchers living in the northern part of this county have told me that it lies between this town and Walla Walla to give their children better school advantages than the district schools afford, and I know Pendleton will not get them if this bond proposition is defeated.

L. G. Frazier—I would rather not be quoted.

R. E. Tarbet—I favor the bonds. I wish I had time to detail my reasons for favoring them.

Confidence in Directors.

G. A. Hartman—By all means vote for the bonds. With the exception of the few employed in the flouring mills, scouring and woolen mills and around the railroad shops and offices, we depend upon the farmers and stockmen to support our town. Besides, many of them have purchased property and built good homes in the town, are taxpayers in the town, have been invited here to take advantage of our excellent schools, and it is to be our duty to furnish every reasonable facility to accommodate them.

TRAVELER VERY SICK.

Taken From Westbound Passenger Train This Morning to the Hospital—is From Perkins, Neb.

A man apparently about 60 years of age, was taken off the westbound early morning train this morning because his condition was such as to make it dangerous for him to proceed. He lay in the O. R. & N. depot from 5 o'clock until after 8 this morning.

Judging him superficially one would have supposed the man to be drunk, but more careful observation disclosed that he was not. He was taken in charge by Dr. Vincent, who was notified that the man was wearing Masonic emblems. The doctor ordered him taken to the hospital, where he now is, in charge of the nurses there.

He was able to give his name as George S. Alfred before being taken to the hospital, and to say that he came from Perkins, Neb., and that he was accompanied as far as Huntington by a traveling companion named Boler, who had tickets for both, and who got off the train at Huntington to get medicine and then got left. Boler came in on No. 1, and is now at the hospital. He has telegraphed Alfred's friends in Nebraska his condition.

Soon after being taken to the hospital Alfred relapsed into complete insensibility, from which it has been impossible to arouse him. He is suffering from a severe stomach trouble with a sympathetic heart affection, and it not likely that he can survive long.

MRS. BRUNE COMING.

Will Appear at Frazer Next Friday Evening in "Uthorna."

Mrs. Brune will appear at the Frazer opera house next Friday evening, April 24, in "Uthorna," the new love story written especially for her by F. Marion Crawford, the famous novelist. The piece has been received in the most flattering manner in the Northwest, and is said to be the most handsomely staged play that has been seen on the Pacific Coast for many seasons.

Holds Court at Fossil.

Judge Ellis has been summoned to Fossil to hold court in the place of Judge Bradshaw, who is in smallpox quarantine. Court opens at Fossil next Monday. It is probable that the circumstances of Judge Bradshaw's illness will lead to Judge Ellis hearing the famous Glick-Jones murder case.

$5,000 Water Bonds.

The city of Adams, Oregon, will receive bids for the purchase of $5,000 water bonds, said bonds to run 20 years, with a 10-year option. The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

J. T. LIEUALLEN, Chairman Committee.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to those who in our recent bereavement, the death of Mrs. Anna Ragan, extended to us kindly sympathy and help. Albert Ragan, Mr. and Mrs. George Olmstead, James Crane.

WAR AT UNIVERSITY

PROFESSOR OF GREEK EXPELS POPULAR STUDENT

Was Angered at a Trivial Act in Classroom and Would Not Accept Apology — Seniors Take Up the Case.

Eugene, Ore., April 18.—Serious trouble has been brewing for some time at the University, and the indications are that today affairs will reach a crisis. The trouble arose from the fact that some two weeks ago Herbert C. Campbell, member of the class of '03, was expelled from the class room by John Straub, professor of Greek. Student Campbell was translating a passage of Greek when he was stopped by the professor, who made a correction in the translation. "Isn't that just the same as I translated it?" asked the student.

"No, it is not, and I do not want any more of your impertinence," answered the disseminator of Greek learning.

This remark caused a smile to spread over the face of the unsuspecting pupil, and it was this smile that has caused all the trouble. At the close of the recitation hour, Mr. Campbell was asked to remain, and after the other students had filed out, Professor Straub told the boy, who had been under him for four long years and was just on the eve of his graduation, that his days of Greek study were past, and that he could not return to classes in that department. This edict meant that Student Campbell could not graduate with his class, for he was taking his major work, amounting to ten hours per week, in Greek. The youthful student immediately began to apologize for his slight rudeness in class, but with no avail; the professor was obstinate.

Later Campbell offered a written or a public apology, but these offers were likewise spurned. Tears and entreaties failed to gain sympathy for the boy, so in his despair he telegraphed for his father to come to his assistance. The father came, begged forgiveness for his son, and pointed out the blight which would be cast upon his life if he were not permitted to graduate with the class. Straub again turned a deaf ear to reason. The sorrowful parent returned to his home, and left the youthful son to work out his own salvation.

Then it was that a new light broke in the East, and the classmates of Student Campbell bravely came to his assistance. Little groups of dignified seniors in black caps and gowns were seen about the campus engaged in earnest conversation. The unsophisticated freshmen said: "There must be something doing; wonder if they are contemplating throwing any one in the mill race?" Gradually it leaked out that Campbell's case was under consideration and yesterday, when a notice appeared on the bulletin board calling for a meeting of the senior class this afternoon, there was a flutter of excitement about the halls.

Late yesterday afternoon it was understood that the seniors were going to appoint a committee to make a thorough investigation of the affair, and if justice demanded that Student Campbell be reinstated it must either be done or else the entire senior class will walk out and refuse to graduate. In case they should see fit to take this step, it is very probable that large numbers of other classes will do likewise. The students are very hopeful that the matter may be amicably settled, but at present it does not look very encouraging for such an outcome.

THIS IS ONE ON US.

"Comedy of Errors"—Fanny Davenport in a New Role.

Mr. Editor—In your Friday's paper you informed your readers that Fanny Davenport, the famous actress, was a guest of our city. Allow me to inform you that Mrs. Melbourne McDowell (Fanny Davenport) departed this life some two years ago, at New York city. We are told in the good book that in but one instance has there been a return from the great beyond. If Mrs. McDowell, (not Mrs. Davenport) accompanied by her man servant, dog and cat, favored Pendleton by a return to this sphere, let it be recorded as a historical event.

A SUBSCRIBER.

(We want to state that Fanny Davenport was in the city—not the famous actress.)

CHARLES B. HANFORD.

Will Lecture to Current Literature Club and Visitors Next Monday.

The Current Literature Club has secured a promise from the actor, Charles B. Hanford, that he will next Monday, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, lecture on the plays of Shakespeare and give readings from them at the parish house on Johnson street. All people interested invited to attend and listen.

Farm Sold.

Miss Ada E. Brown has sold her farm, 12 miles south of Pilot Rock, to Charles Alcott. She returned to that neighborhood for a few days last week for the purpose of effecting the transfer, but has since returned to Eugene, where she is attending the State University. Miss Brown expects to graduate this summer.
