STILL THEY COME

CHARGES AGAINST POSTAL OFFICIALS NUMEROUS.

Machen is Center of Fire—Has Made Free Delivery System Political Machine and Used it to Make Him Solid With Leaders—Is Converted Democrat.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—The assurance by Postmaster General Payne that there was to be a thorough investigation of affairs in the postoffice department and that all guilty parties would be brought to justice has had the effect of bringing out an enormous number of charges against officials and complaints of their methods of transacting public business. This will but delay the final report of General Bristow, for every charge is to be looked into and, while no doubt a great many will, when sifted down, prove harmless, it is probable that others will bear some fruit. Heretofore contractors for postal supplies and bidders on postal service, who have felt that they were unjustly discriminated against, have kept their dissatisfaction to themselves, feeling that it would be useless to file complaints. Now, however, many of these old grievances are being renewed. The free delivery office and its superintendent, A. W. Machen, are still the center of fire. The trouble with Machen has been, ever since he was in office, that he insisted in running the free delivery system as a political machine. He has brought good business ability to bear and his administration has been for the benefit of the service, but he was always ready to make sacrifices to politicians and place hunters to arrange matters so that he would always have strong friends at court. He came into the office as a democrat under the Cleveland administration. Later, when he could not stand for Bryanism, he became a republican supporter. From that time he became industrious in a political way and employs under him became efficient political reformers and, as he had been previously building up a democratic machine, his information became useful to the republicans.

when he decided to flop. From that time on his strongest friends and supporters have been republican leaders. Probably the worst feature of his office is his desire to accommodate friends, both parties; in other words, to make himself solid, and he has maintained during the investigation that he will come out all right, although the many complaints that have been made indicate that better methods are needed in his office.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

General Summary in Oregon—Reports From the Columbia River Valley Furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Portland, Oregon, April 21, 1903.—The weather during the week has been favorable for farm work, but the nights were too cool for rapid growth. Frosts occurred frequently, and early cherries, plums, silver prunes and peaches have been slightly damaged in the upper end of the Willamette valley and in Southern Oregon. The bulk of the fruit crop, however, is unharmed, and is generally in a very promising condition. The soil is in excellent condition for plowing, and this work is advancing rapidly in all sections; some are summer fallowing, while others are plowing for corn, potatoes and late grain. Spring wheat seeding is nearly completed, except on low lands and in the plateau section of the state. Fall wheat is doing well; it has a good color and covers the ground nicely. Spring wheat is germinating slowly, but otherwise it is in a promising condition. Barely also looks well; but few complaints are made about weedy fields. Considerable alfalfa has been winter killed in Baker and Malheur counties. Pasturage is improving slowly, and stock has gained proportionally in flesh. The crop of lambs is below the average. Sheep shearing is in progress. Hops are coming up and being cultivated; considerable complaint is made of missing hills. Potato planting is general in the western sections, and some corn has been planted in the southern counties.

Columbia River Valley.
Boyd, Wasco county, P. P. Underwood.—Warmer weather and good showers have been very beneficial to crops. Spring grain has come up well. Fall grain standing nicely, where far enough advanced. Potato planting begun.

Wasco, Sherman county, W. C. Morehouse.—Excellent weather for wheat; spring seeding almost completed. In the sections where the cut worms have done damage, re-seeding is in progress.

Gene, Morrow county, P. G. Balsinger.—Weather favorable for crops; wheat and grass progressing nicely.

Arlington, Gilliam county, R. H. Robinson.—Grain doing well. Poplar and locust trees leaving out. Past week has been favorable for crops.

Pendleton, Umatilla county, H. J. Taylor.—Weather warmer, but rain needed. Wheat growing nicely. Gardens not growing much. Potato planting begun. Summer fallowing is progressing nicely. Grass short. Stock not doing well; feed in stubble fields poor. Seeding completed here.

Plateau Region.

Union, Union county, John W. Minnick.—Cold and generally cloudy. Nothing growing. Ground very dry; rain badly needed. Spring seeding will not germinate until it rains. Seeding nearly finished. Stock very thin.

Oklahoma's Rapid Growth.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 22.—Today Oklahoma entered upon its fifteenth year if being on this date that the first installment of Indian lands was opened to white settlers. Added to the first small tract thrown open to settlement were the adjacent Indian lands opened from time to time until today the territory has an area about equal to that of the state of Ohio. Today the territory has a population of 400,000 and the assessed valuation of property exceeds $50,000,000. When Oklahoma was born only one railroad traversed the territory; now there are nearly a dozen with many branches and extensions in progress of construction.
