Walked to Pendleton. Mr. Stamper, aged 80 years, who lives on Birch creek, took a notion yesterday he would visit his son, James, at Athena. The teams on the place all being busy he walked to Pendleton, a distance of nine miles, doing the stunt in two and a half hours. This morning he took the train for Athena, apparently as fresh after a night's rest as though he had not walked so far the day before. Mr. Stamper is well-to-do, owning 370 acres of land on Birch creek.

BAKER WOMEN ORGANIZE.

Mrs. Weathered Succeeds in Interesting Baker City Clubs in Lewis and Clark Fair.

Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, of Portland, unquestionably one of the most widely known women in Oregon, and one who has been ever foremost in furthering the interests of the state and its women residents so far as woman's work pertained, addressed members of the Alpha Literary Society Saturday afternoon, at Elks' hall, on matters pertaining to the early steps for organizing looking to the erection and maintenance of a woman's building at the Lewis and Clark Centennial at Portland in 1905.

The gathering was highly successful and ended in the accomplishment of the purpose of Mrs. Weathered's trip to Baker City, the formation of a society here to co-operate with other organizations in the state for exposition work, but more particularly the establishment and keeping up of the women's building and the holding of special days for pioneers, women's auxiliaries to fraternal organizations and other societies that may be given special dates during the exposition. —Baker City Herald.

LOOKING FOR RANGE

CAVALRY OFFICERS MAY DECIDE ON SPRINGS.

Board is Searching for a Suitable Ground for Summer Camp, Target Range and Field Practice.

A board, consisting of Captain Walsh, of the ninth cavalry, Captain McLaughlin, of the thirtieth battery field artillery, and Lieutenant Haskell, of the ninth cavalry, spent the day in the city en route to Athena.

The board was sent out some time ago by Colonel Godfred, of the ninth cavalry, to look for suitable ground for a target range and camp for field practice. The gentlemen have been over the country around Bingham Springs and Thorn Hollow, while on a former trip they visited a site in the Touchet river country and are at present undecided as to which of the many is the best. The last named place is a large level tract, but has no good place for a camp.

Around Bingham Springs and Thorn Hollow the ground for a camp is better but the facilities for field practice are lessened by the broken nature of the ground. It is probable that the board will recommend both sites to the government, the one at Touchet to be used for field practice, the one at Bingham Springs for a rifle range. By this plan a couple of troops would go out for field practice at Touchet and having finished that would move to Bingham Springs for their rifle practice. Another advantage of Bingham Springs as a rifle range lies in the fact that but little work would have to be done on the butts behind the targets, since the range could be laid in a canyon facing a hill. A range of 1,000 yards is required. The board wishes to secure about a section of land for the camp and grounds.

They returned by way of the agency in order to confer with the agent, Charles Wilkins, about the feasibility of securing title to the land.

Lieutenant Colvert, of the ninth cavalry, is with the company, on a hunting trip. Besides the board named there is a teamster and a cook. Captain Walsh is spending the day at the home of Mrs. L. H. Sturges, who is a relative of his. This evening the officers will leave on the train for Athena, sending the wagon on to the fort at Walla Walla.
