"MACBETH" IN TROUBLE.

Baker City People Who Have Been "Touched," Cause the Company Trouble.

It seems that the Griffith company had some fun in Baker City Thursday night, where they were to play "Macbeth." Last week a company which visited there played the old trick of charging $1.50 a seat and then because it was a small town cut the play in two. This enraged the people, and when Griffith demanded a settlement at the end of the first act, according to agreement, the manager refused, saying he was afraid he'd get "flimflammed" again.
At this juncture trouble arose, which by the time the curtain fell on the third act had assumed serious proportions and the curtain stayed down. Griffith came out and made an explanation saying he would go on with the play if the manager would settle. But McCord was stubborn and went to his office, the crowd following him up and demanding their money back. Griffith has consulted a lawyer and the outcome remains to be seen.

MISS WOOD HAS RESIGNED

PROF. PRAY, OF KANSAS, TAKES HER PLACE.

She Has Accepted Position as Instructor in Holmes' Business College, at Portland.

Miss Mary Wood, during the past year at the head of the department of stenography at the Pendleton Business College, resigns her position as the close of the school year approaches, and the first-class graduates. She has accepted a position in the same line of work with the Holmes Business College, of Portland, and will assume the duties of that position in a short time. Miss Wood is known as one of the most capable teachers of shorthand in the entire Northwest, and a first-class impartor of knowledge in a general way beside. To her efficiency, so President Robinson avers, is due the high standing that the department has attained as a branch of learning in this city.
Miss Wood will be succeeded in the shorthand department by Professor Charles Pray, late of the Northwestern Business College at Spokane. With his wife Mr. Pray will arrive in this place some time next week. Mr. Pray is a graduate of the Kansas State University, and afterward of the law department of the same institution, and later of the Lawrence Business College. His personal and professional standing are in every respect equal to his educational qualifications. He is known personally and professionally to Pendleton parties. He will at least maintain the present proficiency of the shorthand department of the business college, and is qualified to instruct in commercial law, in which he was tutor at Spokane as well as in shorthand.

HIGH GRADE ORES.

Golconda Vein Producing Better Values Constantly.

Last Thursday, at the Golconda, an average sample taken across the big stope, 70 feet above the tunnel level and in the best part of this stope, gave a return of $132 per ton, for a width of about six feet, says the Sumpter Miner.
Of course, this does not in any manner indicate the average of this shoot of ore, but shows the remarkably fine lenses that occur from time to time in the shoots of high grade milling ore in this property. It will be remembered that this shoot of ore is over 250 feet long, and is all of good milling grade. It is from 15 to 18 feet wide in the center, and running down to a width of four or five feet at each end. Seventy feet in the center of this shoot of ore is said to average 10 to 12 feet wide, and $25 to $30 a ton.

Finished Shearing.

James Hackett and Otto Ryman have finished shearing their flocks. For their last clips Mr. Hackett received 11 cents per pound for 1,300 fleeces, and Mr. Ryman 11 1/2 cents per pound for 900 fleeces. The quality was excellent. Both sales were in the lump, to the Pendleton Securing Mill.

YANGER-BROAD BOUT.

New Stars in the Pugilistic Arena Fighting a Twenty-Round Contest Today.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—The Derby crowds are looking forward to a good fight tonight when Benny Yanger, of Chicago, and "Kid" Broad come together for a 20-round bout before the Southern Athletic Club. The fact that Yanger is generally regarded as the most logical opponent for "Young Corbett" has caused increased interest to be taken in the contest.

It will be the second meeting between Broad and Yanger. In their previous contest—a six-round affair in Chicago last year—the result was a draw. The decision was disputed by partisans of both men, and from their showing on that occasion it is expected they will put up a good fight when they come together tonight. Both have been training faithfully for the contest and appear to be in first-class condition.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—Steps to stop the Yanger-Broad fight, which is scheduled for tonight, were taken at noon. SEEN ACROSS THE STATE.

Pendleton Parties Saw the Portland Aerolite—It Was Headed Westward and Going Fast.

A very interesting column account of the sudden appearance of a huge meteor at Portland a few evenings since, and of the bursting of the same a few moments after being seen, was printed in the Portland papers. Since that time portions of the meteor have been found, proving it to have been a true aerolite. The meteor was first seen at Portland directly over the city and traveling westward. This was a few minutes before 8 o'clock in the evening. This meteor was seen distinctly at Pendleton for a second or two by G. N. Miller, a sewer engineer, from a window of the Hotel St. George. It was, from this point of view, traveling westward with a strong deflection toward the ground. Mr. Miller immediately called the attention of a traveling man to what he saw, which he described as being about the size of the full moon, but by that time it had disappeared. It went out of sight almost immediately, below the horizon formed by the Hendricks building opposite the Hotel St. George. The next day's Portland papers contained an account of its appearance at that city, in the outskirts of which it burst with a tremendous noise.

Pioneer of Umatilla County.

Joseph, Or., May 1.—Henry Harrison Reel, an old Eastern Oregon pioneer, died at his home on the banks of Wallowa lake Saturday and was buried at Prairie Creek cemetery Sunday. His wife, who was Mrs. Eliza Sutton, three sons and two daughters, survive him. Mr. Reel was born 63 years ago in Gibson county, Indiana. In 1862 he crossed the plains to California with an ox team. He remained in California less than three years, going from there with ox team to Walla Walla valley in 1865. Soon after he located at Milton, Or., in Umatilla county. Later he secured 160 acres of land at the head of Wallowa lake and 160 acres at the mouth of the lake at Joseph.

Wallowa County Sheep.

Joseph, Or., May 2.—J. H. Dobbin, secretary of the Wallowa Woolgrowers' Association, is authority for the statement that there are at least 225,000 and possibly 250,000 head of sheep in Wallowa county and that this season's wool clip, which begins May 29, will possibly reach 1,750,000 pounds. At the present price of 15 cents a pound, this would mean $262,000 for this season's clip. He estimates that possibly 75,000 sheep will be sold at a conservative average of $2.50 a head, or $187,500. This would cut Wallowa's income from her sheep this season.

In the course of time an abscess developed and in another spot, only a couple of inches from the abscess, she suffered intense pain. The operation of a few days ago relieved the pain, but no necrosis was found. The pain is supposed to have been caused by the rasping of a nerve upon a roughened portion of the bone. Mrs. Conklin is the mother of the Conklin brothers of this place.

During that period he has been continuously on duty in the employ of the Smith Livestock Company and of James Hackett, as sheep herder.

Lorain, O., May 2.—Rev. Walter the Toledo priest who was in the house when Agatha Reichlin was murdered in her brother's residence in this city, was arrested at 10 o'clock this morning, charged with the crime.

Bloodhounds put on the trail this morning failed to give tongue on the lawn surrounding the house or at the ladder down which the murderer is supposed to have climbed. They persisted in traversing the route between the bedrooms occupied by Walser and Miss Reichlin. Repeated attempts were made always with the same result. Walser was found at the St. Joseph hospital, where the warrant was served. Excitement is so intense it was feared that some demonstration would be made, so the prisoner was taken to Elyria and lodged in jail.
