There are still several cases of smallpox near the state line, below Freewater.

Messrs. E. C. Simonds, J. A. Conrad and W. S. Mayberry caught two salmon trout last Tuesday morning in Pine creek that measured 24 and 28 inches in length respectively. They did not weigh them as they had no scales along.

Lecture by Judge Lowell.

Under the auspices of Columbia college, Judge S. A. Lowell, of Pendleton will deliver a lecture in the opera house on Saturday evening the 9th inst., on "Climbing the Heights." A small admission will be charged and a ticket given which will admit the holder to another lecture to be delivered by Rev. D. C. Sanderson on some subject not yet announced, in the near future.

J. N. Beal and E. C. Simond have, at a great expense, changed the entire course of Pine creek through their farms, by plowing and scraping a new channel along the west bluff. The old channel is being filled up, the brush cleared away and where an acre or two of alfalfa was cut off by a crook or bend in the creek a large field appears. The new channel cut is about two and a half miles long.

Miss Helen Wilson, of this city, left last Sunday for Pendleton where she will visit her sister a couple of weeks, then return to her old home in Kansas. The "Bachelors' Banquet" and "Old Maids' Convention" seems to be gathering them in one by one.

Death of Miss Bessie Wellman.

Miss Bessie Wellman died at the home of her parents near the Vincent school house last Monday afternoon, of dropsy of the heart. She had been ailing for some time, but on Sunday and until within an hour of her death she seemed to be improving. Bessie was in her eighteenth year, and of a kind and lovable disposition. The remains were embalmed by J. W. Cookery, of Walla Walla, and interred in the cemetery at that place Wednesday afternoon, alongside of three brothers and sisters who died of scarlet fever a short time ago. She leaves a father and five brothers and sisters who have the sympathy of all friends.

OUTDOOR RELIEF.

Tramp Question an Acute One in the National Charities Convention.

Atlanta, Ga., May 7.—A wide range of subjects were discussed at the sessions of this, the first business day of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections. The arrival of a number of belated delegates increased the attendance considerably over that at the opening of the gathering last night.

Upon assembling shortly after 9 o'clock this morning the conference received and discussed an interesting report presented by Chairman C. L. Stonaker, of Denver, on behalf of the standing committee on county and municipal institutions, outdoor relief and vagrancy. The problem of vagrancy received particular attention and various interesting views on its solution were presented by Dr. William H. Allen, secretary of the New York Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor, and others.

This afternoon the conference divided into sectional meetings for the discussion of juvenile reform, sanitary inspection, county and municipal institutions and various other questions of public importance. This evening the conference will take up the report of the standing committee on state supervision and administration of charities and corrections, of which Prof. Blackmar, of the University of Kansas, is chairman.

Church Workers in Conference.

Washington, D. C., May 7.—The national convention of the Methodist Protestant denominational Christian Endeavor Society begins in Washington this evening and, judging from the excellent program arranged and the large number of visitors on hand, the gathering will be one of the best ever held by the organization. Those in attendance come from all parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and several other states. Prayer and praise services, sermons and addresses by well known divines and others, reports of officers and committees, and discussions of the missionary and other work carried on by the society make up the program, which covers three days.

Alabama T. P. A.

Montgomery, Ala., May 7.—The state capitol today experienced an invasion of knights of the grip in the persons of several hundred delegates to the annual state convention of the Traveler's Protective Association. At 11 o'clock this morning the visitors assembled in the Elk's Home and listened to an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph. A brief business session was held this afternoon, followed by the first number of an interesting program of entertainment arranged by the local post of the order. Tomorrow there will be a barbecue at Pickett Springs and various other amusements. The order in Alabama is in a flourishing condition, as is evidenced by the large and representative attendance on the present gathering.

Connecticut G. A. R.

Danbury, Conn., May 7.—The city is gay with stars and stripes today in honor of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, whose annual state encampment is in progress. It is the most largely attended encampment of recent years, every county in the state having a representation. New York's Light Bill.

Though New York enjoys the distinction of being a well lighted city, it pays the highest price in proportion to its population for its lights of any city in the Union. A forceful argument for municipal ownership is supplied by the showing that six cities that operate their own plants, burning 2000 candle power lamps, pay an average price of $66.45 per lamp per year, while New York has paid $146 per lamp for the same service.—Exchange.

OPPOSE THE FAIR

TRADES OF PORTLAND DEMAND PLAIN JUSTICE.

Say That Employers Must be Fair, if They Expect to Hold Sympathies of Workingmen.

At a meeting of Multnomah Typographical Union Tuesday the resolution passed by the Federated Trades Council calling for a referendum vote on the appropriation made for the Lewis and Clark Fair was strongly endorsed, says the Oregon Daily Journal.

Just before leaving for La Grande yesterday a number of labor representatives expressed themselves rather freely Friday night. They stated that if a disposition should be shown here on the part of the employers to do the proper thing in favor of wages they would be in favor of lending their full support to the fair project. But on the other hand they stated that if wages are not increased the fair would be a detriment to all those employed at common labor, and they would oppose the enterprise in every possible manner.

G. B. Thomas, a delegate to the convention from the Machinists' Union said: "Generally speaking, organized labor is not inclined to knock the fair. Its members are opposed, however, to those who will reap a rich harvest from the enterprise doing everything in their power to keep wages down to a lower scale than is paid at any other point on the coast. Just because the fair has been extensively advertised, rents have gone up out of all proportion to the wages paid. In fact, living expenses all along the line have been materially increased, notwithstanding the many reports to the contrary."

Arthur Brock, president of the Multnomah Typographical Union said: "We will assist in making the fair a success, if those whom it will directly benefit will be fair to us. However, we do not propose to stand idly by and have a hardship worked upon us without taking steps to prevent it. If wages are to remain the same a fair will prove a detriment to the wage earners. Our action will, therefore, be governed largely by the course taken by the employers of labor."

Dr. W. T. Phy, one of the city's leading and most successful young practitioners, is soon to take his leave for Hot Lake where he has purchased an interest in the sanitarium and hotel conducted by Dr. G. W. Tape. News of the transaction gained currency yesterday and to a Herald representative Dr. Tape outlined the plans of the management under the late additions.

The resort, which is rapidly growing in popularity and is looked upon as the coming institution of the character in the Northwest, is to be added to and beautified. The property is now valued at approximately $100,000. Dr. Phy has secured a one-third interest and will enter the business in the capacity of medical superintendent.—Baker City Herald.
