Unique Birthday Party.

A very enjoyable and novel social was the Gibson party given by Mrs. C. S. Jackson, at her home last Monday evening. Those receiving invitations reading, "The widow and her friends will spend Monday evening, May Fourth, at 405 Jackson street," had reason to look forward to something unusual, as well as a pleasant evening. The house was beautifully and tastily decorated. The living and reception rooms were fragrant with the odor of flowers, no color scheme being adhered to. In this, the dining room differed, for nothing but green and white were used. In the center of the table was a large punch bowl, around which were numerous candelabra, with white waxen tapers. On the table linen were sprays of maiden-hair fern, with two large bunches of St. Joseph's lilies in vases. The buffet was banked in white lilies, white carnations and hyacinth.

It being the hostess' birthday, all the guests gathered around the flowing bowl and drank her health, after which pretty score cards, with Gibson heads of the widow's friends, taken from the book, "A Widow and Her Friends," were distributed and eight games of high five were played. Mrs. Thomas Warner having the highest number of games to her credit, was the recipient of the Gibson book, "A Widow and Her Friends." Mr. Henry Guernsey, received a large-sized drawing of the Gibson widow, the work of Blaine Hallock, and handsomely framed. The consolation prizes, which were unique, were pictures, taken back view of the hostess, each mounted in a pretty frame. They were promptly named the "Widow," and her friends who were lucky enough to win them were Mrs. W. E. Brock and Mr. Frank Frazier.

Elegant refreshments were served, after which a general good time was indulged in until a late hour, when the "widow's friends" departed, wishing her many happy returns of the day. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Judd, Leon Cohen, W. E. Brock, Frank Frazier, Thomas Warner, J. F. Robinson, Dr. Vincent, T. C. Taylor, H. F. Johnson, Henry Guernsey and Miss Neva Lane. Mr. Jackson returned from Portland to lend his presence.

Penland-Mathews.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place in this city for some time, was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mathews, Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Mabel Mathews, was united in marriage to Clarence Penland. The ceremony was performed by Robert J. Diven, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the wedding march was played by Esma Sawtell. Miss Dena Hendley acted as bridesmaid and J. Willifred Earl was best man. The bride was elegantly gowned in white and carried white roses. The bridesmaid was attired in pink and carried carnations. The groom was dressed in black. Many beautiful and appropriate presents were received. After the ceremony the wedding supper was served, the following friends being present: Rev. Robert J. Diven and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Penland, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Penland, L. E. Penland, Will Penland, Mrs. M. J. Quick, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Evans, D. C. Clark, Ralph Ward, Clarence Knight, Ben K. Davis, Miss Dena Hendley, Miss Esma Sawtell, Miss Amy Mathews and Master Eldon Evans.

Mammond-McCartie.

Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock Rev. Robert J. Diven, of the First Presbyterian church, united in the bonds of matrimony Miss Augusta MacCartie and Mr. Grant L. Hammond, both of this city. The wedding was a quiet and informal affair and was witnessed by a few of the most intimate friends of the principals. Miss Marston, presided at the piano, and rendered the wedding march from Lohengrin as the party came into the parlors. Mr. George Trueblood, of Berkeley, California, acted as best man for the groom.

The bride formerly resided in Philadelphia, while the groom came here from Tacoma to take charge of the local office of the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond will be at home to their friends at suite 31, at the Pendleton.

The guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robinson, George Trueblood, of Berkeley, California, and Mrs. Marston.

son avenue last Wednesday evening. Miss Peterson has gone to Portland for an extended visit and her many friends took the eve of her departure as the occasion for expressing the esteem and regard in which they hold her. A very pleasant evening was spent in games and various forms of amusement, and at a late hour the guests departed wishing Miss Peterson a very pleasant visit in the metropolis.

Presbyterian Ladies' Luncheon.

Another large attendance was the reward of the Presbyterian ladies at their luncheon given at the church parlors Friday afternoon. These luncheons are given the first Friday of each month, not with a view to profit financially from them, but for the promotion of sociability among the church members and their friends. A small sum is asked for all the choice viands of the season.

Mrs. George Hartman Receives.

Mrs. George A. Hartman gave an informal reception on Tuesday afternoon, to meet her daughter, Mrs. Hartman, of Portland, who is her guest. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion and many ladies called during the receiving hours. Miss Mable Nye, Miss Nellie Cameron, Miss Maud Jenkins and Miss Jessie Hartman assisted.

Maccabee Social.

The lady Maccabees held a very interesting and pleasant meeting in La Dow hall last evening, at which time four new members were taken into the order. Following the regular meeting the ladies spent a social hour very pleasantly together. Ice cream and cake was served and a very enjoyable evening spent.

Social and Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nye announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mable, to Mr. Lachlan Macleay, of Olympia, Wash. The wedding will take place the fore part of June.

WOMEN'S CLUB NOTES.

The Current Literature Club held its last meeting for the year, Friday, at the home of Mrs. Thompson. It has been a most successful year under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Furnish; the interest in the year's work, "Oregon," has steadily increased. The more we study the history and resources and prospects of our state, the more we may take pride in being native or adopted Oregonians.

The Woman's Club will hold its last regular meeting on Tuesday of next week. The meeting on May 26 will be the annual meeting, and will be held according to the old custom, at the home of the president on Locust Hill.

Several topics of interest will be discussed Tuesday afternoon. There seems to be an opinion current that if the Commercial Association, the Progress Club and the Woman's Club would unite in a petition to the powers that be, we might have a new railroad station in Pendleton.

That a new station would fill a long felt want or need in Pendleton needs no demonstration. One has only to look at the present dirty, inconvenient, unsuitable, crowded depot, to be convinced. The civic committee of the Woman's Club will call on the officers of the men's clubs and get an expression of their views on the matter and report Tuesday.

The annual election of school directors is not far off. We are told that three directors are to be elected this year. More than ever our club women are interested in the schools, because this year they have done more work for them. What we put our money and our personal efforts into is sure to interest us. The old question comes up, would not a woman on the school board be a helpful factor in school work in Pendleton. We have only good reports from the towns where women serve in this capacity. This is surely one of the places where it would seem that woman could prove once more her usefulness "not as a ruling force, but as a suggestive power."
