

From the Cow to the Table.

Inspectors watch the farms and feed of the cows. We test all the milk as it is brought to our condensing plant. There is no plant in the world where more caution is exercised to insure absolute cleanliness. Every department is under the direct charge of a partner in the business. Under these conditions

WANTS A CHANGE OF BASE.

Stockman Will Leave Colorado Because of Greasers and Italians.

W. E. Tynes, a prominent stockman of Trinidad, Col., was a visitor in Pendleton today. Mr. Tynes is here looking for a location and likes the country very much. Before deciding to purchase he will visit Washington, British Columbia, and returning, will visit the valley parts of the state.

While Mr. Tynes has a high regard for his own state, he has been driven out by the importation of greasers and Italians, brought there by the contractors of the mining districts, and for railroad construction work.

He is surprised at the price of stock here and says that any number of 2-year-old beef cattle may be bought from the ranges of New Mexico, Arizona and Texas for $7 per head. At that figure he thinks money could be made by shipping them here, where the abundant feed would soon make them fat for market. The scarcity of feed on the southern ranges is responsible for a 40 per cent loss to the stockmen and the sheepmen as well, and the scarcity of feed makes their care a hardship upon the owners.

Police Chiefs to Meet.

New Orleans, La., May 9.—The annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police to be held in New Orleans next week will attract the heads of the police departments of the leading cities of the United States and Canada. The gathering will begin Tuesday and continue in session through the greater part of the week. The papers and discussions will deal with the latest developments in the methods of apprehending and identifying criminals.

Woodmen Ball Team.

The Woodmen of the World last night organized a ball team and will issue a challenge to the winning team in the coming contest between the Elks and Eagles. J. Schiffner was chosen manager and will have a team selected and in training within a few days.—Walla Walla Statesman.

There will be no court-martial upon the case of Captain Frank C. Stellmachee, of the Oregon National Guard. He has been accused of talking too freely of the actions of a superior officer.

After four days' diligent search, the sheriff of Douglas county fails to find the slightest clue to the robbers of the Olalla stage, which was held up Tuesday.

FOR SALE

100 head of heavy horses. I wish to sell the entire bunch and offer them for $40 a head, spring colts thrown in without charge. About 12 of these horses are broke to work and about 25 of them have been handled and are halter broke. All of the young stock have been sired by an imported Percheron, which weighs upward of 2000 pounds. The Clyde mares are heavy, low, blocky, solid animals. There are a number of splendid 5-year-old geldings in this bunch. This is a bargain for some one. Call on or address for further information

CHARLES E. HOOVER, Alba, Oregon.

Four Lectures

Sunday and Monday Free

BY PROF. M. F. KNOX

Founder of the Mental Science college at Seattle, Washington, and the Second Vice President of the International Mental Science Association Will Deliver a Series of Lectures as Above

WHAT SOME OF THE NEWSPAPERS SAY AFTER THE LECTURES.

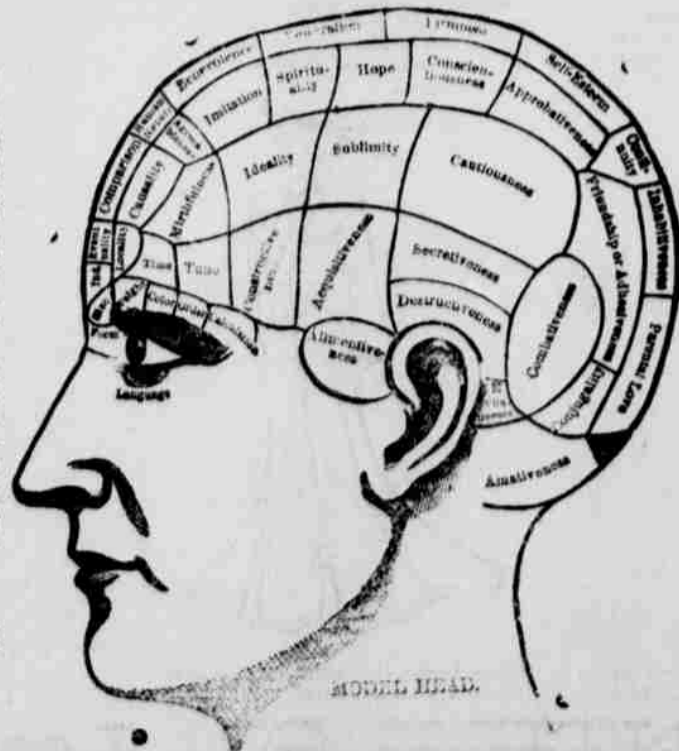

A large audience assembled in Coyle's Hall to hear Prof. Knox give his first lecture in our city. He gave a graphic demonstration of his ability to read character. Everything said about those who went on the platform was absolutely correct. Over 700 pupils and teachers gathered in the auditorium of the township High School, where the Professor gave practical demonstrations of his ability.—The La Salle (Ill.) Republican.

To whom it may concern: Prof. Knox has just closed a series of lectures in Kendrick Hall. His subject was Phrenology, which I consider highly necessary for the proper development and advancement of the human intellect. Prof. Knox is a very pleasing and interesting speaker, and I earnestly recommend his lecture to everyone interested in the well-being of mankind.—J. M. Meahan, Ch. I. C. B. V. M. Morris, Ill.; Oct. 29, 1898.

I have heard the lecture given by Prof. M. F. Knox in our church building this week. Prof. Knox has something to say to men and women that they need to hear and about which THEY NEED TO THINK. I could wish especially that all men and boys might hear his talk to men only. I am persuaded that it would save thousands of lives to be useful to their country and to the world that are now destroying and being destroyed.—G. N. Coleman, Pastor M. E. Church, Wardner, Idaho, July 2, 1898.

I am pleased to say that Prof. M. F. Knox has aroused much interest in the subject he commands so well. My son has attended his class and is thoroughly aroused by what he has learned, and has taken keen interest in humanity since listening to Prof. Knox's lectures.—Frank J. Brown, State Superintendent of Public Schools, from Olympia Daily, Tuesday, Feb. 20, 1900.

Don't Miss the First Lecture

TOLD THEM THEIR BUSINESS.

Professor Knox Explains Mental Science to Large Audience.

"A thorough understanding of one's self is true knowledge." This was the keynote of a lecture made by Professor Knox in the A. O. U. W. Hall last evening. The speaker, a tall man with flowing, picturesque whiskers, is an advocate of what he calls mental science, and the lecture was an exposition of the beliefs of this school. Grouped around the stage were physiological charts and dozens of portraits of eminent men. Large cards bearing such mottoes as "All is wealth," "All is success," "I am success," etc., decorated the walls.

The lecturer's plan was to show the adaptability of every person for some certain thing, and the necessity of applying one's self to that particular object. Four men were brought from the audience, and the professor measured their craniums to find just what lines they should follow to make a success of life. One was directed to study science, another to enter business and so on. As there was no admission fee the hall was filled and the professor succeeded in selling many of his books on the teachings of mental science.—Portland Oregonian, Feb. 2, 1903.

MENTAL SCIENCE CLASS.

Call and see the Professor at room 4, Golden Rule Hotel, where he will give private lessons daily while in the city, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., on "How to make a success," and "How to have health." A class will be formed at the close of the lecture.
