DEATH OF AN OLD SETTLER.

Mrs. H. M. Jarvis, of Pendleton, Passed Away Yesterday, at Her Home in This City.

Mrs. M. H. Jarvis, one of Pendleton's oldest pioneer women, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Sheppard, at 301 Garden street, Sunday morning, May 10, at 5 o'clock, after an illness of four weeks, resulting from an attack of erysipelas.

Mrs. Jarvis was born in Wayne county, Indiana, on January 6, 1829, where she spent the first years of her life. On October 5, 1846, she was married to William Jarvis and eight children were born to them, of which number four survive their mother: J. M. Jarvis and Mrs. E. A. Sheppard, of this city; Mrs. S. M. Heimlich, of Ukiah, and H. B. Jarvis, of Custer, Idaho, all of whom were at her bedside when she passed away, except H. B. Jarvis, who was snow-bound and could not be reached.

J. A. Owens, of Pilot Rock, H. L. Owens, of Alma, Wash., brothers of Mrs. Jarvis; Mrs. Edith Starr, of Baker City, a sister; and Mrs. F. G. Oster, of Baker City, a grand-daughter, were here to attend the funeral. President Forbes and Rev. Diven, of Pendleton, conducted the services in this city, and Rev. G. W. Rigby officiated at the grave side at Pilot Rock, where the body was laid to rest. The funeral took place this morning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Jarvis came to Umatilla county in 1879 and has been a resident of Pendleton for 23 years.

O. R. & N. IMPROVEMENTS.

Bridges Being Renewed and Repaired All Over Lines.

W. A. Storie, superintendent of the O. R. & N. bridge and building department, has just returned from a visit over the lines in Eastern Oregon, where extensive improvements are being made.

Between Baker City and Huntington six more new steel bridges will be put in this year. The construction crews are now at work on the piers for the bridges. There are now five steel bridges across Burnt river, between Baker and Huntington, and this season the company hopes to replace all the wooden structures with steel, making a total of 12 first-class steel bridges in a distance of 20 miles.

The bridges on the "horse shoe curve" between Pendleton and Walla Walla are being thoroughly overhauled and repaired this season and on the Wallace branch the entire Chatcolet trestle, 4,090 feet long, will be entirely rebuilt.

William Allen, with the pile driver crew, left this city last night for Chatelet, and will begin driving the 1,280 piles for this bridge tomorrow.

A. W. FULLER DEAD

ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED LAST SATURDAY NIGHT.

Fell into a Mill Race at North Yakima—Leaves Relatives and Many Friends in Pendleton—Will Be Buried at Seattle.

Albert W. Fuller, formerly an employe in the Peoples Warehouse of this city, but lately with Diller Bros., of North Yakima, was drowned in the mill race of that place Saturday evening some time after 8 o'clock.

Fuller was well known in Pendleton, where his mother and sister now reside. About the first of April he resigned his position here and went to North Yakima, where he has been employed since. Last Saturday evening, when the store was closed at 8 o'clock, he bid his fellow employes good night and started for his room.

A little girl found his body floating in the irrigation ditch Sunday forenoon and gave the alarm.

No one knows just how the accident occurred, though it is easy to guess. At the place where Mr. Fuller had to cross the ditch there was no railing or guard of any kind. A strip of green sward stretches between the sidewalk and the ditch and it is supposed that in turning to the bridge in the dark the man missed his footing and fell into the water, which at that point is fully eight feet from bank to bank and five feet deep.

The deceased was about 27 years old and came from Nova Scotia with his mother and sister, Miss Margaret, several years ago. He was a young man of exemplary habits and highly respected by all.

The body will be interred in Seattle, for which point his mother and sister left last evening.

PROF. KNOX'S LECTURE.

First Free Lecture of the Series Given at Frazer's Opera House Last Night.

Professor M. F. Knox, who is advertised to deliver a course of lectures and organize a class in mental science in this city, delivered the first lecture at Frazer's opera house to an appreciative audience last night.

The subject of Professor Knox's lecture was "How to Overcome Poverty and Accumulate Wealth," and he handled the subject in a masterly manner from the mental science standpoint. This lecture was free, and tonight Professor Knox will deliver another free lecture on the following timely topic: "How to Educate the Man, Woman and Child to Know Themselves." A number of children will be delineated by the speaker during the progress of this lecture, and all the school children of the city are especially invited to attend it.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the lectures will not be free. The subjects are highly interesting, as will be noted in the announcements of them.

Large Wool Crop, But Indifferent Quality.

C. H. Green left for The Dalles this morning, where he goes to visit the wool scouring mills which start for their season's run this morning. Mr. Green is a wool buyer for a large firm in Boston and does much of his business with the mills at The Dalles, and with the Pendleton mill. He says that the yield this year is good, though the quality is not as good as could be desired, due to the hard winter through which the sheep had to pass. Most of his wool is washed before shipping, though some is snipped in the grease.

Real Estate Transfers.

W. F. Matlock and Ann Matlock, his wife, today transferred to L. A. Vogle, of Pendleton, lots 3 and 12, in block 111, of the reservation addition to Pendleton, the consideration being $300.

Charles M. Brotherton and Ella M. Brotherton, his wife, today sold to James A. Creswell for $10,000, the west half of section 1, and the northeast quarter of section 2, all in township 5 north of range 32 east (containing 480 acres, situated northwest of Helix, and west of Vancycle.

Came to Attend the Funeral.

Rev. John La Cornu, pastor of the M. E. church of Colton, Wash., arrived last evening to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. I. Jarvis. Others who have arrived for the same purpose are Mrs. M. J. Elliott, of Baker City, and Miss M. E. Elliott, of Walla Walla. Both these ladies are nieces of the deceased.

Cement Sidewalking.

Workmen are busy tearing up the old wooden sidewalk at the south side of the Boston Store, and will replace it with a cement walk of the regulation size required by the city for the business district.

Meat for the Agency School.

Henry Schwarz, of the Empire Meat Market of this city, has been awarded the contract of furnishing the agency school with meat for the coming year. The contract will require 25,000 pounds for its fulfillment.

To California.

Walter M. Pierce leaves next Thursday for California to conduct the Victoria Island land case, which comes up for trial on May 20.

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Eleven Contestants Qualify for an Interesting Event.

The first annual tournament of the Pendleton Golf Club will open tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. The entries are slow in coming in, but by the time the time limit is reached it is expected that at least 16 gentlemen will have qualified and had their handicaps arraigned. Several ladies will also enter in the ladies' matches.

Right at this time it is hard for the business men of the city to find time for their game of golf and it is from this condition of things that the entry of scores and the apportioning of handicaps is retarded. The same condition also holds among the lady members, many of whom are employed in the various stores and offices of the city.

The ladies will tee off tomorrow morning from 9:30 to 10:30, and will cover the course once over. In the afternoon the gentlemen will have from 2:30 to 4:30 in which to start their drives. They will also make the course once, and from their scores the further matches will be arranged.

Those so far qualifying for the tournament are: E. P. Dodd, E. Y. Judd, William Rinehart, C. E. Pruitt, G. A. Hartman, Jr., William Keller, Mark Moorhouse, J. R. Dickson, N. Berkeley, L. G. Frazier and J. T. Lambirth.

After Medical Students.

J. A. Van Winkle, of Salem, Ore., who has been in Pendleton in the interest of the medical department of the Willamette University at Salem, will leave for Athena tomorrow morning where he has several prospective students in view. Mr. Van Winkle reports very good success while here, quite a number of young people having expressed a preference for the pioneer institution, and several stating positively their intention of attending college there next year.
