Cal., May 19.—The president's train reached Reno at 7:30 this morning. The night run was made for the cheerleaders at the stations who were disappointed because the president did not get up to see them. Mr. Muir, who was the president's driver through the Yosemite, left the train at Reno.

The president received as a present a slab of sugar pine wood at Reno. It was from the largest tree of its kind in the Yosemite valley and it was greeted by the citizens of the town and a number of the grove.

President Annoyed at Yosemite.

San Francisco, May 19.—The antics of the Yosemite Park commission in attempting to force the president to part in a reception and social gathering in the park against his will, deeply disgusted Governor Pardee. He will throw out the entire board as soon as the law will allow and they are all hold-over officers from the last administration and he will not be able to appoint a new board for two years. It is rumored that one member of the board will be John Muir, who is the Yosemite guide.

Muir is believed to be the best American authority on national parks.

TO BE TRIED IN TENNESSEE

LESS RISKY THAN TRIAL BY THE COURTS OF OHIO.

Friends of Miss Elizabeth McCormick With Murder.

Memphis, Tenn., May 19.—It seems improbable that Elizabeth McCormick, who sent the poisoned whisky will be taken to Cincinnati although the officials of that city today say they believe that they have sufficient evidence to convict her. The Memphis police also say she can be convicted of first degree murder. The hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by her attorney will be held this afternoon.

It is thought Governor Frazier will be restrained from issuing requisition papers permitting her to be taken to Ohio for trial, by the action of her attorneys taken yesterday. SLAV VIEW OF JEW PROBLEM

Reason for Peasant Hatred of the Jew Given by Ambassador at Washington.

HE IS A MONEY LENDER AND WILL NOT TILL THE SOIL.

Russian Dislike Based Upon His Propensity to Usury and Disinclination to Do Manual Labor, and Not Upon His Religion.

Washington, May 19.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, in a conversation today with a representative of the Associated Press relative to the Jewish troubles in Russia, said: "There is in Russia, as in Germany and Austria, a feeling against certain of the Jews. The reason for this unfriendly attitude is found in the fact that the Jews will not work in the field or engage in agriculture. They prefer to be money lenders. Give a Jew a couple of dollars and he becomes a banker and money broker. In this capacity he takes advantage of the Russian peasant, whom he soon has in his power, and ultimately destroys. It is when the patience of the peasant is exhausted that conflicts between peasants and Jews occurs. Ordinarily the Russian is a very patient person, but it is only natural that he should entertain a feeling of resentment of the one who has wrought his ruin."

"Emperor Nicholas sought to help the Jew by ordering the establishment of agricultural colonies in Southern Russia, hoping to induce the Jews to engage in agricultural pursuits, instead of money lending, but the effort was useless, nor have other projects establishing Jewish states been successful."

"The situation in Russia, so far as the Jews are concerned, is this: It is the peasant against the money lender, and not the Russian against the Jew. There is no feeling against the Jews in Russia because of religion. It is, as I have said, the Jews ruin the peasants, with the result that conflicts occur when the latter have left all their worldly possessions, and have nothing to live upon."

"The Russian government affords the same protection to the Jews that it does to any other of its citizens, and when a riot occurs and Jews are attacked the officials immediately take steps to apprehend those who begin the riot and visit severe punishment upon them. In the past Russians have been punished severely for attacks upon Jews. But notwithstanding these conflicts, the Jews continue to do the very things which have been responsible for the troubles which involve them."

ULTIMATUM IS RENDERED

Nine-Hour Day in Portland is Absolutely Refused by the Employers.

APPARENT DEAD LOCK FROM LAUNDRY LOCKOUT.

No Prospect of the Laundries Resuming Operations Unless Non-Union Help is Employed—Failed to Compromise Question of Hours.

Portland, May 19.—There was a meeting of the committee having in charge the employers' interests in the present laundry lockout this forenoon, at which it was decided to give to the public the exact status of the quarrel, so far as the wages paid and the conditions under which laundry help is employed are concerned.

It is stated by the committee that a concession of a nine-hour day is absolutely out of the question, and as the employees will not recede from this request, the only thing left for the laundries to do is to open up with outside help as soon as it becomes practicable, which, it is stated, will probably be done. No definite plans as to the time or manner of opening has yet been decided on.

The statement is made by the employers that the nine-hour schedule which is in vogue in San Francisco has been found to be ruinous to individual business interests, and the result has been a determination to form a syndicate and eliminate some of the smaller concerns that the others may have a living show.

Several Conferences.

During the past week there have been several conferences between the representatives of the union and the laundry employers, the last of which took place Saturday. These have come to naught, so far as any prospect of settlement is concerned.

The best that the union people had to offer was an agreement to work 9 1/2 hours for a day's work, but even with this offer there arose the question of employing none but union help, and as the employers declare that during the rush season they are not able to get sufficient help from the union to run their plants, this was not conceded. On this point the employers offer to employ none but union labor where, in case a non-union hand was displaced by union help the latter would, if the employers so elected, have to work one week free that his efficiency might be determined.

It is now the rule that non-union help may be employed in a rush, with the understanding that if such parties do not join the union inside of 15 days after going to work, discharge shall follow.

Further steps on the part of the union are in the hands of the Federated Trades, but just now it does not look as if a settlement were in sight.

Sumpter, May 19.—Chief Engineer West, of the S. V. Railway corps, on Friday made a survey of the railroad right of way through the city. It was found that a number of buildings were partly on the railroad ground. It is understood that all property owners whose buildings extend onto the railroad land will be given notice to remove the same at once.

The situation seems to be a very healthy one and we believe that it is a purchase on all recessions.

FINAL SPEED TESTS.

American Yachts Will Be Put to Trial Spins This Week.

City Island, May 18.—The Reliance expects to take a spin this afternoon, having been cleaned and put overboard into the water early this morning. There is a possibility that the Constitution will not be ready for the race Thursday, as she will not be hauled out until this evening, and the body is undoubtedly very foul, as it has not been cleaned in two years.

The Columbia, due this morning, is at Glen Cove today and may go out for a sail this afternoon. Captain Rhodes, of the Constitution, makes the claim that the Constitution is faster than the Reliance. He says the races in the sound were a poor test, as the wind was fluky, and the result was largely a matter of luck. He says the Reliance has everything to make her remarkably swift.
