"The withdrawal of the Oregon tim-ber lands from location and the plac-ing of the same in the forestry re-serve will work no particular hard-ships on timber locators." said a Ta-coma man who has just returned from a trip to Ashland. Oregon. "I work down there with a timber

"I went down there with a timber locator and a party of 12 people from Tacoma and nine from South Prairie Tacoma and nine from South Prairie and we looked the ground over care-fully. Out of the 21 persons who went there to select timber claims only five concluded to file and I be-lieve that they are making a mistake. The South Prairie men were all ex-periencd in timber matters and not one of them would have anything to one of them would have anything to do with the Oregon timber. Far From Railroad. "To begin with, the land is located 100 miles from a railroad and there is no reason why a railroad should ever be built into the country. Owing to the high altitude of the land it will rever he possible to relate anything never be possible to raise anything there after the timber is removed, for a snowstorm is just as likely to occur on the Fourth of July as on Christmas day. The timber on the land is very light and in the land is very light and experienced men say that not more than 500,000 feet of good clear timber could be secured from any one claim. It would, perhaps, be possible to cut a couple of million feet of scrub lumber from a claim, but on the whole I do not look upon the proposition as a good invest-ment."

This is one of the greatest obtainest undertakings that has been begun in our town for years. The water will be conveyed to the lake by a ditch 6 feet wide at the bottom and 8 feet at the top, from Sheep creek. Another ditch 5 miles in length will bring water from Rock creek when needed. The Morgan lake will make a res-ervoir covering 100 acres and averag-ing 25 feet in depth, containing about 26,000,000 barrels of water. The water will be brought to the reservoir above town through a pipe two miles in length. The pipe will be 24 inches at the dam, reduced to 18 inches at the city reservoir. This water will be run through a water wheel that will generate enough power for all the machinery in town
