STILL UNSETTLED

RIGBY-CLOVE COMPANY STILL OUT WITH UNIONS.

Possibility of a Settlement by the Employees of the Company Becoming Stockholders—A Reasoning and Conciliatory Spirit Seems to Animate Both Sides.

The tangle between the Rigby-Clove people and the Carpenters' Union will in all probability be unraveled tonight at an adjourned meeting of the union.

At the meeting last night the matter was thoroughly discussed from all sides of the question and a desire was expressed that the matter be terminated as speedily and as peacefully as possible. The carpenters are all of friendly feeling toward the foundry people and will welcome any settlement of the question not in violation of their principles. In the past, when the foundry was put on the unfair list, the union felt that they had ample justification for their course of action. While they felt that their principles had been put at naught by the action of some of the employees of the foundry people, they were, and are willing to do anything to pass over the difficulty in any honorable way satisfactory to them.

The foundry men, on the other hand, are just as anxious to come to some agreement. They are willing that their men join the union and are favorable to union labor, believing in the principle of union labor, but they do not feel justified in forcing their men to join an organization against their will. This is the way the matter now stands, the same as it has stood since the opening of the fight.

As a compromise, the foundry people proposed to lay before their men the proposition that they could either join the union, or if they did not wish to do that, they could take stock in the company and thus become members of the corporation. By the terms of the union constitution the members of a corporation do not have to be union men in order to run a fair business.

A committee was appointed by the carpenters and they waited on the men at the foundry this afternoon. The men were called together and the compromise plan laid before them. All the men present signified their desire to become members of the corporation and signed their intention to take out stock in the business. Three men were absent, one an old man not eligible to union membership, and one who claims to be a union man, and one who is not and whose action in the matter is uncertain.

The committee will report its progress this evening when the union meets. What action the union will take on the matter is problematical. The conservative men of the union are very anxious for a settlement and will welcome any good way out of the difficulty. Whether the union will consider the compromise a good way out of the wilderness is another question, though it has been hinted that the proposition would be favorably considered. On the other hand, other members of the union hold that the outlook is gloomy and settlement is uncertain. Here the question balances, waiting for the touch upon the one beam or the other to throw the matter into final adjustment or to hurl it into worse confusion than at present exists. What the outcome will be time will tell.

Statement of Carpenters.
The following statement has been prepared by the carpenters:

To the Public:—Having been appointed a committee by local union No. 1313, Carpenters and Joiners of America, at their regular meeting held in their hall Friday night, May 22, 1903, for the purpose of answering statements made by Mr. G. W. Rigby and published in the East Oregonian of May 22, would say the carpenters' union did not get in any hurry and did not hold any meeting Thursday, May 21, and that the carpenters that were present at a little gathering of men Thursday night and Painters' hall were there by invitation as well as Messrs. Rigby and Clove, with the exceptions of Mr. Means and Mr. Cook, and the facts were developed that demands or rather requests had been made on Mr. Rigby and Clove, but no demand or request was ever made upon Mr. Rigby or Clove to force their employes to unionize and there was evidence, too, that the carpenters' union had a just grievance when they placed the Rigby-Clove Manufacturing Company on the unfair list, but when the matter was explained there seemingly had been a misunderstanding and both sides when they saw it thought it meant beans when it meant bacon.

The members of the carpenters' union desire to see the Rigby-Clove Manufacturing Company prosper as it will benefit the community. It will give employment to quite a number of men if it proves successful and there is not much doubt but what it will, and the carpenters' union has no desire to cast a shadow upon an institution which is a benefit to its members and the community at large, and they do not desire to bow at the shrine of any man or men or set of men. Their motto is to be fair with all men and do nothing that will not stand the light of day.

Now, Messrs. Rigby and Clove, it is only a misunderstanding. We have no desire to injure in the least, in fact, we want to help your enterprise and hope it will be a benefit to Pendleton

PENDLETON WINS.

Wretched Ball Played at Dayton Yesterday.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

Dayton 5,	Pendleton 15.
Walla Walla 1,	Colfax 5

STANDING OF CLUBS.

Club	Plays	Won	Lost	P. C.
Pendleton	14	8	6	57 1/2
Dayton	14	7	7	50
Walla Walla	11	7	4	63 1/2
Colfax	11	6	5	54 1/2

Dayton, Wash., May 23.—Dayton lost in a wretched game that was pretty much void of interest yesterday afternoon. In the second both Whitfield and Collyer were retired from the box. The affair was a slugging exhibition from start to finish, with errors plentifully sandwiched in, the awful total of 15 "flukes" being recorded against both teams. Babe Brown umpired. The score:

Club	R	H	E
Pendleton	18	14	7
Dayton	8	13	8

Batteries: Whitfield, Mead and Voley for Dayton; Collyer, Marquis and Brown for Pendleton.

Walla Walla lost a pretty 10-inning game yesterday at Colfax by 4 to 3. Both teams played fine ball and the game was the best seen on the Colfax grounds this year. Walla Walla used up McGucken and then put Stovall, her big first baseman, in the box. Edwards, who was out of the game yesterday on account of mashed fingers, is catching again. Fisher, who caught yesterday, has a split finger.

Score:

Club	R	H	E
Walla Walla	3	10	5
Colfax	4	9	1

SCORES FOR SPOKANE TRIP.

Four Boys and Girls Who Had Largest Vote at 3 O'clock.

The four high school girls and boys who had the highest vote in the Peoples Warehouse contest at the time of going to press at 3 o'clock, were as follows: Myrtle Digney, 1,127; Josephine Cameron, 252; Edith Johnson, 546; Mabel Reynolds, 824; Furnish Slater, 1,027; Se Williams, 1,025; Edgar Smith, 452; Frank Pierce, 45.

The vote has not been announced from day to day for the reason that the excitement occasioned by the progress of the balloting would have attracted the attention of the scholars from school work, and in deference to the wishes of teachers and for the benefit of the scholars, the result has not been made public before.

Ballots will be received up to 8 o'clock tonight, and the successful candidates notified tomorrow morning.

The party of scholars will be accompanied by a teacher from the public schools, and instructions have been wired to the Spokesman-Review to secure quarters for the party, in advance, and arrange to meet them on the arrival of the train at Spokane.

Old Comrade of President Roosevelt, Joseph Forest, a brother-in-law of County Treasurer Sommerville, will go to Walla Walla on Monday to meet President Roosevelt. Several years ago Mr. Forest was on a month's hunting trip with President Roosevelt and has many entertaining stories to tell of the experiences. He will, if opportunity offers, renew his acquaintance with the president on Monday afternoon.

President's excursion train for Walla Walla leaves O. R. & N. depot at 12 o'clock, noon, Monday, May 25. Returning, leaves Walla Walla at 10 p. m.; $1.40 for round trip. Tickets are also good to return May 26.
