COLD SPRING THROUGHOUT

ALL OF OREGON.

Cherries Dropping From Trees in Wasco County-No Grass in Many Districts-Rain Badly Needed.

The past week has been unfavora ble for crops. Up to the last two days it was too cool and frequent frosts occurred. High wirds were also prevalent, and the rainfall, except in the coast counties and in the Williamette valley, has been scanty. In this district there is no group Class. this district there is no green grass to be found, except near the melting snow, high up in the mountains in the coast counties and in the William-ette valley pasturage is excellent, and the flow of milk in the dairy sections is the best in several years.

The frosts have done some injury to fruit, but it is too early to determine the extent of the damage. Apples have undoubtedly suffered to quite an extent, and complaints of cherries dropping are increasing. Prunes and pears promise well and strawberries and other small fruit will likely give full crops.

Spring sown grain is unusually backward and the fall sown is becoming quite weedy in the Columbia river vailey, where the cold drying winds have retarded growth. More the become in this section, and rain is needed in this section, and also in Southern Oregon, where the also in Southern Oregon, where the corn crop is turning yellow and making a slow growth. In the Willamette valley grain is thrifty and promising. No improvement has been noted in the conditions of hops; some yards are promising, while others present a poor appearance. Rain is badly needed in the Grande Ronde valley, and the crops there are unusually backward, but may yet show up well with ravorable weather conditions. tions.

weeds are smothering a small po of one of the wheat, but good rains in June will bring it out all right; all grains backward, but healthy.

Douglas, Morrow county, H. W. Grable.—Cold. with high winds; crops backward; fruit all right; cardens slow in growing; stock looks well.

Adams, Umatilla county, C. S. Ferguson.—Heavy frost Wednesday; dry wind all cae week, all tender vegetation badly killed; what harm it has done to growing grain can not say; done to growing grain can not say: all fruit of tender nature injured; some apples, cherries, plums and prunes badly hurt; potatoes, beans and young corn frosted; need a good
