For several years he has been employed in the freight department of the same company in Portland. His election was practically unanimous.

Governor Chamberlain's preference was Walter Drennan, a former railroad engineer. No formal vote was taken on the choice of a commissioner, but after discussing the matter, it developed that Dunbar and Moore were in favor of Hoff, and that Chamberlain would be satisfied with that selection, and the matter was in that way settled. Hoff will serve until 1906, when his successor will be elected by the people.

SEATTLE TAKES UP THE FIGHT

Will Force the Navy Department to a Show-Down in the Bremerton Affair.

SAYS CALIFORNIA IS RESPONSIBLE FOR EMBARGO.

Will Appeal to the President—Failing There, Will Drag Her Case Before a Suffering Congress—Is Determined to Hold the Navy Yard—City Was Warned by Government—Rough Element Dominates Roost.

Seattle, June 3.—The Chamber of Commerce today proposed to take up the navy department's embargo against the Bremerton and Puget Sound navy yard, for the purpose of forcing the issue. If no satisfaction can be obtained from the department the case will be appealed to the president. Failing there, they will make an appeal to the next congress. They believe the hostile action is inspired by California in the interest of Mare Island.

While the navy department has repeatedly warned the town of Bremerton that its moral tone was highly distasteful to the government, yet dives have multiplied and the spawn of moral leprosy has filled its dens of vice.

The city authorities seemed powerless to check the immoral tendencies, and when members of the city council openly condemned the rough element and held it responsible for the government's boycott of the place, they were threatened with tar and feathers.

The situation is now taking an acute turn and the answer of the president to Seattle's appeal is awaited with interest.

A dozen carriages swung into line, while an escort of police and militia formed a guard. All the business and residence streets were profusely decorated with flags and festoons. The streets were packed with people and the demonstration kept the president busy bowing his acknowledgements. The procession moved to the site of the new boulder monument erected in commemoration of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate of 1858, where the president delivered an address as the principal feature of the dedicatory exercises. When the ceremonies were concluded the presidential party re-boarded the waiting train and departed from the city amid a storm of cheers.

WILL BE AN AFTERNOON OF GENUINE ENJOYMENT.

Conditions of the Game Bar Out Surgical Instruments, Injunctions and Mandamus—The Official Line-up Is Shown Below—There Is Talk of Unionizing Both Teams.

The doctors and the lawyers have at last announced the competing armies of expert annihilators who will struggle for blood and glory and soreness upon the gladiatorial diamond tomorrow at 2 o'clock sharp. Great pains have been taken, literally speaking, by the opposing teams of professional men in preparing for this game, and it promises to be the grand social and athletic event of the season.

Official Uniform.

The official dress for the players will not be mentioned, but it is something fierce and fine, also cool and airy. No high collars or starched cuffs will be worn and the men who have been raised on the farm insist on going barefoot, claiming that they can run faster that way than otherwise, but the earnest persuasion of the wives and mothers of the men have induced them to at least wear moccasins.

Rules of the Game.

It is a rule of the game that no surgical instruments shall be carried by the doctors, neither shall the lawyers entangle the game with injunction or mandamus proceedings. Part of the latter action may be employed but not in the hearing of the umpire. There is talk of boycotting all the stores and business houses not closing on the afternoon of the game, and the two opposing factions are taking steps to unionize so that they can legally declare a boycott.

Everybody to See the Game.

Everyone is requested to come and attend the game, the whole city is desired, and furthermore, all kinds of noise producing instruments, cannons and Chinese bombs excepted, are to be the order of the day.
