BAKER COUNTY WOOL.

Largest Crop in the History of the County New Coming In.

Baker City, June 4.—The large wool crop in Baker county began to came into the warehouses Sunday from the sheep-shearing camp near the Mabel mine. Every day since large consignments have been sent to the city. The new sheep shearing machines, which are an innovation in Baker county, have proved to be a decided success and will be adopted by the sheepgrowers here another

It is predicted at this early stage one who is thoroughly familiar th the situation, that this year's wool clip, in spite of the accidents to sheep during the latter part of the long winter, will be about as large as usual and of a higher grade. Growers are holding their clips for higher prices than are at present being quoted. The market is firm and it is believed good prices will prevail.

The Lee brothers, W. G. Ayre, Kidder, Gale brothers, and other Baker county growers who are now shearing their sheep by machinery for the first time in the history of the business in this county, at a camp established for the purpose 11 miles east of Baker City, near the Mabel mine, report that the experiment is successful in every particular. They have 25 ma-chines running, and each man handles about 125 sheep per day. Miles Lee, who was in the city yesterday, stated to a reporter that they were highly pleased with the work being done, and that all of them intended to buy their own machines next year.

The exhibit of the Rice Association of America at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be the greatest ever Louis, will be the greatest ever known. A rice kitchen, costing over limit to limit. Public buildings and $20,000, will be constructed. An exprivate residences should show the tensive exhibit of models of the diff-colors of the nation and display the erent machines used in the rice in-dustry will be made.

and afternoon. In fact and in fine, altogether and all around. Pendleton will have the greatest celebration that ever warmed the hearts and stirred the patriotic blood of Eastern Oregon.

Tent on the Island Park.

The committee on general arrangements will erect the big tent bought of the Adventists, on the island below the Main street bridge, and will improve the place and convert the grove into a park for the pleasure of not only the Fourth of July visitors. but for the future enjoyment of the Pendleton people. A platform will be erected for dances and concerts during the summer.

The grounds will be made pleasant and attractive and rustic benches and swings will be scattered among the trees for those who wish to commune together.

Universal Decorations.

On the Fourth it is the intention and the wish of the committees to colors of the nation and display the patriotism and pride of the people.

And again, the people of the city will make it their special and universal endeavor to welcome and to entertain the strangers within our gates. Everyone who comes here to celebrate will be welcomed and re-ceived as brother to brother in a great and common cause, the commemoration of our nation's birth; to monious effort to make the grand success, and an event long to be remembered. To the accomplish-ment of all of this the committees are bending their efforts and devoting their time and the people are responding nobly to their call. Pendleton will have the celebration of the day and the success of the year

TWO CHILDREN DROWNED.

Fractious Horse Crowds Over Railing into Boise River.

Boise, June 4.—A distressing accident occurred Wednesday afternoon on the Ninth street bridge across the Boise river, which resulted in the drowning of two little children.

Mrs. James Stevenson, the wife of the deputy state engineer, was out riding in a carriage, accompanied by her 2-year-old child and another child whose name could not be learned. As they were crossing the bridge on the return from South Bolse the horse became fractious and Mrs. Stevenson jumped out of the carriage to take the horse by the reins and lead it across. As she jumped out the horse vecred to one side and broke over the railing precipitating the two children, carriage and horse into the surging waters below. waters below.

PENDLETON POSTOFFICE

Send in Your Street Number, or Change of Address-Business Rap- days. idly Increasing Both in the City and on the Rural Routes.

The postoffice force is busy at the present time in straightening out as much as may be the tangle resulting from the lack of interest on the part of the public in the matter of their mall delivery.

Careless and Indifferent People.

Since last December, when the aclivery system was put into effect, the people at large have made no general effort to have their mail class and or addressed to their street number. and as a result the carriers are com pelled to keep in personal touch with every one on their respective routes in order to know where to place their mail. In a city the size of Pendle-ton, and in one especially where there is the transient or floating population that there is here, it is ex-tremely difficult for the carriers and the office people to keep track of the mail and its destination. From this lack of attention on the part of the people, the mail service suffers in promptness and accuracy. When a man or a family moves it is left to the carrier to hunt him up and in this way the service is put to the bau. It is the earnest wish and desire of the postoffice people that the public would pay more attention to this matter.

As to the Rural Routes.

The business of the office creasing in volume daily and this is especially true in the rural service. There are at present three routes in operation from the Pendleton office: One to McKay creek, one to Hold-man and one to Pilot Rock. The mail is carried by the stage drivers on these routes, and the mail handled is increasing rapidly as the people come to see the advantage to be derived from system

The McKay and Holdman routes supply 50 to 100 families and this number is being added to daily. The Pilot Rock route is a new one practically and the work done there is not so large, but is growing at a great rate, as the people see the good features of the service.

From now on the postoffice will be a busy place, as the barvest will bring in many people here who will handle both mail and money orders, and the department is preparing for the long, hard pull through the busy and at the same time the hot season.

STAMPS FOR PHILIPPINES.

American Postage Stamps Not Good There After October.

After October 1, 1903, United States tage stamps will not be good in Philippines and stamps marked "Philippines" will not be good in the United States. Letters addressed to soldiers in the islands in many stances have inclosed postage for an answer, but the government now be-lieves it has postoffices so established in the new Pacific possessions that there is no need of this and that residents of the Philippines can ob-

W. Vaile, assistant superintendent of the railroad mail service, who was at one time director general of posts at Manlia, and who established some of the first mail routes in the Philippines, said:

"There is no further need of the use of United States postage in the islands. Philippine stamps can be easily obtained in nearly all of the remote parts of the islands, and no hardship will be caused by the enforcement of the new order.
