STRAY BULLET STRUCK HIM.

A Very Queer Experience of an Idaho Rancher.

While Mr. Fred Wieland was plowing on his farm about six miles north of Rexburg, he heard a distant report of a rifle, says the Capital News. He looked around, but could see no one. At the same time he felt a peculiar sensation about his person. He continued plowing on down the furrow, when he saw that blood was running down his hand onto the plow handle. He examined his arm and found that a bullet had entered the fleshy part of it just below the elbow and came out at the wrist. The bullet then passed on and struck one of the horses in the hind foot. As the blood continued to flow, after wrapping up his arm with his coat, he hitched up his team to the wagon and drove home. He was so weak from the loss of blood that when he entered the house he fainted and fell to the floor.

Wardner's scarlet fever epidemic is abating. No children under 14 years of age are allowed on the streets.

A Eureka Flat Road Supervisor in Trouble.

O. F. Thompson, a prominent Eureka Flat rancher, has been arrested, charged with embezzlement of road funds, he having been a road supervisor. It is alleged that Thompson held out $500 of Walla Walla county funds, the amount consisting of railroad and poll tax funds that he had collected. The commissioners discovered the alleged shortage and called Thompson before them at the last session. He agreed to refund the money, but failing to do this was arrested.

THE BOYCOTT PROBLEM.

Indications That an Understanding Will Yet Be Reached.

It appears that no duly authorized Federated Trades Council ever ordered any boycott of the Rigby-Clove Company. The body which ordered the boycott is said to have been the organization commonly known as the Federal Labor Union, which is not by any means a Federated Labor Council. At the time the boycott was ordered the latter had not been organized.

A Federated Labor Council was organized about a week ago. It will meet in authoritative session tonight, when the whole controversy will be gone over; all the merits and demerits of all parties concerned and their attitude and relation toward the local issues will be considered.
