ALBA HAPPENINGS

MARRIAGE OF WELL-KNOWN
CAMAS PRAIRIE COUPLE.

Saw Mill Shut Down on Account of an Accident—Increasing Market for Horses With Fair Prices Offered—Sale of the Rippey Farm.

Alba, June 8.—Weather is very warm and vegetation is growing rapidly; but in order to have crops we will have to have lots more rain.

Bert Ledgwood and Miss Nellie Ricks were married here last Friday. The bride and groom are well-known young people of Camas valley.

Franklin Ellis, Sr., is moving into town to spend the summer.

Owing to a breakdown the saw mill has not been running for a week, but has started again today. Mr. Viebrock had to send to Portland for some castings which he had ordered by telephone.

John Harvey, who has bought the late J. Lancey place, has moved here with his family.

Increasing Market for Horses.

Timber cruisers from the Palouse country are killing two birds with one stone by negotiating for work horses here. They are offering fair prices. The government buyers are so particular about saddle horses that farmers are a little shy about taking horses to Pendleton for sale.

Gus Shubert, wife and daughter, of Holdman, are visiting relatives here.

G. E. Stocker has returned very much improved in health.

The Jim Rippey place has been sold to a Mr. Wells, of Athena, for $3,000.

WISCONSIN VETERANS' REUNION.

Ex-Union Soldiers in Convention at Chippewa Falls.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 9.—The city is filled with members of the Grand Army of the Republic veterans of the Spanish war and members of the Woman's Relief Corps together with many other visitors. Two names are prominently mentioned for department commander. They are W. H. Bennett of Mineral Point and Geo. Spratt of Sheboygan Falls. Former Governor Scofield's name is also mentioned, but he is not making any active canvass for the honor.

Commander J. H. Agen opened the Grand Army meeting in the opera house this morning with an eloquent address. The reports of the adjutant general and other officers show that the organization in Wisconsin is in a flourishing condition, though the ranks are being slowly but surely thinned by death.

Tonight there will be a monster camp fire in the opera house with addresses by Commander-in-Chief Stewart, General John C. Black of Chicago and other prominent Grand Army men. The encampment will be continued and concluded tomorrow with an interesting program.

DRUMMERS AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Traveling Men From All Over the United States in Session.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The Hoosier capital has capitulated before an invasion of "knights of the grip," who have gathered from all parts of the country in tens and hundreds to attend the annual national convention of the Travelers' Protective Association. President Howard W. Peak called the gathering to order this morning and greeted an audience that filled Tomlinson Hall from floor to roof.

The South and West are particularly well represented, showing the gain in membership which the association is making in those quarters. Reports of officers show a total membership of 22,000 scattered over many states. During the dozen years of its existence the organization has paid out nearly $1,000,000 in indemnities. The convention will be in session three days, the business meetings alternating in the program with features of interesting entertainment.

TEXAS GROCERS IN SESSION.

Association of Business Men From All Over the State.

Waco, Texas, June 9.—Nearly every nook and corner of the state was represented this morning at the opening of the annual convention of the Retail Grocers' Association of Texas. The attendance completely eclipsed that at the Fort Worth convention of a year ago, which evidences in itself the phenomenal growth of the association during the last 12 months.

Business of a routine character occupied the greater part of the day. The gathering was called to order at 9 o'clock by J. H. Riley, president of the Waco association, and addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Sanford and representatives of the local business interests. The response was delivered for the visitors by John P. Kline, of Texarkana, president of the association. Committee reports occupied the afternoon. Tomorrow the association will listen to addresses on trade topics by prominent business men of Texas and other states.

MARGARET LONG, M. D.

Daughter of Ex-Secretary Long Now a Graduated Physician.

Baltimore, Md., June 9.—Miss Margaret Long the pretty daughter of John D. Long, former secretary of the navy, may now write M. D. after her name. After completing a four years' course, during which time she has eschewed the frivolities of society and applied herself studiously to mastering her chosen profession, Miss Long received her diploma today at the graduation exercises of the medical school of Johns Hopkins University. She was one of a half dozen fair graduates among the more numerous representatives of the stronger sex. The commencement exercises were attended by former Secretary Long, Mrs. Long and a number of other relatives and friends of the young woman.

Her Sister is Studying Medicine.

Miss Long entered the medical school four years ago and has taken the entire course with great credit. Her older sister, Miss Helen Long, was a graduate of the Johns Hopkins training school for nurses, and during the Spanish war was connected with the Red Cross society as a nurse. After the war her sister, Miss Margaret, became fascinated with the study of medicine and decided to become a full-fledged physician, and with that purpose entered Johns Hopkins medical school.

Iowa County Recordors.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 9.—At the annual meeting here today of the State Association of County Recordors the following were among the papers presented and discussed: "The Need of a Thorough Organization and How to Perfect It," C. F. Moorman, of Warren county; "Legislation: What Needed and How to Secure the Same," H. L. Harvey, of Harrison county; "The Importance of Records in the Recorder's Office as Compared With Those of Other County Officers," C. W. B. Derr, of Jones county. In addition to these papers and discussions the meeting transacted considerable routine business relating to the affairs of the association.

Druggists at Bloomington.

Bloomington, Ill., June 9.—The members of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association assembled in Bloomington today for their annual meeting. The attitude to be adopted toward the combines and the cut-rate members of the fraternity and measures of legislation particularly affecting the drug trade are among the subjects to receive attention during the sessions, which are to continue through Thursday.
