AWED BY MILITIA. Arizona Strikers Give Up, Losing Every Contention.

Morenci, Ariz., June 13.—The backbone of the strike is broken. The leaders have been arrested and are held charged with inciting riot. They will probably be taken at once to Solomonville for trial by rangers. The situation was brought about by the arrival of the militia, they having a wonderful and immediate effect upon the strikers, who in speeches had previously defied the company officials and laughed at their coming relief. There was no arbitration.

The strikers will probably accept the company's offer of nine hours' pay for eight hours' work and go to work tomorrow. Settlement here means the same result in adjoining camps, which have been idle for two days past. The trouble at Clifton is over.

ARIZONA HAS A CLOUDBURST

Railroad Train is Caught and Doubled Up Like a Horseshoe, But No One is Hurt.

GREAT DESTRUCTION TO ALL KINDS OF PROPERTY.

The Known Death List is Thirty-one, But the Number Drowned May Greatly Exceed That Estimate—Man on Horseback, Five Minutes Ahead of Flood, Saved Many Lives.

Clifton, Ariz., June 13.—Many persons were drowned in the cloudburst that swept this part of the state yesterday. The Baby Gauge Railroad up the canyon to Metcalf was frightfully washed, and on this road occurred the narrowest escape from a big death list.

A train carrying 60 passengers met the flood, which was seen in time for the train to be stopped, allowing the passengers to seek the hillside. The water overturned the train and doubled it up like a horseshoe.

The bodies of many dead are believed to be buried under the trailings from the Arizona Copper Company's mill, and it may be weeks before all the missing can be accounted for.

Death List is Thirty-one.

Twelve bodies of flood victims have been recovered at Clifton, Ariz., but the death list generally is placed at 31. Many of the bodies will never be recovered, although hundreds of men, including many of the striking miners, are engaged in the search. The rush of waters bore most of the bodies from the Chase creek into the San Francisco river.

Harrowing tales of death are reported by people living along Chase creek, one man reporting that he counted 12 people struggling in the water, and believes that all of them were lost. One Mexican woman lost five children who were swept away with the wreckage of their house.

Clifton had its hero on horseback, similar to the man who rode down the valley of Johnstown, Pa., and warned the people of the impending danger. The Clifton hero rode at breakneck speed five minutes ahead of the torrent and shouted to the settlers to flee to higher ground. His warning saved hundreds of lives.

STRIKERS MUST ARBITRATE.

Chicago, June 13.—The Federation of Labor notified the striking waiters at noon today if they persisted in their refusal to arbitrate with the hotel and restaurant owners it would withdraw federation support. The waiters refused all compromises and say they will have union recognition or fight until the union disbands. Practically the entire city is without restaurants or hotels. Thousands are carrying luncheon.

The police have issued an order prohibiting pickets from the Waiters' Union from taking places within two and a half blocks of the affected hotels. Ten arrests were made this morning for violation of the order. Reeder, one of the largest caterers in the city this morning signed the union scale.

THE PIONEERS' REUNION ENDS

Ninth Annual Picnic of Umatilla County Association the Best Ever Held.

RAIN WAS A WELCOME INTERRUPTION TO MEETING.

Mimic War Dance by Painted Youngsters—Ball Game Called Off on Account of the rain—Sports and Music Are Highly Appreciated—Large Crowds in Attendance.

The ninth annual reunion of the Umatilla county pioneers, which closes this evening at Weston, has been the most successful meeting yet held. The picnic began Thursday morning and the attendance increased each day, until the climax was reached this afternoon, when the largest crowd ever assembled on a like occasion at Weston witnessed the closing exercises and sports.

Although the rain Thursday afternoon and Friday interrupted the program, its beneficial effects had a tendency to enliven the crowds and the prospect of good crops added zest to the occasion.

The annual address was delivered by Rev. M. H. Marvin, of Walla Walla on Thursday, and the main exercises of the reunion were held in a large tent stretched across the main street of Weston. Rev. Andreas Bard addressed the reunion Friday.

One of the interesting features of the program was a mimic war dance by Weston boys who were painted up to represent savages.

The Athena band furnished music for the occasion and an excellent local chorus of voices added spice to all the exercises.

The ball game between Adams and Milton stood five for Adams and four for Milton, when the game was called off to make room for the rain.

Joe Baddely won the 100-yard dash against Overdorf and Marssett. Angus McDonald won the shot put on a throw of 37 feet and one inch.

The citizens of Weston made it enjoyable for the pioneers in every conceivable way and the meeting is pronounced by all to be the most successful ever held.

ASK HEAVY DAMAGES.

Suit Against Mining Concerns to Recover Over $26,000.

Portland, June 13.—The case of Ira Lemon, Scott Collins, J. M. Warren, Katie Warren, A. E. and M. Rutter and Pearl Lemon against the Consolidated Bonanza Gold Mines Company, to recover damages, came up for trial in the United States district court this morning.

This is an action in which the plaintiffs seek to recover for the loss of timber alleged to have been their property. They endeavor to show that in January, 1902, they established, in Baker county, what is known as the "Hardly Able" placer mining claim, from which the defendant company afterward cut down and converted into cordwood timber, amounting to 998,400 feet and valued at $8,958.60. They ask damages to the amount of treble this sum, of $26,956.80.

CANAL AT THE DALLES. Government Engineers Now Looking Over the Site.

The Dalles, June 13.—A party of 15 engineers, under William Morris, United States assistant engineer, have arrived in The Dalles for the purpose of surveying the canal above here recommended by the board who recently visited the site. The engineers expect to make their headquarters in the city for several months and go up on the train daily.

The canal will be about eight and a half miles long and will contain several locks, one at the upper end and perhaps two at the lower end. It will probably be 65 feet wide at the bottom, and will be lined with concrete. The minimum depth of water will be something like seven feet. A large part of the canal will have to be hewn out of rock. The canal will be on the river side of the railroad track, and for most of the length will parallel it.

And so another move is made toward the project which has so long been discussed and which means so much to Eastern Oregon. But it is said that it may not be completed for 10 years, and under the most favorable circumstances could not be finished in less than five or six. Remembering their experience with the locks at the Cascades, the people of the Inland Empire will be much surprised if it is completed in double that time. The cost of the work will be about $10,000,000.

A TENEMENT HOUSE HORROR

INCENDIARY FIRE BURNS FOUR PERSONS TO DEATH

Authorities Believe One Fire Bug is Responsible for Over a Hundred Fires—One Injured Has Since Died.

New York, June 13.—Three children and one man were burned to death and four others were seriously injured in a fire of incendiary origin which destroyed a four-story tenement at 113th street today. Four families occupied the building. The fireman found a great quantity of oil-soaked rags in the hallway.

Nearly a hundred fires in which a dozen lives have been lost have occurred in this neighborhood since November last. The authorities believe one fire bug is responsible for all. A coincidence brought out is that this fire is in the heart of Little Italy on the feast day of St. Anthony of Padua, the patron saint of fire. Today a thousand residents of little Italy, supplicated this saint for protection.

One of those injured died in the hospital this forenoon, making the fifth victim.

The Crook county wool clip for this year is now estimated at 3,000,000 pounds, which is slightly below the average, but the shortage in weight is said to be made up in quality as the 1903 clip is a No. 1.—Crook county Journal.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF JURORS EXHAUSTED.

Most Sensational Case Since Famous Tartar Trial of 1895—North end of Union County Depopulated to Attend Trial—Both Men Prominently Connected—Attorneys on Both Sides.

Union, June 13.—The trial of the Grays for the murder of Arch Halgarth near Elgin, is now in progress and has attracted a large crowd to the county seat.

The regular panel of jurors, numbering 30, was exhausted and a special venire of 30 was called, only one of this number being left after the jury was selected.

The evidence of the state was completed at 10 p. m. last night and the defense began its side this morning.

There are 46 witnesses to examine and the case will probably not be finished until Monday night.

It is the most sensational case that has been tried in Union county since Alex Tartar, of Eagle valley, was tried for killing his brother in 1895. Nearly the entire north end of Union county is depopulated, all the residents being in attendance upon the trial.

Both men belonged to prominent families. Both were highly respected and well connected socially and fraternally, and it is one of the most stubbornly contested cases on record in the county.

The attorneys for the defense are T. H. Crawford, of Union; J. D. Slater, of La Grande, and R. J. Slater, of Pendleton. Attorneys for the prosecution are District Attorney Sam White, of Baker City; J. L. Rand, of Baker City; N. C. McLeod, of Elgin, and F. S. Ivanhoe, of La Grande.

Fire at Moro.

On Wednesday night of last week the foundry and machine shop at Moro burned to the ground, loss $6,000. The fire boys of that city did good work at the fire, and all the other buildings surrounding this one were saved. While we are sorry to hear of this fire to our old home, yet we are proud of the boys who form the fire department of that city, of which we had a honor to be chief for six years, as such a boy knows just what his duty is, and how to perform it with intelligence.—Prineville Review.
