SERIES IS CLOSED

SATURDAY AND YESTERDAY PLAYED FAST AND GOOD BALL

Both Were Interesting games and the Spectators Were Amply Repaid for Attending — The Last Game Was the Rubber Between Colfax and Pendleton.

The Colfax-Pendleton series of baseball was closed here last Saturday and yesterday, and the quality of the ball that was put up was excellent and the games were fast and cleanly played. This can be said of the players, but the same cannot be said of the crowd that attended them in its entirety.

The game of Saturday, judging from the score, was an easy one for the Pendleton boys, for they won with a score of 9 to 3. On the morning of next day which was the Sabbath, the visitors evened the thing up a little by winning out, 3 to 2. But the game in the afternoon was the winner and in it the two teams played for the banner for all that there was in them.

In the beginning things assumed a gloomy and a bilious hue for the local team, for the visitors started to walk away with all the runs in the bag. Nine men came to the bat before the Indians awoke to the fact that they were playing the national game, and by that time the boys from up the country had five runs to their credit. Mills hit himself to the first base and Shaw bunted him on to the second station. Case sent a pretty one over the second base and scored Mills. Cline was hit by a pitched ball and filled the bases. Shaw scored on Somers' hit and Case and Cline came in when Druhoh went to the bat. Somers scored while the local boys were retiring the next three batters.

In the second half of the first the left-handed man from the left garden, got a two-base hit and stole third. Brockhoff struck out and Gass went out on a hot grounder to the second baseman and from him to first. Brown went to first on a long fly dropped by the left field and Neagle scored. Wilner fanned. From this time to the sixth inning the game was a steady uphill fight by the boys from home to win and in the last half of that inning they tied the score.

In the seventh inning Somers went into the box and there is where the visitors lost the game. Not that his pitching was bad, but his head was. In the first of the eighth Somers went to second on Taylor's error, and Druhoh scored him on a two-base hit. Druhoh stole third and was scored by the sacrifice of Newell a moment later.

When Pendleton came to the bat, Wilner went out at the first station, and Spiedell took three bases on a passed ball at first and scored on Bradbury's hit. Then the other boys went out to oblige the Colfax mourners.

In the ninth the visitors scored one and then they gave the game to Pendleton. Brockhoff hit for a two-bagger and Gass sacrificed him on to third. Brown hit a single but got two bases on Somers' judgment and Brockhoff scored by the kindness of the same gentleman. Wilner hit a liner through the second base and Brown scored owing to the slowness of Mr. Somers. Then the Indians went out into the field to rest.

In the tenth inning Taylor went into the box and the visitors were soon sent out into the field to give Pendleton a chance to win. Hartman went out to Mills on a foul and Taylor fanned while despair overspread the faces of the faithful. But Neagle saved the day, he and the little boy from the third place to rest. Neagle put out a two-base hit and Brockhoff scored him with a three-bagger, thus winning the game.

It was here that a few rowdies in the crowd showed the excellence of the training they had taken aboard in the days of their youth. Some one had bet a youth named Peterson, who is the possessor of considerable braggadocio, that he was afraid to go out on the diamond and horse-whip the umpire, and to show his nerve, he took a blacksnake whip from a local expressman and waded in. Captain Brown stopped him and peace was about to be declared, when hostilities arose from another quarter. Wilner and Druhoh have been out with each other for some time, and when they got together in the field they immediately mixed.

LEAGUE BALL ABANDONED.

Dayton Has Withdrawn and Other Towns Will Follow Suit.

The Inland Empire Baseball league is a thing of the past, and the last league game of the season was played here yesterday, when Pendleton defeated Colfax by a score of 8 to 7.

This morning the manager of the Dayton team telegraphed Mr. Scott, the manager of the Colfax team not to come to Dayton, as the managers of the team at that place had decided at a meeting last night not to stay in the league, and that they would play no more games this year. This action was taken on account of the heavy expenses of the league and the small gate receipts. For some time the league has not been paying the board of the members of the teams and the expense has all been stood by outside subscription.

The backers of the respective teams could not stand the strain and were forced to take the action of last night.

Walla Walla has been threatening for some time to withdraw, and only the loyalty of some of the local admirers of the team prevented them being the first to pull out some time ago.

What action will be taken by the local fans in the matter is not now known, as the excitement attendant upon the disaster at Heppner has driven all thoughts of ball out of the heads of the men in this city. An effort will be made, however, to hold the team until after the Fourth so that the games scheduled to take place on that day will not lose anything in interest by inferiority of players.

Small Boy Takes a Stroll.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ragan took a little journey this forenoon, much to the worry of its mother. She, in company with another lady, was down town doing some shopping at Teutsch's, and the little 2½-year-old boy was toddling along at his mother's heels. While Mrs. Ragan was busy in the store the little fellow wandered out of the store and up the street. He went across the river to the home of Frank Neagle, where he was taken in and his mother communicated with, but not before that distracted lady had instituted a search party and was scouring the town for her lost child.

Another Story on Hotel St. George.

The Hotel St. George is soon to have another story. George Darveau, the proprietor, will advertise for bids in a few days and work will be pushed with all possible speed. The new story will be built to conform with the rest of the building in appearance and arrangement.

Social Postponed.

The social of the Presbyterian church, which was to have taken place at the home of C. E. Troutman tomorrow evening, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the horror at Heppner.
