COMMERCE - TRADE

FEW AND SLIGHT CHANGES NOTED IN LOCAL MARKETS.

Fruit Market is Variable, as the Kind of Product Varies With Development of Season—Good Butter Has Advanced—Potatoes Climbing, and Onions Out of the Market.

There are but few changes in the local market and those do not amount to much. The trend of the prices are downward on those things which are nearing the last end of their yield and are now at the height of their productiveness. The Hood River strawberry still holds its own at 10 cents a box straight, while the Walla Walla variety has fallen to 10 cents for one, or 25 cents for three boxes. Cherries have come in the market and are selling at from eight to ten cents the box. The Royal Ann cherry is worth 10 cents for each and every box, but the common pie cherry can be bought for three boxes for a quarter.

Onions are out of the market and will be until the new crop has been harvested, though the young onion is still with us and will be for some time yet. Butter has taken a jump with the temperature and can now be bought by the roll for 40 and 50 cents for the gift-edged product. There is butter in the market that can be bought cheaper than that figure, but it is not the kind that would suit the palate of an epicure.

Potatoes are also climbing and are now quoted at 30 cents to $1 per hundred for the best that the market affords. Everything else is at the same stage that it was last week.

The Wheat Trade.

Portland, June 15.—There is nothing doing in the local wheat trade. Exporters are paying more attention to the growing crops than to buying wheat at present. For a time last week it looked as if we were to receive a decided setback on account of the hot winds and lack of rain, but the splendid rains of the latter part of the week, that were quite general throughout the wheat belt, were timely. In some parts the rain came just in the nick of time, as a few days more of dry, hot weather would have caused serious loss. There is no doubt that crops were benefited fully 50 per cent. Quotations are without change and 75¢ is offered for club with two cents more for blue stem, and 76¢ per bushel for valley.

Flour—Market is somewhat firmer the past week as offers are coming in quite freely for early loading and this month and a good part of next month will be record-breakers in the way of shipments to the Orient, mostly to Japan, where all the demand at present exists. There is some call from Central and South American ports, as the last steamer from Tacoma took quite a good-sized cargo to that part of the globe. Millers are having some trouble in securing suitable parcels of wheat for grinding, as stocks are becoming very low, and those that have any for sale demand more money than the same is worth, as prices of flour have not advanced in the same proportion as wheat. Quotations are without change and range from $3.75 to $4.25 per barrel. Millstuffs—Supplies are scarce and only enough stock on hand to meet daily requirements. We quote bran and shorts at $22.50 per ton. Barley—Nothing doing, market dull. A vessel is loaded here with a cargo of barley. That cleans up the crop of last season and whatever remains will be sold off in small lots. Quotations are very difficult to secure, but buyers are willing to buy at $20 per ton for feed. San Francisco Markets. San Francisco, June 15.—The spot wheat market is without change from the previous reports furnished us, and more interest now centers in the grain fields as harvesting progresses. It is doubtful whether the crop will exceed 550,000 tons. The failure of a prominent shipping firm caused some excitement at the time, but the same was only momentary. Millers at present are the only buyers of wheat, as very little remains in the hands of farmers. Quotations for shipping range from $1.33½ to $1.37 per cent, milling from $1.40 to $1.50. Barley—Market is quiet and there is hardly anything doing, as dealers are waiting the advent of the new crop. The barley crop is thought to be a record-breaker, and there is no doubt that the crop will be very large. Quotations for feed are from $1.10 to $1.11 for old and for new $1.07½ to $1.08½, per cental; brewing, $1.15 per cental. Oats—The market is steady but very little offering and prices are for whites $1.20, reds, $1.15 per cental.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, June 15.—The wool market has been very quiet this week, with prices firm. Following are the quotations for leading descriptions: Territory—Idaho, 14@16; medium, 14@16; Wyoming—14@15; medium, 15@17; Utah and Nevada—fine, 14½@15; fine medium, 15½@16; medium, 17½@18½; Colorado, New Mexico, etc.—fine, 16¢; fine medium, 12@15; Mexico—15@16; Arizona—heavy, 13@14; average, 15@16; choice, 17@18; Georgia—21@22¢; Montana—fine choice, 18@18½; staple, 18@18½; medium choice, 18@18½; fine medium choice, 18@18½; down Monday from Delight, Wash..
