NO CELEBRATION

OBSERVANCE CALLED OFF
BY MEETING OF YESTERDAY.

Immediately After Over $1,000 Was Subscribed to the Relief Fund—Ladies Volunteer to Go to Heppner as Nurses, and a Large Number of Men Go as Laborers—All Leave Town This Morning by Special Train.

In response to the telegram from the Pendleton men who are at Heppner, the Progress Club called a meeting at the council chamber yesterday at 4 o'clock for the purpose of calling the celebration off. The purpose of the meeting was stated by the president of the club, R. Alexander, and the action of the club was requested. E. M. Lyons moved that the celebration be indefinitely postponed, and the motion was carried by an unanimous vote.

It was moved that the money which was subscribed by the people of the city be returned pro rata after the expenses already incurred had been paid, and the motion was carried.

T. C. Taylor moved that a committee be appointed for the purpose of raising money for the sufferers and the chair appointed T. C. Taylor, Ed Marshall and Joe Tallman on the committee. They immediately repaired to the office of the recorder and wrote the head for the subscription list, and inside of 10 minutes $525 had been subscribed for the fund. The list was taken around among the business men of the city, and before night over $1,000 had been added to the list.

Before the adjournment of the Progress Club a telegram from the men at Heppner was read by Mr. Cohen, asking for volunteers to go to that place for the purpose of relieving the workers there on Sunday and Monday. In answer to this a meeting was called for the evening at 8 o'clock and at that time the council chamber was jammed to the doors by the men who wanted to respond to the call. The list of the names was taken by the committee and was afterward checked over and only those who were physically able to do the hard work required, and those who were the right kind of men were kept on it. This morning transportation was provided for the crowd and a special car was set aside for their use by the railroad company. The crowd was early at the depot, where each name was checked off and a ticket given. There were 50 more men than were on the list who were anxious to go, but only those whose names were on the list in the hands of the committee were allowed in the car.

In response to the call for nurses a large number of the ladies of the city volunteered to go, and from this list was chosen enough to fill the number asked by the relief committee at Heppner. The list of those going, both men and women, is printed below:

Sporting Magazine.

A. Steinmetz, of San Francisco, is at the Pendleton. Mr. Steinmetz is the representative of the Western Field, a magazine published at San Francisco in the interest of the sport of the Northwest. It is the official organ of the Olympic Club of that city and has run through one year with a circulation of 250,000. It is a neat little magazine and is printed primarily for the betterment of the sport of the West, though it deals with the whole field, north and south.

THE COLLEGE SOLD

PENDLETON BUSINESS COLLEGE CHANGES HANDS.

L. W. Damon and E. Ray Jones, of La Grande, Buy Out H. N. Robinson—Will Add New Department and Change its Name—Mr. Robinson Goes to Montana.

The Pendleton Business College, which has been conducted in this city by H. N. Robinson for the past two years, was sold today to L. W. Damon and E. Ray Jones, proprietors of the Modern School of Commerce of La Grande.

The name of the institution will be changed to the Modern School of Commerce, and the La Grande school will be the actual headquarters for the two schools at first.

Mr. Jones will arrive in Pendleton about July 1 to arrange for the opening of the school on September 7, and will remain in charge of the school here, while Mr. Damon will continue in charge of the La Grande branch.

The present quarters will be occupied and a preparatory and English department will be added to the school for the benefit of those who are not ready to enter the business department and the original courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, penmanship and the fundamental commercial branches taught by Mr. Robinson, will be continued.

Messrs. Damon and Jones have been engaged in school work in La Grande for the past year and feel highly pleased with the opportunity to engage in that business in Pendleton and with the foundation already established by Mr. Robinson, their new enterprise here bids fair to continue to be the leading institution of its kind in Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Robinson will remain in Pendleton until July 1, when he goes to Montana to engage in the coal mining business. He has made many warm friends in this city during his stay here, and his departure will mark an epoch in the educational circles of the city.

The transfer of the property was made through the agency of Wade & Bryson.

Sheep to Seattle.

W. F. Courtney will ship seven carloads of sheep to the Seattle market over the W. & C. R. tomorrow, where they will be sold to the retail trade.

Men's Resort—The regular men's meeting at the Men's Resort will be held tomorrow at 4 o'clock at that place. Rev. G. W. Rigby will speak. All men are cordially invited to attend. E. G. Estabrooks, superintendent.
