G. A. R. STATE CAMP

GRAND ARMY OF REPUBLIC IN SESSION AT PORTLAND.

The Order of the Women's Relief Corps Will Be at Once Organized in Pendleton—Good Prospect Exists That the Next State Encampment Will Meet in This City.

The state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will meet in annual meeting the latter part of this week at Portland for the consideration of the business of the order and the promotion of the fraternal feeling that is a part of the spirit of the organization.

B. F. Renn, J. S. Gurdane and G.
W. Rigby, the latter commander of the Pendleton post, will attend the convention as delegates from this place, and will attempt to secure for this city the next encampment. The old veterans from all over the state gather together to attend the conventions and it would be a fine chance for them to see the great possibilities of this part of the state, and in fact a large number of the members of the order have expressed a desire to come here in preference to the valley, where the meetings are generally held.

Will Organize a Relief Corps.

Last year the convention could have been secured for Pendleton had the local commandery had a Women's Relief Corps here, and this year that objection will be done away with.
Through the efforts of G. W. Rigby, the commander of the Pendleton post, the ladies are to organize. A meeting was to be held this afternoon, at which time the ladies would elect their officers and get the organization on a working basis. The charter arrived this morning, and the arrangements have been made to have the organization start out well equipped for the work that it has to do. Twenty-five ladies have signed the call for the meeting and will become charter members.

Through the efforts of the delegation from here the post is confident of being able to bring back with them the convention for 1904.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Whereas, it has pleased the Great Ruler of the universe to take from
