THE WONDERS WIN

INDIANS GO DOWN IN A NINE-TO-FOUR GAME.

Some Good Plays Made to Sandwich in Among the Errors—Indians Would Have Given the Wonders Close Chase With Two or Three Weak Points Strengthened.

The Wonders and the Indians had a game of ball at the grounds at the end of Alta street Sunday afternoon and it was an exhibition of all colors and various qualities commingled. It was a panoramic view of the white man in the garb of the civilized, of the black man of the kinky wool and the many errors and of the Indian, he of the copper skin and the braided locks and the ability to teach a few of his white brethren how the national game is played on the native heath.

When the game was called by Um pire Holley at 3 o'clock the Wonders took the field and the Indians attempt- ed to send a man to the first station but they were unable to overcome the benders of the tall man in the box and after nine sweeps of the bat they went out into the garden where they cultivated errors for a little time.

Demin and Jackson furnished the battery for the Indians in the first in- ning or two and the sample of their work was well worth the gate re- ceipts.

Demin was the catcher, that is he stood behind the batter and all of the balls that he couldn't dodge he either stopped or else interrupted in their flight. But in the second inning he was retired and Jackson was put on the third bag where he did good work during the rest of the game. McKay took the center position for the In- dians and the way he put the sphere over the plate was a matter of sur- prise to the boys from the town. He is a good pitcher and did good work. Charles Williams did the catching for him and between them they made a very good battery.

It is impossible to give a detailed description of the game for the men went to the bat when they pleased and the thing was mixed in many ways, also the Indian boys all looked alike to the spectators. There were some good plays made and some good players on the Indian side and the Wonders have already made a name- for themselves in their games of the last season.

Jackson on third for the Indians did good work as did McKay and others of the visitors. The Cronin boys did good work for the Wonders as their battery and when R. Cronin tired and went into the field Drake filled the box in a creditable man- ner. One of the features of the game was the base running of the Indians and their quickness on their feet. Johnson Chapman's one-handed catch of a long fly to left field was sensa- tional and as good a play as is usu- ally seen on the field.

Altogether it was an interesting game and had the Indians had one or two men to fill out the weak places in their team they would have made it interesting for the Wonders. The game resulted in a victory for the Wonders by the score of 9 to 4.

Feathered Sentinels.
The enormous increase of tree and plant maladies and the prevalence of the weed problem are both explained by the extinction of the birds whose providentially-assigned vocation is to protect plant life from insect pests and to destroy the seeds of useless weeds in the farmers' fields. Half of the Southern states have adopted laws to protect the native birds. The other half should do so and thus in- vite again the prevalence of these fa- vored sentinels over our fields and or- chards.—Atlanta Constitution.

Too Many Holidays.
When the board of conciliation meets to hear the miners' grievan- ces the operators expect to pre- sent some of their own and ask for their adjustment. The chief of these is that the miners frequently remain away from work without notice, and that many times a year religious and other holidays compel the shutting down of the mines. The operators also complain of petty strikes by driver and breaker boys, which throw the mines idle. Officials of the miners do not treat these com- plaints seriously.—New York World.

Needs of the Boy.
Modern languages have an import- ant place in education. But it is a mistake to make any language but the English compulsory in the lower grades of American public schools. The boy or girl leaving school to go to work at 14 needs, first of all, a healthy body, to be acquired and pro- moted as far as possible by school hygiene and gymnastic drill; after that a thorough grounding in the language of the American people and in the necessary three "R's"—Louis- ville Herald.

Sir Edwin Arnold has recently cele- brated his 71st birthday. Just half a century ago he won the Newdigate prize at Oxford in an initial effort which has been followed by "The Light of Asia," and "The Light of the World." The first of these two great poems was dictated in instalments at the end of days of hard journalistic work.

FAVOR THE CHANGE

STATE CONVENTION ALMOST UNANIMOUS TO THAT EFFECT

One Clergyman and Two Lay Mem- bers Would Adhere to the Old Name of the Church—No Recom- mendation Made Further Than in General Terms.

Rev. W. E. Potwine returned Sun- day evening from Portland, where he has been attending the 15th annual state diocesan convention of the Episcopal church. At that meeting of the representatives of the church the question of the proposed change in the name of the church throughout the United States came up and a recom- mendation was made to the national convention which meets in Boston next year, that the name be changed.

On the vote on the question there were but three dissenting votes, one from the clergy and two from the lay delegates there in attendance. This vote shows the sentiment of the church to be practically unanimous in this state in favor of the change.

The resolution as adopted by the convention is given below, and from it will be seen the trend of the opin- ion of the delegates.
"Resolved, That we do not regard the present title as adequate or sat- isfactory.
"Resolved, That, while we do not regard a change as expedient at this time, yet we do approve of the ef- fort to find a better name.
"Resolved, That we favor as a sub- stitute, should it be found to be gen- erally acceptable, some name incor- porating the term Catholic, because in our opinion it best expresses the character and scope of the teaching of Jesus and the faith of our church.
