DEATH OF G. E. FELL

PASSED AWAY AT 8 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING OF DROPSY.

Had Been Confined to His Bed and Was a Great Sufferer for Over a Year—Is Survived by His Wife and Four Sons.

Charles Edwin Fell, one of Pendleton's oldest and most well known citizens, died at his home on Bush street, after an illness of more than a year, at 8 o'clock this morning.

Charles Edwin Fell was born in Piqua valley, Chester county, Pennsylvania, October 10, 1832. While yet a child he removed with his parents to Bloomington, Ill., where he spent his boyhood and the early years of his manhood.

He was married to Miss Lamanda Deems on May 23, 1854, and in the spring of 1881 he moved to Heppner, where some of his children were living. In 1896 he came to this place, where he lived a retired life until he was appointed postmaster by President McKinley, in December, 1898. He held this office until the appointment of the present official in August, 1902.

Mr. Fell was taken sick on the 27th of May, a year ago, with a peculiar form of rheumatism, from which he never recovered, and from the day that he went to bed was never up except to sit in his chair. The disease attacked his muscles and nerves and literally ate them up. By reason of his illness dropsy was induced, and from this he died. All during the illness he suffered intense pain, which he bore with great fortitude and cheerfulness.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for the greater part of his life, and was a consistent and an earnest worker in the cause of christianity, and was ever ready to give his aid and sympathy for the betterment of the conditions of men.

Besides the aged widow four children survive the death of the father, one child, Ida Fell, having died in the years past.

Edwin Fell and another brother, W. P. Fell, are in Mastodon, Alaska. Dr. J. H. Fell is located at John Day, and one son, W. P. Fell, is a resident of this city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Methodist church, Rev. Warner, of that church, conducting the services. The interment will be made in the Olney cemetery.

AT HOOD RIVER NEXT

STATE ENCAMPMENT OF THE GR. ND ARMY OF REPUBLIC.

Only Five Delegates Were at Portland From Eastern Oregon and They Were Outvoted on Every Proposition—A Colored Man Was Chosen Chaplain of the State Organization.

G. W. Rigby, the commander of the local post of the G. A. R., has returned from Portland where he and Mrs. Rigby went as delegates to the annual encampment of the G. A. R. Relief Corps.

Mr. Rigby reports a very successful and pleasant encampment, and was well pleased with the work done there; but he was disappointed that the next encampment could not have been brought to this city as the delegates from here desired and attempted to have done. There were but five delegates from all of the eastern part of the state, and for this reason the large delegations of the western part of the state were able to locate it as they pleased. Portland contrived the convention and voted as they wished, and though Pendleton put up a hard fight for the honor, it was decided that the next encampment should be held at Hood River. This was done for the reason that the place selected was in the shadow of the city of Portland, and those wishing to attend from the western part of the state could take a little trip there as an outing and not have to go far from home.

It was decided to not ask for anything by the delegates from the eastern part of the state in order that they could bring more pressure to bear on the convention when the selection of the encampment site came up, and for this reason all the officers of the convention were elected from the west, with the exception of one. This was J. S. Gurdane of this city, who was named for a place on the executive committee of the state encampment.

New Corps of Officers.

David Turner, of Newberg, was elected as the commander of the Department of Oregon; F. McDavitt, of Portland, the senior vice commander; R. H. Miller, of Eugene, the junior vice commander, and the Rev. Drew, of Portland, as the chaplain. The latter gentleman was the only colored delegate in the convention and was one of the best speakers of the meeting. At the outbreak of the war he was a slave on one of the Southern plantations and later enlisted from the state of Missouri, serving through the war with credit and distinction. He at the present time has charge of the colored Baptist church in the city of Portland, and is recognized among the members of the clergy to be a man of intelligence and eloquence.

There were about 400 old veterans gathered at the encampment and the W. R. C. had a representation of about 200, while the Ladies of the G. A. R. sent over 100 delegates.

It is the intention of the delegates from this place to attempt to secure for Pendleton the next meeting of the Eastern Oregon Division of the state encampment. The encampment will meet tomorrow at Union for the session of this year, and the delegates from the local post will go there with the determination of securing the next meeting.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES FILED.

O. R. & N. Company is Sued for $3,878.42 by Two Companies.

The Northwestern Warehouse Company and the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company have filed suit against the O. R. & N. Railway Company, through their attorneys, Baljeray & McCourt, for the recovery of damages for the burning of the warehouse and wheat therein contained on the 3d of December last. The plaintiffs allege that the engines of the company were negligently handled or constructed and that they are responsible for the damage.

The warehouse company lost $1,892.86 by the fire, and the insurance company paid an insurance of $1,250, in consequence of which two concerns sue jointly for the total. Sam Davis lost in the same fire $735.56, which sum he has assigned to the plaintiffs in the suit, and which they have incorporated in the complaint.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

Workmen are now busy on the piping for the heating apparatus of the Pendleton hotel. The boilers will soon be here, and the heaters are on the way from the factory. The big building will be heated throughout by steam, and in addition to this a telephone service will be installed in each of the rooms, all connected with the office. It is expected that the work will be finished by the first of October.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Little Daughter of Charles Brotherton, of Athena, Meets Awful Fate.

The little 2-year-old daughter of Charles Brotherton, of Athena, died last night, after lingering a few hours in awful agony from the effects of being burned while playing with a blacksmith forge.

Mr. Brotherton lives on a farm about a mile from Athena, and has a blacksmith's forge in a shed on the place. The little child was playing with hot irons in the fire, and her clothing was caught and burned entirely off before her screams attracted her mother, who was busy in the house, a short distance away.

Her flesh was burned terribly before the flaming garments could be removed.

Everything that medical skill could do was done to relieve her suffering, but it was of no avail, and after about nine hours of terrible agony she died. The funeral was held at Athena this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gwinn leave tomorrow for a month's visit in the East. From there he will go to New York for a week's visit. While in the East Mrs. Gwinn will visit with her relatives. Joe Ell will look after the insurance business during Mr. Gwinn's absence.

AFTER AN EXHIBIT

TEACHERS OF THE STATE WANT AN APPROPRIATION.

Will Ask for $25,000 to Be Applied Toward an Educational Exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition—Superintendent Nowlin is on the Committee Having the Matter in Charge.

At the last meeting of the Eastern Division of the Oregon State Teachers' Association it was decided that the teachers of the state should of right have charge of the educational exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Centennial, and they appointed a committee which should confer with the Western Division of the Teachers' Association at their next meeting and working in harmony with a like committee from that association, secure from the board of directors of the fair their permission to arrange for the exhibit.

In the meantime, however, and before the Western division had met, the fair directors had met, and having come to the same conclusion as the teachers, appointed Professor Young of the State University, as the chairman of a committee to be named by himself, which should have charge of the educational exhibit.

This action took the matter out of the hands of the committee from the eastern teachers, and left them nothing to do. Professor Nowlin of this city, was the chairman of the first committee, and he was put on the committee ordered by the fair board by the chairman, Professor Young.

During the recent session of the Teachers' Association at Portland, the members of the committee got together in an informal manner and discussed the policy to be pursued in the arranging and collecting of the exhibit.

Will Ask for $25,000.

It is the plan of the committee to ask the board for at least $25,000 with which to provide for the expense of the exhibit. This sum will be used to collect the material and to pay the expenses of those who have the matter in their hands, and also to provide for the erection of a building for the housing of the material after it is collected and prepared.

The material of the exhibit is to be gathered from all of the institutions of the state, from the primary grades of the various schools to the post graduate work of the universities. It will include the work of all of the schools, public, private, religious and secular, and will give a comprehensive and adequate exposition of the work and the resources of the entire school system of the state as conducted by the cities and state and by private corporations.

While this is the plan of the committee, nothing definite has been done, and the matter will not be taken up until the meeting of the committee, which is set for some time in September. At that time the matter will be thoroughly gone over, and the men will start at once on the work of preparing the exhibit and arranging for its placement at the fair.

Returned From Teachers' Meeting.

President R. C. French, of the Weston Normal, returned last evening from the meeting of the Western Oregon Teachers' Association. He reports having had a good meeting with a large attendance of educators and is very enthusiastic in speaking of the prospects ahead of the association.

HOTEL BEAT.

Registers at the Hotel Pendleton and Disappears Without Settling.

On Monday last a young man, well dressed, and carrying a good looking suit case, came to Pendleton and registered at C. B. Wells, from San Francisco. He took a meal or two and then all of a sudden was missed by the proprietor of the hotel. He failed to show up for meals and as his key was not in the office, in order to ascertain the difficulty his room was looked into. The key was in the door, but neither man nor suit case were to be found, and as yet they have not made known their whereabouts. It has since been learned that the man is in a habit of paying his board bills in this way, and yesterday Mr. Van Dran telephoned to the houses east and north of here telling them to watch for the man and save their money.

Work Begun on Athena Church.

C. E. Troutman went to Athena this morning, where he will start the stone work on the new church which the Methodists are constructing at that place.
