WATER COMMISSION

THREE THOUSAND FEET OF DITCH WAITING FOR PIPE.

Fifteen Hundred Feet Yet to Be Dug on East Court—Pipe is Expected Here in a Few Days—Yesterday's Session Was Short.

The water commission held its regular monthly meeting last night for the auditing of the usual bills and the consideration of any other business that might come before it. In the absence of the clerk of the meeting, F. B. Clopton, but little was done.

A few of the bills were audited and the chairman, W. H. Jones, and the clerk were given the authority to pay all other outstanding indebtedness, and to attend to any other business that was not transacted at the meeting last night. For the last month J. T. Brown has had over 3,000 feet of ditch open and waiting for the pipe to put in it, but as yet the material has not put in an appearance. The pipe was ordered some time ago from Pittsburg, Pa., and has been on the road for a long time, but has not reached the city. There are 400 feet in the lower end of the city, 1,700 feet on West Court and 1,400 on the north side of the river, that have been dug and are lying open. There is a stretch of 1,500 feet to go in on East Court, but as this is one of the busy streets of the town, it is against the ordinance to open the ditch until the pipe is here and ready to put in the ground.

It is expected that the pipe will be here in a few days and then the work of laying it will be rushed through to completion.

Prices for New Wheat.

The best opinion of grain men in Walla Walla county today is that the first wheat contracts will be at about 50 cents for club and 55 for bluestem. This belief is based upon a continuation of present crop conditions. Last year the first contracts went at 50 cents for club and 55 for bluestem. These prices were hardly more than nominal, however, as they almost immediately went to 52½ cents and 57½ cents.—Walla Walla Union.

Abscess on the Lung.

Mrs. John McEachern, wife of the warehouse and insurance man of Helix, is at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Scheer, of this city. Some time ago an abscess formed on the lung of the little girl, but after some treatment she was considered to be convalescent, when she contracted whooping cough. Yesterday it was not expected that the child could live, but this morning she was better.

ROAD GUIDE BOARDS

LAW COMPELS SUPERVISORS TO PLACE THEM PROPERLY.

Cannot Draw Salary Until County Court is Satisfied That Boards Are in Shape—All Roads Must Be Designated.

Are all the guide boards on county roads kept up in shape? Can the figures be read and does the index finger point in the right direction? Are these boards placed where they are most convenient and useful for the traveling public? Are all county road crossings and junctions plainly designated so that strangers may not go astray?

The Oregon legislature has taken notice of the importance of this little guide to the traveler and has passed a special measure providing that all boards be kept up, directions made legible and correct in order that the people may know where they are at.

The provision regulating the subject of guide boards on county roads is very strict and road supervisors cannot collect their salaries until they have proven to the county court that all boards are in shape, properly indicating the several roads over which they stand sponsor.

Too little care is taken of them in many places. They are the sole and only guides to be found in the unsettled districts where there is no convenient farm house at which the stranger may inquire the way. The public depends upon them for information and they should be correct and permanent.

Only those who have followed the lonely wagon road through the deserts of the West, can realize the comfort afforded by the sight of a shining white guide board, written full of wholesome directions on both sides.

Following is the law of Oregon on the subject:
"Every supervisor shall erect and keep up at the forks of every highway and every crossing of public roads within his road district a guide or finger-board, containing an inscription in legible letters directing the way and specifying the distance to the next town or public place situated on each road respectively; provided, that the road supervisors shall not be paid after submitting their report to the county court until they have shown to the satisfaction of the court that the provisions of this section have been complied with."
