are not in the market. Crop advices from Oregon are that the state will harvest about 80 per cent of that of last year, and from Washington they will not have over 70 per cent. The grain section along the idaho line has received a great deal more rain than other wheat districts on the east slope of the Cascades. Quotations remain nominal, with club at 76c, bluestem 78c and 79c and valley 78c per bushel.

Flour—There is nothing new in this market. The demand for Japan continues good and China is without change, as stocks are being worked Strawberry shortcake is now nothing but the memory of a pleasant dream, for the certies have gone out the market and the lover of the product will have to turn to the pan-iry which the provident housewife has filled in the weeks now past. Now and then some belated farmer comes in to the dealer with a box or change, as stocks are being worke off slowly there. A vessel is her off slowly there. A vessel is here at Portland loading flour to South Africa, and some shipments are going down by steamer to California This, with the usual Oriental shipments, makes up the total of outward business. Other things have gone, some en-tirely and some up. Parsnips have gone out of the market, and old po-tatoes have almost disappeared. But the latter place is filled by new pota-toes that have come in during the last week or two. These are fine in quality and are quoted at 3 cents per pound.

In some sections the returns show better than anticipated at first and in others great disappointment is manifested. The outlook is not very favorable for a crop as good as the previous one, and conservative peo-ple in the trade look for a decrease of 15 per cent.
