JACKSCREWS TO IONE.

Portland Man Sends Needed Articles to Help Repair the Town.

Portland, July 10.—A gentleman from Willow creek valley, who visited friends in Portland recently, brought the word that there were quite a number of dwellings in Lexington and Ione that had been damaged by the flood, and that were owned by poor people, who were now trying to repair them. This repair work was being made doubly hard on account of the fact that the parties did not have jackscrews with which to raise the buildings.

S. K. Pier, of this city, heard of this yesterday and he shipped 10 large jackscrews to be used by those that need them. Mr. Pier kindly consents to allow the Ione and Lexington people to use the tools for one month free of charge.

PRICE ON TRIAL.

Idaho Man Being Tried for Killing His Own Infant.

Lewiston, Idaho, July 10.—The trial of Orrin Price, who shot and killed his 2-year-old son in his mother's arms, two weeks ago, was called yesterday evening.

Price shot at his wife in a fit of jealousy and missing her, killed the baby in her arms. Mrs. Price was in a buggy at the time, preparing to elope with a man named Leach, whom Price also shot in the shoulder, at the same time he shot his child.

The case is exciting a great deal of interest.

TO ASK FOR BETTER SERVICE.

Movement to Petition S. V. R. R. for Two Trains a Day.

Baker City, July 10.—There is a movement on foot to petition the Sumpter Valley Railway Company to put an extra train on between here and Sumpter. It is urged that the present service of one train a day makes it very inconvenient for the business people of this city.

For instance, anyone desiring to transact business in either city has to lose the best part of two days, and remain over night, while if there were a two-train-a-day service it would amount to a great saving of time and money to the average citizen.

Fifteen Bushels Per Acre.

Cutting is about half completed on the Maxwell ranch near Divide. It is thought the 1,000 acres in wheat will yield 15 bushels per acre, and that 30 days will be occupied in heading, only one header being used.—Walla Walla Union.

CITY VS. JOHN ARMSTRONG.

Question of Whether Policeman Armstrong Used Profane Language.

The court of the city is engrossed this afternoon in the consideration of the question as to whether Armstrong did or didn't. The case is that of the city vs. John Armstrong. The charge is disorderly conduct, and the complainant is W. F. Earnhart, backed by Mr. Dunbar.

The complaining witness alleges that Armstrong attempted to arrest a man and that he asked what the matter was. The policeman became abusive and hurled at the questioner an epithet which insinuates that a man is a hybrid by birth and a bad actor in principle, and that by this action the peace and dignity of the city might have been disturbed.

The defendant denies the allegation and claims that a softened mood of conversation was used. He maintains that the witness for the prosecution was hindering him in the discharge of his duties, and that he told him to "attend to his own d—d business, and that he would attend to his" not specifying at the time whether the business that he was attempting to discharge came under the ban or not.

The case is very ably represented for the city by Charles H. Carter, the city attorney, while the defense is represented by the defendant.

FORFEITED HIS BOND.

Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars Bail Money Turned into School Fund.

The circuit court yesterday made an order to the effect that the bond of Ed Haney for the sum of $350 be forfeited, and it will be turned into the school fund.

Haney was under bonds for forging a check on Hartlet & Lang, the men who are running the farm belonging to C. J. Smith, about two months ago. The check was for $20, and was passed at the store on Main street operated by Charles Bond and J. W. Sullivan. He bought a suit of clothes and gave the check in payment, receiving the change, with which he proceeded to get out of the country.

He was to have appeared before the court to plead yesterday, but failed to put in an appearance. By this action he will lose the money and still be liable to the charge if he can be located by the officers.

ELOPED WITH STEP-DAUGHTER.

Strange Family History of Former Pendleton People.

Ten years ago, Mrs. G. W. Sams secured a divorce from her husband in this city, and immediately married L. E. Nolan, who was serving time in the Walla Walla penitentiary for forgery at the time of his courtship with Mrs. Sams.

Sams and his wife had a little daughter, Bessie, 7 years old at that time and after the first flush of anger at his wife's action had passed away, the newly married Nolans and Sams all moved into one house and have lived together ever since, at Walla Walla.

Bessie is now a young woman 17 years of age, and Wednesday evening she and L. E. Nolan, the man who eloped with her mother 10 years ago, eloped to parts unknown and her mother is now grief-stricken over the unhappy event at her home in Walla Walla.

The happy couple were seen by people who knew them, yesterday evening at Adams, and they are supposed to be headed toward this city.

G. W. Sams, whose residence has been invaded twice by the same man, is searching for them, but there is some doubt about the legal action necessary to bring the guilty pair to justice, as Nolan is not a bigamist until he marries the girl and there is no evidence against them until they are caught.

FIFTEEN TONS ICE

DAILY OUTPUT OF THE PENDLETON FACTORY.

Cold Storage Rooms All in Demand—Lighted From Its Own Dynamo—Interesting Account of Ice Making—Ice Storage Room Has a Capacity of Eight Hundred Tons—Extreme Cleanliness Everywhere.

The new cold storage and ice plant is now running to its full capacity, and is turning out 15 tons of pure ice each day. The storage part of the establishment is also running to the limit, and in a few days there will be no room left for the business men of the town are all looking to it for the preservation of their perishable stock. The nine rooms are now all ready for the goods, and are kept at a temperature of from 20 to 33 degrees every hour in the 24.

800 Tons in Storage.

The big ice room is fast being stored with ice for a reserve stock, but as it has a capacity of 800 tons and the local demand must be filled from the daily capacity of 15 tons, it will be seen at a glance that it will be some time before the storage room will be full to the top. However, it presents quite a wintry aspect at the present time, and is a good place to go for a few moments when the sun is hot and one wants to dream of the joys of the Christmas time and the pleasures of the toboggan and the sleigh.

The plant has its new dynamo installed and the place is lighted night and day by its own power. All in all, it is the most complete and modern of ice plants in the state and puts out as much of, not more ice than any of the institutions in Portland.

But the principal thing that impresses the visitor in going over the plant is the cleanliness of the process, and the care taken with the product.

Process of Ice Making.

The ice is made from the steam generated from the boilers. All of the exhaust is run into a receiving tank filled with coke, and from that it passes into another one lined with charcoal. Out of the charcoal tank it goes into a steam condenser, where all of the steam not as yet converted is distilled in a coil of pipes over which a stream of cold water is continually passing. From the steam condenser the water passes into a skimming tank, where all of the oil and other floating impurities which have escaped the cleansing process so far are taken off, and from there it is let into the reboiler, where the water is again heated above the boiling point by a series of steam pipes. From the reboiler the hot water passes into the storage tank at the end of the freezing tank, where it is handy for the filling of the ice buckets.

These buckets each hold 300 pounds of the distilled water, and are suspended in the main freezing tank, which is filled with brine so that the cans are sunk within a few inches of the top in the icy water. All through this brine the cooling pipes are laid, and they are charged with the ammonia from the engines, thus lowering the temperature of the brine to far below the freezing point and turning the distilled water in the cans into ice in the same manner as ice cream is frozen in the freezer.

Working Night and Day.

The factory is now worked night and day and is well satisfied that the people appreciate their efforts for the furnishing of a pure article to the general market and are confident of proving to them the superior quality of their goods. The management will be pleased to show visitors the plant at any time, and to let them see for themselves the wonders of the place.

L. B. Reeder in Baker.

L. B. Reeder, a prominent politician of Pendleton, came up last evening on a brief business visit in this city. He is grand sachem of the Redmen of Oregon and is warmly welcomed by his brethren here.—Baker City Herald.

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old, and spread rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked the eyes and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKLY, Salina, Kan.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

Explained in Simple Fashion.

A French journal cites the following example to show the simplicity of language used by German chemists: "If benzoylnaphtylamide is treated with nitric acid it forms two isomeric monitramidobenzonaphtylamide s, of which one gives monamidobenzonaphtylamide and the other adhydrosodiamidobenzonaphtylamide."—Hygienic Gazette.
