ELGIN WOOL SALE WAS A FROST

Growers Did Not Like Prices and Held On.

Elgin, Or., July 10.—The big pool of Wallowa county wool which was offered for sale here Wednesday was not very eagerly sought after by the representatives of the big woolen mills.

A large number of the Wallowa county woolgrowers had pooled their product, with the expectation that the buyers would give higher prices for the product than if offered in individual lots. The buyers were on hand in force but did not appear to be at all anxious to purchase, offering considerably less than the growers had an opportunity of selling for at the beginning of the season. Prices offered ranged from 12 1/2 to 13 cents and as this was not deemed sufficient by the growers no sales were made. Considerable dissatisfaction appears to exist among the smaller growers over the outcome of the pooling business, which was engineered by some of the larger flockmasters and it now appears as if the combination will go to pieces and the individual growers sell independently.

That the proposition will result to the detriment of the sheepmen is an evident fact, as the handling of the wool by the warehouse men will necessarily be considerably more, and this taken with the freight and insurance charges will eat quite a hole in the profits of this season. After the sale meeting adjourned a number of independent growers disposed of their clips, 13 cents being the top price. This action will have a tendency to relieve the congested conditions in Mays' warehouse until the 21st inst., when another attempt will be made to sell the pooled wool.

HEPPNER WOOL SALES.

Large Amount Sold Yesterday Under Sealed Bid Method.

The second series of wool sales in this city under the sealed bid method, which were advertised for June 22-23, but which were delayed on account of the flood, were pulled off yesterday at the warehouses of the M. C. L. & T. Co. and Heppner & Co., says the Heppner Gazette.

Taking it all the way through the growers were hardly as well satisfied as they were at the previous sales, however, good prices were paid for most of the wools, and most of the offers were accepted. The offer on the McCallum & Bayley lot of 115,000 pounds was rejected, the price offered not being satisfactory. The clips of Andy J. Cook and Joseph Luckman topped the sale at 14 1/2 cents per pound. This was very fine wool and brought the highest price here this season. The following well-known buyers were present: E. Y. Judd, E. W. Brigham, Charles H. Gunn, Alex. Livingstone, Frank Lee, Ben Lee, J. T. Harris, Ferd. Kuhn, William Elbery and M. W. Stock.

AT WORLD'S FAIR

OREGON WIGWAM LIKE INDIAN'S HOME.

Automobile Line Will Be Operated During St. Louis Exposition—Famous Performers Will Recite at Music Hall.

Mr. J. H. Albert, of Salem, Ore., was a visitor at St. Louis this week. He is a member of Oregon's exposition committee and reports that the work of collecting an exhibit is progressing satisfactorily, says the St. Louis Fair publicity committee. The commission has $50,000 at its disposal for Oregon's display at the World's Fair. A wigwam 180 feet high, occupying a ground area 50 by 100 feet, built of trees 200 feet long, is projected for the state building. The big timbers are to cross 180 feet above the ground just as the saplings of the American Indian cross in his wigwam.

Arrangements have been concluded by the exposition with the World's Fair Automobile Company for an automobile service. The automobile company will operate at least 200 machines carrying from two to 40 persons. Steam, gasoline and electricity will be the motive power, different makes of machines being used. Some will run from the business portion of the city to designated stations inside the exposition grounds. Others will be operated entirely within the grounds. The big machines with a capacity of 10 persons will be double-decked trolleybuses. They will stop for passengers at the hotels, Union station and other points in the downtown district. Stations at convenient points will also be supplied in North St. Louis and also in South St. Louis, so that the service will cover the entire city. The routes of the vehicles will be along the finest streets in the city, past points of interest and through the parks.

The automobile concession will not interfere with the intramural railroad or the automobile chair concession.

An appropriation of $450,000 has been made for the musical program of the exposition. Sousa's band is already engaged for four weeks at the commencement, and will probably be engaged for August and October. Engagements will be made with some famous French band and some German or English band for eight weeks each. St. Louis bands and the Choral Symphony Orchestra are also to be employed. Prizes amounting to $30,000 will be awarded for band contests and prizes aggregating $25,000 for choral recitals.

A liberal sum will be devoted to organ recitals by famous performers. Brass band concerts are to be given in the open air, morning, afternoon and evening; orchestral concerts and organ recitals at 4 p. m., alternating each day of the exposition. The orchestra will contain 85 of the best performers drawn from the St. Louis Choral Symphony organization and others of high class, with Mr. Alfred Ernst as conductor. The organ in Festival Hall will be the largest in the world, and in that hall will be held the indoor choral and orchestral concerts, at which famous soloists will be frequently heard.

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—The LaSalle street station, the new railroad passenger terminal at Van Buren and LaSalle streets, will be formally opened to traffic tomorrow. Cattle Thieves at Work.

Reports of depredation of cattle thieves on herds owned by parties in the eastern and central parts of the county keep reaching us, one owner reports a loss of 20. Such work should be investigated and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, and will be. The guilty parties are known, and any more such work will surely result in arrests. Needless to say, the marauders are not Crook county cattlemen nor even residents, but belong to an adjoining county and have practiced this business for several seasons. Such work oftentimes results in a well attended and thoroughly enjoyed necktie party.—Prineville Journal.

California day at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be September 9, the 54th anniversary of the admission of California to the Union. A topographical map of the state of Alabama will form a part of that state's exhibit at the World's Fair.
