TO NATIONAL G. A. R.

Delegates From Pendleton Will Leave Here August 10.

G. W. Rigby and wife, P. P. Collier and wife and J. H. King and wife, of Pendleton, have been elected delegates from Kit Carson post to the national encampment of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., which meet in San Francisco on August 17.

The party will leave Pendleton on August 10, in order to reach San Francisco in time to spend a few days in sight seeing before the convention meets.

Gone to California.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Garretson left this morning for California, where they go in the hope of improving Mrs. Garretson's health. Mr. and Mrs. Garretson have made a host of friends during their residence in the city who will be sorry to see them leave, for their absence will be felt in the business and social circles of the community. As time passes with change of climate and scene, it is hoped by the doctor that the health of his wife will permit his return, and in that case it is the desire of the family to once more settle in Pendleton.

Merchants' Lunch.

During the hot weather you can save your wife the misery of cooking over the hot stove by going to the Merchants' Cafe (formerly the Mazerpa) and getting a hot lunch for 15c, between 11:30 and 2 p. m.

Lively Runaway.

The team hitched to the ice wagon of the Henry Koptke ice storage company, took a spin this afternoon from the Lee street bridge to the flag pole in front of the city hall, against which they brought up with a rush. They ran down Court street and turned onto Cottonwood but in making the turn they were going too fast to keep the middle of the road and as a result ran foul of the flagpole. The front of the wagon was broken up a little, but apart from that and the loss of a small amount of ice, there was no damage done.

Case of Typhoid Fever.

S. A. Kidwell was brought to this city last night from Helix and was taken to the county hospital suffering with an attack of typhoid fever. The young man has been working on a farm near Helix for some time, when he was taken sick and it was thought best to remove him where he could have the proper care. He is not dangerously ill, but will have a long siege before he is able once more to go to work in the field.

Stood Half the Damage.

Dan Hart, who had the misfortune to collide with the team of a fruit peddler yesterday on Main street, breaking the tongue out of his wagon and doing considerable damage, generously paid one-half the bill for repairs on the fruit wagon. Mr. Hart is a poor man and works by day labor to support his family and would have paid the entire bill had he been able.

Huckleberries on the Market.

Charley Johnson, a full-blood Umatilla, brought in several gallons of huckleberries today, which his family gathered on Meacham creek. The berries are of large size and the Indians report an abundant crop. They will not be ripe at Meacham and Kamela for 10 days yet, the ones now on the market coming from the lower foothills.

Fire on North Side.

The grass on the hillside across the river caught from a small fire set out to burn some trash this afternoon, and for a time the residents of that neighborhood had to turn out with wet sacks and fight the flames to keep them from the fences and houses. By their efforts no damage resulted.

Away for His Vacation.

Roy Ritter, of the Savings Bank, left this morning for Portland and Oregon City, where he will spend his vacation. He will visit friends for a few days in the latter place and will attend the meetings of the Chautauqua there, and will then go on to the coast, where his mother and sister are spending the summer.

WHO WILL BUILD?

SPARRING FOR CONTROL OF CORNER OF ALTA AND MAIN.

Interesting Contest on Between Leading Business Men, Both of Whom Wish to Build a Fine Business Block on Southeast Corner.

For some time there have been rumors to the effect that there will be a couple of new business houses built on the property owned by Joseph Basler and John Schmidt, on the corner of Main and Alta streets, but as yet nothing has been done for the reason that there is a deal on between the two owners for the possession of the land. Each of the men want to buy the property of the other, but they cannot agree on the price, and thereby hangs a tale.

Basler has offered to buy Schmidt out, and Schmidt has made advances to Basler with a view of purchase, but when they came to the statement of price they always hung up on the amount. Basler wanted to sell his 50 feet for $11,000, but Schmidt thought it too much. Basler wanted to buy Schmidt's 25 feet for $5,500, but the owner demurred to this on the ground that the price was too small. In the meantime the summer is passing and both are anxious to build, but each wants the whole property.

Conrad Platzwieder has been an interested spectator to the many meetings and conferences of the pair of uncertain property holders, and at last decided to offer his services as a court of arbitration. So he took the two men into a place where men of prominence often go when they want to ponder over an obscure question of finance, and laid bare his plan. The two men were to stand dice, and the man who lost was to sell his property to the other at the figures named by the victor. Each man was given 24 hours in which to think the matter over. At the end of the time Mr. Basler felt lucky, and brought his dice to the place of meeting, but Mr. Schmidt was of a melancholy turn of mind and refused to make the attempt. So the matter stands. The court is disgusted, Basler is disappointed, and the building is yet in the paper stage.

A FREE VACATION

LADY CLERK TO BE SELECTED FOR AN OUTING.

Transportation and Two Weeks' Hotel Expenses Will Be Furnished Free by the East Oregonian to Successful Candidate—Contest Opens Today and Continues Until August 8.

As announced several weeks ago, the East Oregonian will send a lady clerk of this city on a two weeks' vacation to the seaside, during the hot weather, transportation and all hotel expenses to be furnished by this paper, free of charge to the lady selected.

The contest by which the lady to enjoy this outing is to be chosen, begins today and will continue until Saturday evening, August 8, at 9 p. m.

Coupons will be published in the advertisement of the Hotel Breakers, in the Daily East Oregonian, from this date until the contest closes, and the only requirements for voting is that these coupons shall be cut out and presented at this office with the name of the favorite candidate in the blank space left for that purpose. The person having the largest number of coupons to be the winner.

The progress of the contest will be published from time to time and the ballots will be open to the inspection of all interested in the contest.

The person selected must be a lady clerk of the city of Pendleton. That is the only qualification necessary.

The place selected for this free vacation is Hotel Breakers, at North Beach, Washington, one of the very finest resorts on the entire coast. A first-class room, fronting the ocean beach, has been engaged in advance for the lucky contestant. The vacation will be for two weeks, beginning August 10.

Hotel Breakers has been selected on account of its ideal location and the splendid opportunities it presents for two weeks of unalloyed enjoyment.

It is situated at North Beach a regular stop for all trains on the Iwaco railroad. The hotel veranda is only 200 feet from the beach at high tide and all the luxuries and conveniences of a first-class seaside resort are to be enjoyed there.

Transportation over the O. R. & N. from Pendleton to Portland and from Portland to Iwaco on the splendid excursion steamer, T. J. Potter, and from Iwaco to North Beach over the I. R. & N. railroad, will be furnished free by the East Oregonian, and two weeks hotel expenses paid, in hopes that some lady clerk of this city may enjoy an outing as the guest of this paper, at the best place on the coast.

DIDN'T LICK ARMSTRONG.

Man Who Neglected His Horse Pays His Bill and Leaves Town.

Yesterday afternoon a story was told of a man who brought his horse to town and left him standing in the hot sun all the forenoon and part of the afternoon, until the police took pity on the brute and had him put in a stable.

Shortly after the horse had been fed and watered the man hove around the corner and sought the place where he had left his steed, but found it not. He immediately raised the cry of horse thief, but was told that a ducky well-known in the city had led it away, so he hunted the gentleman of color. There he was told that the horse was in the barn, and he went to get it. At the barn he asked who had it put there, and was told that the deed was done by the order of John Armstrong, the policeman. The man was wroth and said that he would go find the policeman and after administering chastisement to him would seek his place of abode, so he led his horse away and sat down on the curb to await the coming of the victim.

Soon a pair of shoes came in his line of vision and a long-tailed coat, and looking far above he met the questioning gaze of Pendleton's tall policeman. He looked a moment, and then rose slowly to his feet, looked once more from the ground up and then said, "Well, I guess it is cool enough for me to be goin'," mounted his horse and rode away.
