Controversy.

A suit was filed this morning by the leckenstein Moyer company, summer must be kie implement House will be removed from the present place on Cottonwood street on Monday next, and the new place will be opened as soon as things can be straightened around.

Mr. Kunkle has leased the whole building and has sub-leased baif of the basement and the store room on the north side of the building to the Despain Wholesale Grocery firm. All the rest of the building will be used by the implement house, and then there will not be room enough for the easy handling of the stock. At the present time the whole of the top floor is filled with new buggies, over three carloads being stored there awaiting sale. This will, perhaps, be the largest stock of any retail house in the state. The wholesale and re-tail houses in Portland carry a larger stock of course, but for a strictly re-tail house it is the biggest

The basement is now full of wagons and farm implements packed away as tight as sardines in a box. In one half of the basement there are two carloads of wagons stored.
