him to extend that line in Oregon and Idaho. It is said he has arranged to open an entirely new country in Central Oregon. The proposed extension in Idaho will be in the nature of a cut-off and will shorten the distance between Montana towns and San Francisco and Portland via the Harriman line over 200 miles. It will cut in two the distance between Boise and Bala City. A tunnel two miles long through the mountains near Sal-constructed.

Probity, Nobility and Ability—Biographical Sketch Noting the Principal Events of a Long and Beautiful Life.The first scene in the last act opened yesterday afternoon, when all hope was abandoned upon the most palpable evidence that dissolution was near. Hushed preparations were at once made for the observance of the last rites. At 2:15 a. m. his holiness was seized with a violent fit of hiccoughing, which was followed by a col-apse. A little later a slight rally followed, but death came at 4:10 a. m.Rome, July 20, 4:10 a. m.—Leo XIII, pope of Rome is dead. The end has been hourly expected for the past 10 days. The splendid vitality of the aged pontiff assisted by the most powerful stimulants, has kept the flickering flame of life in his veins for days beyond the dreams of his physicians. When the last illness attacked him on June 30, his weakened condition caused the gravest fears to be entertained for his recovery.The cardinals were immediately notified of the situation and began a swift and sorrowful journey to the Vatican. Prayers for the recovery of the venerable man were said in all the Catholic churches in Christendom.
The strictest vigil was at once instituted by the attending physicians, Lapponi and Mazzoni.For two days after the attack, his condition remained the same, practically. On the 9th it was announced that there was no possible hope. The operation to relieve the pleura, was weakening in the extreme, and his physical strength was fast ebbing away.On the 10th, the pope surprised the world by arising from his bed and walking about in his room. But this evidence of recuperation did not reassure his physicians, who knew too well that the temporary vitality could last but in the face of his weakened physical condition.Mind Remained Unshaken.
On Friday morning he was worse again and another operation was performed to relieve the gathering suppuration of the pleura. From this time on his condition has constantly developed alarming symptoms.The one colossal tower of strength which has not been shaken to the last by the slowly gathering forces of his disease, is the mind of the pope.In all his illness his mind has been singularly clear and strong. He has dictated messages of good cheer to his people in all parts of the civilized world, and has enjoyed the newspaper reports of his own illness, with a keen appreciation.Ignorant of Volpini's Death.

he inquired of him and was told he was very ill, which caused his hospitality to high deeply and say a blessing for the dear friend and clerk.Volpini would have been secretary

MURDER AND LYNCHING IN WYOMING

Cody, Wyo., July 20.—James Gorman, the murderer of his brother, Tom Gorman, and Walter, the mur-derer of Mrs. Hoover, were lynched and hung by a mob yesterday at Jason. Both victims were buried in the potter's field today. Gorman had been convicted. Walters, against whom the evidence seemed to be conclusive, was being held for trial.
The lynching party congregated atCody and came to Jason in such force that the guard over Gorman and Walters was completely overpowered.
Gorman was captured by Charles Smith and Hal Sweeney on upper shed creek, in the Big Horn mountains. He was worn out and unarmed and made no resistance. After escaping he swam the Big Horn, generally regarded as an impossible feat, and had covered 50 miles of the roughest mountain country.

Drowned.Lewiston, July 20.—Saturday morning John Driesel and Joseph Bus-men, aged 12 and 14 years, were drowned in the Clearwater near its junction with the Snake. The children had started to a shingle mill in the lower end of town to look for light work of some kind and had evidently gone in the water for a bath.The elder boy, Joe Busmen, made a heroic effort to save his companion, when he saw that he was drowning, and both were lost.The bodies were recovered soon after the accident. The two little sons of Professor Talkington lost their lives in the same vicinity.

OLD SOLDIERS PREFERRED.

Attention Called to Order of Presi-missioner Williams, of the internal revenue bureau, by direction of Secretary Shaw, has issued a letter to collectors of internal revenue, calling attention to President Roosevelt's order of January 17, 1902, providing that preference shall be given alike in appointments and retention in the public service to honorably discharged soldiers of the Civil War. Collec-

HAY STACKS BURNED.

Lightning Causes Considerable Loss to John Armstrong.During the electrical storm that passed over the city last night the lightning struck a couple of haystacks in the field belonging to John Armstrong and situated about half a mile from the city. The hay was scattered all over the field, and the stacks were ignited and burned. The hay had just been stacked and was out from 45 acres of ground and was valued at $100. There was no insurance on the property and it will be a total loss.The report that it was the work of hulches is not substantiated, and is not likely for several people watch-Congress.Washington, July 20.—Since the semi-official utterance from Oyster Bay made it practically certain that financial legislation is to be undertaken at the extra session of congress, coincident with conclusive action on the Cuban treaty, there has been renewed speculation as to the exact character of legislation favored by President Roosevelt. It is expected that the president will submit to congress early in November a forceful message pointing out the necessity for additional currency legislation, but thus far nobody has been able to definitely declare the nature of the scheme the president has in mind.

Advocates of the Aldrich bill are claiming that the president will back their pet measure, while the advocates of elastic currency assert with equal force that he is with them, and point to his financial speech at Quincy, Ill., last April in which he said:

Opinion of President.

"Our currency laws recently have been improved by specific declarations intended to secure permanency of values. But this does not imply that these laws may not be still further improved and strengthened. It is well nigh universally admitted that our currency system is wanting in elasticity; that is, the volume does not respond to the varying needs of the country as a whole, nor to the varying needs of different localities.
Our people scarcely need to be reminded that grain raising communities require a larger volume of currency at harvest time than during the summer months. The same principle applies to every industry, to every community. Our currency laws need such modification as will insure the parity of every dollar coined or issued by the government, and such expansion and contraction of our currency as will promptly and automatically respond to the varying demands of commerce. Permanent increases would be dangerous, permanent contraction ruinous; but the needed elasticity must be brought about by provisions which will permit both contraction and expansion as the varying needs of the several communities and business interests may require."

Shaw's Elastic Scheme.

It is currently rumored that Secretary Shaw is now consulting with financial experts in an effort to draft a bill to authorize the issuance of "additional currency" by national banks up to 25 per cent of the amount of their capital. On this the government would place a tax of, say, 5 per cent per annum. Because of this tax banks would only call for the additional currency in time of greatest stringency; that is, interest on loans would have to be higher than 5 per cent to induce a bank to go to the expense of issuing additional currency.
The instant interest rates dropped below 5 per cent, this currency would retire automatically.

East and West Disagree.

The currency fight promises to be protracted, for the two classes of finance reformers in congress represent two ideas. The Western men simply want to provide more money when great crops are to be moved, and when settlements are to be made by Western merchants with Eastern manufacturers and dealers. The Eastern men, it is claimed, are more concerned in establishing the value of other classes of securities than government bonds, and furnishing the basis for a permanent increase of money which can be used in the great promotion schemes of Wall street.
This diversity of opinion in republican ranks cannot be compromised on a moment's notice.
