THE HARVEST OPENS

ONE LOT OF WHEAT BOUGHT AT 63 CENTS.

Crop in the County Will Be at Least Two-Thirds Usual Yield — Straw Will Be Scarce on Account of so Many Combined Harvesters.

The harvest is now well under way and all of the farmers are busy in the vicinity with their barley and wheat. As yet not enough of the yield has been cut to form any idea of the general results of the harvest, but it is safe to say that there will be a good two-thirds crop all over the county in spite of the lack of rain and the recent hot drying weather which will have a tendency to cause the wheat to shatter and lose in the harvesting.

Of course, it is not yet ripe enough to cause much waste in this way, and where the combines are used there is not so much loss as by the old way of handling and rehandling, but at the same time when the straw is so short that the grain has to be cut close to the heads, a good deal is shattered out before the aprons of the combines can get hold of the cut and many of the shorter straws will not be reached at all and thus will be left in the field.

For the reason that some of the straw is so short many of the fields have been cut for hay that have heretofore always been harvested for grain. Had it not been for this arrangement the hay crop would have been far below the average for the reason not only of the dry year and the consequent shortness of the crops but further because the use of so many added combines reduces the yield of straw.

As it is, the straw crop will be a small item in the list this year and the men who have depended on the straw for the wintering of their stock will be forced to buy hay at the market price in order to keep their cattle through the winter.

As yet only one lot of wheat has come into the place and that was a consignment of 1,000 bushels to the Byers Mill. For it Mr. Byers paid 63 cents, but the price is not an indication of what the market will be when the harvest is over and the grain begins to come in earnest.

The load that was received was blue stem, and for that reason the price was a little high.

The general harvest commenced today over the county and it will be a week before the grain begins to come into the warehouses to any great extent. The farmers as a rule have no time to haul to the warehouses or the mills while the machines are in their fields, but as soon as the grain is all sacked and left in the field, the big teams will start for the city with their annual haul for the mills and storage companies.

It is predicted by the mill men and the dealers that the prices for this year will be higher than they were last year and that is to be expected from the fact of the short new crop. At the same time the farmers cannot expect to have the market raise to suit their misfortune for the whole crop of this county would make no difference in the quotations of the general market. If the mill men want to raise the price for local demand it will be as they say, but in any case it is thought that the quotations will be several cents higher than at a corresponding time last year.

Grand Opening Tomorrow.
Owing to the fact that two shows of the same character would not pay in Pendleton, Mr. Shields, through his local manager, Mr. Nelson, has purchased the improvements, erected by Jack Thompson and W. D. Fechter, on the east side of Main street, and will there have his grand opening instead of on the island as previously announced.

Mr. Shields has parks in several of the larger Oregon and Washington cities, but at none of them will he show a more complete or a higher class of specialties than here. Among the best is Professor Montague's Cockatoo circus, which is one of the greatest aggregations of trained birds ever exhibited in this part of the country.

The Kohers give some daring and thrilling high trapeze work. Irene, the child artist, wins all hearts with her clever work. Lynden and Wrenn, the incomparable sketch artists in their sketch, "The New Woman and the New Man," are very clever.

North south and the wonderful singing dog Dixie, is a drawing card. In addition to the above strong program they have beautiful illustrated songs and the ever popular polscope. It will be a treat. Don't miss it.

Ringlings' Circus Coming.
The advertising car of Ringlings' circus is now at Boise City, coming westward. The route will include Pendleton and the bill posters will arrive here about next Sunday.

A Mistake

In shipping our order recently from a large Eastern toilet paper factory, an error was made and a much higher grade paper was sent—a fine tissue worth 12½¢ a roll. Rather than recall the shipment the factory turned over the entire shipment to us at the price of a cheaper grade.

Nothing like it has ever been sold in this city.
