CASHIER IS SHORT.

I. R. & N. Employee at Baker City Goes Wrong and Disappears.

About a week ago the traveling auditor of the O. R. & N. came to Baker City and checked up the accounts of the station, says the Baker City Democrat. It was known at the start that Cashier George W. Breaw was short, and he was dismissed from the service of the company, although he assisted the auditor in checking the station.

Two or three days ago Mr. Breaw left the city, and yet there is nothing to show that he went away on account of his shortage. The exact amount of the shortage is not known, but is understood to be less than $200, although Agent Hallock does not care to talk about the matter until the return of Sheriff Brown, who went in search of the young man. Breaw was bonded by the Guaranty company.

STREET AND BRIDGE

LEE STREET BRIDGE BEEN GREATLY STRENGTHENED.

Ordinance Against Throwing Trash on the Streets Will Be Enforced—Main Street Bridge Needs a New Deck and Needs it at Once, But it Should Be Done Differently.

James Means, the commissioner of streets for the city, has finished the repairs on the Lee street bridge, and it is now open to the public. Since the overhauling that it has received in the last week or two the bridge is in better shape than it has been for some time, and in the estimation of the street commissioner it is as strong, if not stronger now than it was when built.

Better Bridge Than When New.

Before the remodeling the bridge was a two-span structure, and from the result of age and heavy traffic had sagged and was unsafe; but the workmen have cut each span in two and made four spans in the place of the two. In this way the structure is much stronger than with the old, long spans, for the braces of the superstructure are only half as long, and there is on that account not so much swing and play to the body of the bridge as formerly.

Yesterday 12 mules and a combined passed over the structure, and there was not the slightest swing or sway in the whole length from bank to bank.

The approach has been overhauled and new decking put in where it was needed, and the sag taken out from the middle so that it is now straight and in good condition for the heavy work of the harvest season.

Will Enforce Trash Ordinance.

After a long and hard pull the men have got the streets cleaned up from one end of the town to the other; but even now, with all of the work that has been done, it keeps one man busy all of his time to keep the main streets of the city free from piles of paper and other refuse from the stores and the front doors of the various shops over the city. As a general rule all of the trash, or at least a large part of what accumulates in the houses during the day is swept out into the sidewalks and on into the streets, thus compelling the commissioner to keep a man at the work on those streets from day to day.

As there is an ordinance against such practices, it is the intention of the commissioner to warn the business men and all of the people, as far as that is concerned, to desist from the practice, and if they do not heed the warning, but continue the nuisance in defiance of the law, they will have to answer to the law for their defiance.

Main Street Bridge Needs New Deck.

The decking of the Main street bridge is in a bad shape, and it is the wish of the commissioner to remedy the defect as soon as possible, and the matter should be attended to before the farmers begin to haul their grain to the warehouses of the city, for then it will be too late and would entail a great deal of hardship and inconvenience and even loss on them to have the bridge closed to traffic.

The decking of the bridge is made of 4x6 timbers set on edge, and this arrangement was a mistake on the part of the architects of the bridge for the reason that when the roadway becomes as badly worn as it is the present time it cannot be repaired, for a new timber put in place would be at least three inches above the rest of the floor, and when a heavy wagon rose over it and dropped onto the old timbers, again the probability would be that the whole thing would not stop, but would keep on into the bed of the river.

The best way to repair the bridge would be to lay the floor or the main decking, with 4x6 placed flat as it was intended it should go, and over this to lay a super deck of 2x6 reaching from the side of the driveway to the middle. This would make the deck as heavy as before, and would allow of repairs without closing the bridge to travel, for one side could be blocked while the worn top decking could be replaced with new and the other side then remodeled in the same way. In this way the sub-deck or the main floor would never wear out, and would be good for 20 years' travel.

Now is the best time for the work to be done, for all of the machinery has been hauled to the fields and the wheat has not yet begun to be hauled to the mills. In a few weeks this condition will be changed, and the road will be lined with wagons and teams coming from all over the country to the mills and warehouses. Then it would be too late for the bridge to be closed without a great deal of loss to the farmers, and might divert them to the warehouses in other parts of the county. But if the work is not done, there will be trouble when the hauling does commence, for the deck is worn out now and it will not take many heavy loads to cut through the deck to far below the danger point.

SHIELDS' PARK.

Large Crowds Enjoy the Clean and Wholesome Entertainment.

A large and appreciative audience attended Shields' Park last evening, in spite of the threatening weather. The Cockatoo circus was the star feature, followed closely by the Kobers, who are certainly artists.

Little Irene made a great hit and is sure to become very popular during her stay in Pendleton. Lynden and Wrenn excited the audience to considerable applause with their very laughable sketch, "The New Woman and the New Man."

"North, South and Dixie" made a splendid impression as did Mr. Joseph Lee in his illustrated song, "Wearing My Heart Away for You." The moving pictures were excellent.

Take it as a whole, Pendleton has not witnessed a show to equal it, and it certainly will be well patronized. Pendleton can well feel proud of such a clean entertainment.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Some Unknown Attempts to Hold Up A. LaRose, and Escapes.

Last night an unknown man attacked A. LaRose on the corner of Cottonwood and Alta streets, and attempted to rob him. He knocked his intended victim down and started to go through him, but LaRose set up a howl and ran like he was pursued by fiends.

The would-be robber gave chase, out as he reached Main street he was in turn chased, and only made his escape by bolting up the stairway of the Gratz lodging house and down the back way into the dark alley, from where he made his way unnoticed into the back street and out of sight. There is no clue to the man, and no description of him can be given, so that the police are at a loss and cannot trace the matter.

Former Pendletonians.

The Baker City Democrat makes the following complimentary mention of H. H. Hallock and son, formerly of this city: H. H. Hallock is making a record with business men, as agent of the O. R. & N., for his thorough organization and business methods, and is to be congratulated upon having secured such a force of good men in his office. Blaine Hallock his son, has been given the important position of ticket and billing clerk in the office.

Resisted an Officer.

Abe Lawrence was arrested this morning at an early hour for being drunk and disorderly on the streets. When placed under arrest by Policeman Armstrong the fellow became abusive and resisted the arrest, but was overcome by the officer after a struggle and taken to the jail. This morning he was tried by the recorder's court and sentenced to five days in jail for the resistance and five more for being drunk on the streets.

After Blooded Sheep.

Charles Cunningham and W. Pedro left this morning for San Francisco, where Mr. Cunningham will purchase 100 head of the best Merino rams to be found in the market for his herds in this county. It is the intention of the buyer to get the best Merino stock to be found, and mix with the Rambouillet stock that he has on the ranges, making a cross better than the pure bred stock that he now runs.

J. E. Hackett has sold to C. B. Wade for $4,000, about 1,640 acres of land near Yonkum.

New Residence Building.

Mrs. Eliza Teal, of Echo, is building a cottage on Alta street, just across from the Episcopal church. The cottage will be two stories in height and will be modern in every particular. It is designed by C. E. Troutman of this city, and is being constructed as an investment by the owner, she intending to rent the place.

Concentrates for Tacoma Smelter.

The Badger Mining Company have lately shipped out over the W. & C. R. to the Tacoma smelter, two carloads of concentrates for reduction at that place. For some time the teams of the mining men have been hauling the ore to this point for shipment. It is necessary for them to come here for their supplies, and since that is so they save half of the trip by bringing their wagons loaded with the ore for this place. At this time there is almost another car of the concentrates at the depot and more is on the road. As soon as sufficient is accumulated the car will be shipped to the smelter.
