After the next election a revolution will be proclaimed unless the liberals are victorious. Ferdinand's departure is read as a sign of the times. He was badly frightened by numerous anonymous threats, although no actual plot exists.

LUMBER AND COAL TRUSTS

New Organizations Formed for the Control of the Coast Output.

HARRIMAN AND HILL GET INTO A LUMBER COMBINE.

Vast Speculations in Government Timber Lands—A Merger Has Been Effected of All the Larger Coal Mining and Shipping Companies—Advances Made to Smaller Firms.

San Francisco, July 25.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser, E. H. Harriman, T. B. Walker and Jacob Blodgett have joined forces with James Hill and through this combination will practically control the production of coast lumber.

E. W. Eberlin, their agent, took at government figures timber now standing, bought through agents, until now these five, with minor associates, hold the Western lumber market in their hands.

Weyerhaeuser was the means of getting Harriman and Hill together on the deal. Harriman's lands go into the combine with provision to protect his company's creditors, which are pledged Southern Pacific credits.

Coal Merger.

San Francisco, July 25.—Another step in the formation of a trust to control the coal supply on this coast, was taken yesterday when the Western Fuel Company was appointed wholesale distributor for the Beaver-Hill Coal Company.

The Western Fuel Company now is a merger of four different companies. It was formed six months ago, when three local companies pooled their interests and issued stock.

W. C. Norcross, the secretary of the Western Fuel Company, admitted yesterday that the Beaver-Hill coal is now controlled by his company.

"We are the wholesale distributing agent," said he. "Yes, that practically means that we control the output of the mine. The Beaver-Hill Coal Company has not been absorbed by the Western Fuel Company, however."

"Is it the intention of the Western Fuel Company to pool all the coal interests on the Pacific Coast in order to control the local market?" was asked of Norcross.

"Such a report is unfounded and is only the imaginings of people who talk much and know little," was the reply.

Despite the denial of an intention to form a trust, there is a persistent rumor abroad that a number of coal companies on the water front have been asked to join their interests with those of the Western Fuel Company. The independent wholesale coal distributors are reticent when questioned concerning the formation of a trust.

BOSNIAN ARMY DISCIPLINE

INCREDIBLE DISCIPLINE AND DREADFUL SUFFERING.

Nineteen Men Dropped Dead and Forty More Are in the Hospital Out of a Total of 450 Soldiers—Commandant Was Drunk.

Vienna, July 25.—A force of 450 infantrymen who were yesterday drilling on the open campus at Trebinjo, in Bosnia, adjacent to their barracks, suffered dreadfully, and the command was almost dissolved, 19 dying within a few hours, while 40 are in hospitals.

The entire command, on account of the fault of a few, were in disgrace. There had been some breaches of discipline in the way of pranks being played upon prominent citizens and the commandant, and no member of the command could be found who would either acknowledge the fault or give testimony incriminating others. The entire command had been deprived of food 24 hours and were marched upon the campus in the morning and quizzed. Nothing in relation to the breaches of discipline could be ascertained, and the commandant proceeded to put the entire command through the quickstep. This was followed in quick succession by the manual of arms and evolutions.

The men were given no opportunity to slake their thirst, and as the day was extremely hot, their sufferings became intolerable.

A sergeant who interposed a request that the men be allowed water and to doff their heavy winter uniforms, was knocked down with the flat of a sabre and put in irons.

Shortly after the noon hour prostrations began and the men were falling in the ranks. Every case of collapse was first examined, roughly, but thoroughly, to ascertain if there was any possibility of shamming, and the drill went on. Most of those who sunk in the ranks were cases of apoplexy pure and simple, superinduced by the extreme heat and violent and protracted exercises.

Not until the entire command was exhausted and a dozen deaths were reported to the commandant was the affair brought to a close. It is believed the commandant was drunk.

CAPTURED FRED LONG.

He is Accused of Attempting to Rob La Rose Night Before Last.

Fred Long was arrested last night by the sheriff and a deputy at a point near the railroad bridge west of town as the party who attempted to rob La Rose night before last. Yesterday afternoon La Rose swore out a complaint charging Long with the offense, and his arrest followed.

Long maintains that there was no robbery intended, and that he is therefore being held under the wrong charge. He claims that he and La Rose, who had been drinking, had some trouble and that he knocked him down. La Rose called for the police, and in order to escape arrest Long ran from the officer when he pursued him. He had not attempted to rob the complaining witness and had no such intention.

Long was taken before the justice court this morning and his case was set for this afternoon, when he will have his preliminary examination.

NATIVES ATE UP MEXICAN PARTY

Cannibals on Tiburon Island in Gulf of California Feast on Prospectors.

LEGEND OF THE WILD SAVAGES OF TIBURON.

Stole Mexican Women for Wives and Killed Off Native Women—Islands Are Desolate But Supposed to Be Fabulously Rich—No Successful Attempt to Explore Them.

Tucson, Ariz., July 25.—Six Indian prisoners have been brought to Guaymas from Tiburon Island, to be tried for murder and cannibalism. A party of Mexican prospectors which landed on Tiburon several weeks ago, were attacked, killed and partially eaten by the natives.

The governor of Sonora sent a punitive expedition and a severe fight resulted, many Indians being killed. The prisoners are splendid physical specimens.

Tiburon Island is a rocky reef containing about 180 square miles of lava rock and rich volcanic soil, lying in the Gulf of California, 50 miles northwest of Guaymas. The inhabitants are natives of the rocky islets of the gulf, and have harassed the Spanish and Mexicans ever since the western coast of Mexico has been peopled by the whites.

The islands are reputed to be rich in gold, and every attempt of white men to explore them has been met with the most barbarous and cruel repulses. The natives are the most expert oarsmen in the world, and their lives are mostly spent in fishing on the reefs and small islands.

There is an old Spanish legend regarding these people, which accounts for their splendid physical beauty. It is told that a large body of these natives fell upon a Spanish settlement on the Sonora coast, about 100 years ago, killed all the men and taking the women prisoners. The natives were so struck with the beauty of the Spanish women they had taken captive that they killed off every native woman on the island and took the prisoners for wives and the present generation of islanders owe their splendid carriage and physique to their Spanish mothers.

The islands in the gulf are the most desolate portions of the North American continent and repeated attempts have been made by both Americans and Mexicans to explore and prospect the region.

The islanders are known to be cannibals and the Mexicans have a horror of their very name.

WANT DESERT LAND.

The Sand Banks of the Columbia Subject to Contest.

Land along the Columbia river between Hunt's Junction and old Ainsworth at the mouth of the Snake was very much in evidence at the land office yesterday, six contests being filed by residents of this city, says the Statesman. The land lies in the sandy section near the Northern Pacific railway, and until the movement of desert land a few weeks ago was considered worthless. In years past, when homesteads were in order, people rushed to file homesteads upon the river banks, and much of the poorest land was then taken from settlement. As might be expected, nothing came of the filings, the parties ever falling to relinquish after the holdings proved no good. When the recent desert filings began near Pocatello people looked about for every piece of available land, and a number of filings have been made in Walla Walla county. In order to clear the records in case of previous filings, the contests had to be brought, and there is little doubt that any of the original authors will be heard from. The land will be taken as desert to save the contests from successful.
