INCREASING FOREIGN DEMAND FOR COAST WHEAT.

Watermelons and Muskmelons Are Now Staples, But Come High—Tomatoes and Green Corn Are Now Here to Stay Till the End of Their Season—Very Little Variation in Prices.

The only thing about the markets this week that is new is the addition of one or two things that come with the good old summer time, and the passing of the old potato for the new. Watermelons are now in the market, but they have come all the way from California to get there, and are correspondingly high, retailing at from 25 to 50 cents per ton. Muskmelons are also here and they range from 5 to 25 cents each and are small at that. Tomatoes are in the market at 10 cents per pound and green corn can be bought for 30 cents per dozen ears.

A few summer squash and one or two lots of pears have reached the city, but as yet they are so scarce that there are no quotations on them. By next week they will be more plentiful and the common herd may be able to eat and enjoy. Outside of the changes noted nothing has taken place of interest.

Pendleton Retail Grocery Prices. Coffee—Mocha and Java, best, 50c per lb.; next grade, 35c per lb; lower grades coffee, 25c to 15c per lb.; package coffee, and 20c per lb. 3 packages for 50c.

San Francisco Markets. San Francisco, July 30.—The substantial character of the recent advance in prices in the local wheat market is noticeable in the strength with which the higher figures are maintained. The exporting interests have buyers in the country, and in their eagerness to obtain the grain, they are paying even higher rates than the city. Sales of options were rather moderate, but prices scored another advance which was well sustained at the close. Quotations for No. 1 shipping, $1.40 to $1.42 1/2; milling, $1.47 1/2 to $1.50 per cental.

Barley—Market fairly active and prices firm. Receipts are light. No activity is expected for several weeks yet. Harvesting continues and reports are of the best. Quotations for feed firmer at $1.02 1/2 to $1.05; shipping, $1.12 1/2 to $1.17 1/2 per cental.

Boston Wool Market. Boston, July 30.—There is very little change in the wool market here this week, and there is a fair amount of business doing. Quotations: Territory, Idaho, fine, 14@15c; medium fine, 13 1/2@17 1/2c; medium, 18@19c; Wyoming, fine, 14@15c; fine medium, 16 1/2@17 1/2c; medium, 18@18 1/2c. Utah and Nevada fine, 15@16c; fine medium, 17@18c; medium, 19@20c. Dakota, fine, 15@16c; fine medium, 16 1/2@17c; medium, 19@20c. Can't Eat by Herself. The supreme court of New York has just decided against a woman who sued the proprietor of a restaurant for refusing to serve her after 9 o'clock because she was not accompanied by a male escort. It was supposed this separate law had passed into innocuous desuetude, but the justice held that the proprietor acted strictly within his prerogative. The plaintiff based her claim on the civil rights bill, but it seems that this, like the fourteenth amendment, was intended to protect negro men but not white women. As the law stands now a lone woman on the streets of New York who happens to be hungry after 9 o'clock can get a bite only by asking some stray man to accompany her to the restaurant, and if she does this she is likely to be arrested by the police.

Burned Them Up. Fred Hollister, of Mishawaka, Ind., the wealthy merchant who ordered all his tobacco and cigars cremated on account of an alleged spiritual vision, was put to a severe test. Just before several hundred dollars' worth of cigars and tobacco were thrown into the furnace, for incineration a dozen men hurried to Hollister and offered him large amounts in cash for the doomed stock. Every offer was rejected.

The Wheat Trade.

Portland, July 30.—The week has passed without any change in the situation as mostly all the old stocks have passed into the hands of millers and exporters. We cannot look for a liberal export movement much before October. Exporters have great difficulty in securing options on wheat at present, as the farmer is quite a plutocrat this season. It is unnecessary to say that present values will tend to delay action or free selling and probably sellers will hold off for some time before parting with their wheat, as all of them anticipate higher prices than the market will warrant and it remains to be seen whether the urgency to sell is less or greater than the pressure to buy. Farmers will no doubt get all the market can stand after allowing for a legitimate profit for handling and usual risk of shipment. Quotations for old wheat are 78c for club, 81c for blue stem, 79c per bushel for valley. Where harvesting is going on yields are not turning out as well as expected. There is no doubt that the crop will show a shortage of one year ago.

Flour—The demand for flour the past week has been very good and cables are some better. Heavy orders have been placed for August and September shipments for various points in the Orient and as soon as new wheat is marketed the mills will all be in full operation. A number of the large mills in the interior who have wheat are closed down, as the water is too low for them to operate. Prices are without change and rule from $2.85 to $4.35 per barrel. Quality and brands considered, stocks of flour on hand at present are smaller than for many years past.

Millstuffs—Owing to the scarcity of wheat very few mills are in operation and these are unable to supply the demand at present, as feed is very scarce and the demand from interior points in Oregon and Washington is also very good. Prices are firm and show no change from previous quotations. Bran and shorts, $22.50 per ton, middlings $26.50.

Barley—The harvest is on. Barley is beginning to arrive in country warehouses. As to prices for feed or brewing, none have as yet been made by buyers and it is probable that $18 per ton will be the figure paid for feed. The quality received is reported as being very good. The yields are turning out better than many expected.
