BOQUETS FROZEN IN ICE.

Novel Curios From Ross Ice and Cold Storage Plant.

All the stores dealing in cooling summer drinks had curios on exhibition today in the shape of ice blocks frozen by the Ross Ice & Cold Storage Company of this city. Each block has in the center a flower frozen in the ice which makes a very pretty picture.

When the cans were filled at the freezing tank the boquets were suspended in the center and frozen in the middle of the 300-pound cakes. Flowers and fruits were displayed in the different windows. Mr. Schmidt will have the champion curio Monday, for at that time he will have a large block, in the center of which is a cluster of fruit and flowers, while the top is hollowed out in the form of a punch bowl, from which punch will be served.

Umatilla County Lumber.

The mountain sawmill industry east of Weston is active and flourishing this year. Besides the large enterprise of the Fletcher Lumber Co., there are three smaller mills, those of Smith & Johnson on Weston mountain, and Ollinger on Linkton mountain. Their combined output, about 50,000 feet daily, commands ready sale at increased prices over last year's market.—Weston Leader.

NOT GOOD, NOT HERE

They Lead the Procession

The popularity of Swift's products among all classes is very largely due to the absolutely clean and hygienic conditions under which each carcass is dressed, and the meat and the food products prepared and inspected. This is particularly true of Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon. From the sleek, corn-fed hogs in the pens, the carefully selected hams and bacon in the smokehouse, the final expert inspection by the U. S. government, and, lastly, the dainty wrapping in parchment paper, each step in the evolution of these nutritious and appetizing products is a guarantee that they will always please.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

BRIEF SKETCH OF PENDLETON'S ORGANIZATION.

Launched With 31 Members in Spring of 1893—Laid Out Some of the Principal Roads in Umatilla County—Was Instrumental in Abolishing Fee System.

In the spring of 1893 Pendleton was a bustling city, more so than at present, in a way, for then the people of the city all were striving to make their fortunes by the enlargement and upbuilding of the city and in the midst of this high stage of activity the Pendleton Commercial Association had its birth.

The association was formed by the chief men of the town and its purpose was to foster the best interests of the city and the state. At its meetings, problems tending to upbuild the city and benefit the inhabitants of Pendleton and the county were discussed and most of the innovations in the government of the city and the county and most of the improvements in and around here can be traced to the door of this organization.

The first meeting of the association was held in the rooms that it now occupies, and at that meeting 31 of the principal business and professional men of the city were present. Plans of organization were discussed and the constitution and by-laws were drawn up and signed by those who had attended the first meeting.

The charter members of the club were: T. F. Rourke, T. C. Taylor, R. B. Beattie, Leon Cohen, Jesse Failing, J. H. Robinson, C. S. Jackson, J. V. Tallman, R. Alexander, T. Rothchild, E. I. Boyd, R. G. Cox, F. W. Vincent, Charles H. Carter, H. L. Hexter, James H. Howard, S. O. Gould, H. Shulthis, J. R. Dickson, Robert P. Forster, Frank Frazier, James F. Johnson, Edward K. Ash, F. F. Wamsley, R. G. Thompson, G. A. Hartman, George Ash, H. E. Bickers, W. P. Lathrop, J. A. Borie and W. H. Carmine.

One of the first things that the new association took under their care was the question of the county roads. At that time the roads of the county were either not on the map or they were in such a condition as to shut the city off from the surrounding country during the winter months, and the association undertook to better the matter. A committee consisting of S. P. Sturgis, James A. Fee and C. S. Jackson was appointed and they surveyed the present county roads leading to Adams and Long Creek and having made the survey, carried the project through until the roads were opened.

Another thing that the association did was to appoint a committee which went over the books of the county officials and compiled data showing the vast waste to the tax-payers from the old fee system. Through the exertions of this committee and the association the matter was taken before the legislature and the present law was passed, abolishing the old plan for the new.

Most of the business enterprises of the city were brought here as the result of the association, though it did not interest itself primarily in such ventures. It confined its attention more strictly to the larger matters that were for the good of the people of the county and through them to the city.

Those parts of the city and county government which were out of adjustment and needed repairs, those public projects which were for the good of the community at large were the things that demanded the attention and effort of the association and when those things had been put to rights the conditions of this part of the state became more conservative and settled.

It has secured and installed in its rooms a large and varied library and pleasant furnishings and is the only club in the city. At present the association has about 70 active members, though the list of library members and non-residents would swell the total to many times that number.

One of the public enterprises it has in view for the coming winter is the erection of a splendid club building. The matter was discussed last year, but owing to the stress of public and private business, was temporarily abandoned. Plans for a magnificent building have been drawn and the matter of building it will be definitely settled in the near future.

OFFENSIVE SEWAGE.

Chinese Gardener Receives Attention From City Authorities.

The residents in the west end of the city are complaining of the irrigation ditch watering the patch of ground rented by a Chinaman who has a truck garden at that place.

The intake of the ditch is below the outlet of the sewer and the sewage runs into it and spreading across the fields and along the sides of the ditch, soon become very offensive, when acted upon by the sun. Fish and eels get into the ditch and die along the whole length of it, and as they putrify lend their odor to the air.

The street commissioner has notified the Chinaman that he will have to clean up the ditch and put in a screen in the intake. The mayor will view the place this afternoon and will doubtless make some suggestion governing the matter at the next meeting of the council.

Federated Trades Appoint Committees and Begin Arrangements for the Program—Will Be Fully Advertised.

The labor unions of the city have decided to have a celebration here on Labor Day, and at the meeting of the Federation night before last plans were discussed and committees appointed for the work of getting the matter in hand.

It is the intention of those at the head of the work to have one of the best celebrations that has been in the city for some time and they are going ahead on that plan. The program will be printed and the celebration will be advertised all over the surrounding country so that on that day all of the people will come in from the farms and the ranches of the vicinity to help make the day a success.

Special rates will be secured from the railroads if possible and the towns of the county will be asked to come and celebrate with the unions of the city.

Music and speaking will be secured and in fact it is expected and hoped that all of the details from the speech of the day to the amusements on the streets and the games will be enjoyed by all.

The following committees were appointed to have charge of the various parts of the work and they are now making their plans for the opening of the campaign: The general committee is composed of all of the delegates to the Labor Council; the ways and means, W. Wonderful Radish.

Postmaster Ferguson brought in the prize radish of the season. It has three well-developed bulbs, the upper good for early spring, the second for late spring, while the lower one is just now in its prime. There seems to have been a fourth forming for early winter, but was cut short by being pulled up. He calls it an all-round-year radish.—Adams Advance.

LOCATING AT WESTON.

W. T. Sellers Disposes of Interest in Drug Store at Pilot Rock.

W. T. Sellers, who has been associated with F. W. Schmidt in the drug business at Pilot Rock, since last February, has sold out to Mr. Schmidt and is locating permanently in Weston, where he will take advantage of the excellent school to be found there.

Mr. Sellers has been a resident of Umatilla county for 13 years, living until last February at Ukiah, and while he is desirous of finding as near a perfect country as possible, he feels that it is not necessary to leave this county to accomplish that purpose, and consequently settles in the best wheat belt in the West, and will hereafter be found at Weston.

He has many friends who are glad to know that in all his frequent moves, he still remains within the borders of Umatilla county.
