GOOD SHOES CHEAP.

MEDAL SHOOT YESTERDAY.

Sam Thompson Won With Twenty-Five Straight—Others Shot Well.
The medal shoot of the Pendleton Sportsmen's Association was a decided success, and some good shooting was done during the day. Sam Thompson won the medal with a score of 25 straight, but then he was only two ahead of the next man in the line. There were five men that lined up at the stand during the contest, and all of them made good records. Fred Waite was the second man on the list with a score of 23 out of 25; J. M. Spence killed 22 of the little pigeons, and H. J. Stillman and J. V. Tallman got 21 apiece. The club will have its next regular medal shoot on the second Sunday of the coming month.

Returned From Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Perry and family returned Saturday from an extended visit at the home of Mr. Perry's father, at Princeton, Mo. Mr. Perry was called to the old home by the news of the fast falling health of his father, and after his arrival staid until the end. Mr. Perry is again filling the position of salesman for M. A. Rader.

Going to Idaho.

Mrs. J. S. Mathews left Sunday morning to join her husband at Chatcolet, Idaho. Mr. Mathews has charge of a crew of men on the O. R. & N. and Mrs. Mathews will remain with him at different point on the road, permanently.

NOT GOOD, NOT HERE

They Lead the Procession

The popularity of Swift's products among all classes is very largely due to the absolutely clean and hygienic conditions under which each carcass is dressed, and the meat and the food products prepared and inspected. This is particularly true of Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon. From the sleek, corn-fed hogs in the pens, the carefully selected hams and bacon in the smokehouse, the final expert inspection by the U. S. government, and, lastly, the dainty wrapping in parchment paper, each step in the evolution of these nutritious and appetizing products is a guarantee that they will always please.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS

ISSUES RAISED UNDER THE NEW KUYKENDALL LAW.

Shall the Pendleton and the Seven Nearest Outlying Districts Consolidate—Would Increase This District's Taxable Property by Half a Million Dollars, and Add 218 Pupils to It.

For some the new Kuykendall law providing for the consolidation of the school districts of the state where it is desirable, has been under discussion by the residents of the districts adjacent to Pendleton, and it has begun to look as though some move would be taken to incorporate these neighboring schools into one large district.

The law provides that when there are not enough pupils in a district to maintain a good school that two or more districts may be merged into one, and all of the expenses may be met by the consolidated districts. Special provision is made for the transportation of the pupils from the outside district to the large one containing the schoolhouse. According to the law the merged districts will mutually assume the debts held against one or all of the districts merged, if there is a debt existent, and the taxes are to be levied equally on all property for the maintenance of the school.

The people of this city are anxious for the change to be made, and think it is practicable. There are five or six districts surrounding the Pendleton district which are rich in taxable property, but where there are not enough children to support a good school. The Birch creek neighborhood has 50 pupils, McKay 35, Rigby 29, Tutilla 30, Fulton 15, Gurdane 25, and the Despain school 34, making a total of 218 pupils and representing $500,000 of taxable property. If all this land was brought into the Pendleton district it would raise the taxable property of the consolidated district to $2,000,000.

Last year the tax specially levied to carry on the Pendleton schools was 10 mills, and if the new plan was to be adopted it would be probably reduced to 5 mills. The county tax of $8 and the state tax of $2 as a rule, lacks about $12 of being enough to run the school for the year, and the board has to raise $10,000 each year by special tax for the maintenance of the system. If the districts were consolidated there would be a fourth more property to tax, and the rate would be that much less. It is argued that it would be nothing more than fair for the districts to merge since a majority of the people in the districts send their children to the Pendleton schools anyway. They get the benefit of the schools of this city, and do not have to carry any of the burden. But, on the other hand, some of those who are the most interested in the change are those who are residents of the affected districts who have children that are of school age.

The matter of the conveyances has been talked a little, and it is thought that all of the children who would attend the schools could be hauled into the city and then out again in wagons, at a small cost, and without any inconvenience to the children. The longest trip that would have to be made would be about six miles, and as the roads are in good condition the year around, it is thought feasible by those interested.

As yet the matter is in the embryonic stage, but the parents of the districts will attempt to have the matter settled by the time the schools are convened in the fall. If it cannot be arranged this year it will surely be done next. In order to make the change a special election will have to be called, and the matter submitted to all of the parties. The Pendleton people will have to vote on the proposition as to whether or not they will receive the outside districts, and the outside people will have to decide whether or not they will come in. Some of the large land holders in the districts are not in favor of the move, though all of the residents who have children are as a rule anxious for the change.

If the change is made there will not be room in the city schools for the reception of the added number of pupils, and larger and better buildings will have to be constructed.

POLICE COURT.

Two Cases With a Total of Twenty-five Days in Jail.

Richard Ryan, the bad man of the town, was up against the city court this morning, and this time got pretty near the limit of the law. This is the third time that he has faced the police judge. The first time he spent 10 days in the city jail for drunkenness and fighting. The day he was released after having served the first sentence, he tried to rob the Queen hotel, but was run out and arrested before he had got anything and was therefore sent to the city jail the second time for plain drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He has been having 10 days' board on the city as the result of that, and now is again in trouble.

Ryan's term was to have expired Sunday, but he was let out on the request of a contractor here who said he wanted him to go to work on the new brick building at Athena, which is being built there by R. B. May, of this city. In the evening the man started to celebrate the fact that his freedom had been given him, and a sa result got into an argument with a Swede who has been working for the water company. He was the bigger man of the two, and by the time the police got to the scene the Swede was out of the fight. The strange part of the thing is that Ryan was broke when he went into the fight, and when he was searched at the office he had $2 in his pockets. When the judge gave him his sentence he shook his head and asked if his honor had not made a mistake. "I am not a millionaire, your honor, so I guess I'll have to board with you for a while," he said as he was led away to the jail for the commencement of his 20-day feast on bread and water.

James Parker was fined $10 for fighting in the Last Chance saloon last night, and in default of the amount of the fine will spend five days as the guest of the city.

NEW PRIMARY TEACHER.

An Expert From Boise Will Succeed Miss Parrott.

At the meeting of the school board held last Friday evening, Miss Anna Lingenfelter, of Boise City, Idaho, was elected to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Parrott last fall. For some time the directors have been looking for a teacher to take charge of the primary work who has made a specialty of that part of the school instruction, and after going over many applications at last decided on Miss Lingenfelter as the one best suited for the place.

Miss Lingenfelter is a teacher of extended experience, and comes with the best of references as one being amply able to manage and teach the beginner.

Sheriff Taylor Not Notified.

The Seattle Times contains the following mention of the arrest of a man in that city supposed to be Stone, wanted here for forgery: "On suspicion that he might be Delbert Stone, wanted in Pendleton, Or., a man giving his name as Harry Lennox was arrested last night by Policeman Wilson. A letter enclosing a photograph of Stone and written by the sheriff at Pendleton, was recently received by the police department. This does not state what crime the man committed, but says a warrant is out and he is wanted badly. The prisoner will be held for identification." Sheriff T. D. Taylor has not been notified of the arrest and when seen today knew nothing of the matter farther than the news item published as above.

Niece of Judge Fitz Gerald.

Misses Maise and Cora Murphy, of Portland, returned to their home this morning, after a week spent as the guests of their uncle, Thomas Fitz Gerald. Miss Cora Murphy was elected one of the teachers for the coming year in the public schools of this city. She has a state diploma, both in this state and in Washington, and is recognized as a capable and efficient teacher. She will return to the city soon, to make arrangements for her work of the winter.

Sheep Shipped From Meacham.

Joe Connolly is shipping 10 cars of fat sheep from Meacham today to the Chicago markets, and T. F. Boylen is loading four cars at the same place today for San Francisco. Boylen & Boettcher shipped 10 cars from Meacham to Chicago Saturday, and several more lots will be loaded there this week. The sheep have been ranged in the Blue mountains and are in prime condition.

Cheap Rates to San Francisco.

Many Eastern Oregon people are taking advantage of the cheap rates now in effect over the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific to San Francisco, on account of the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The O. R. & N. steamers leaving Portland on the 10th and 15th of August are filled to overflowing and no space can be sold on either of them.

Something Doing.

Yesterday the Sumpter stage came in with passengers hanging on in every position possible. This looks like old times.—Granite Gem.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Good Wheat Around Adams.

W. H. Blakley returned to his home at Eastland this morning, after a visit in this city over Sunday. Mr. Blakley reports the harvest as well started in the section around Adams and that the crops are better than it was expected that they would be. The wheat averages about 30 bushels to the acre, and is all fine grain, plump and heavy. The warehouses are beginning to fill up, and the farmers are feeling good over the outlook of the season.

Professor Conklin in Town.

E. B. Conklin, the principal of the Pendleton schools, has returned from his ranch on the Minam river in Union county, and will attend to a little business in the city for a day or so before returning to his summer home and his family.
