NOT GOOD, NOT HERE

They Lead the Procession

The popularity of Swift's products among all classes is very largely due to the absolutely clean and hygienic conditions under which each carcass is dressed, and the meat and the food products prepared and inspected. This is particularly true of Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon. From the sleek, corn-fed hogs in the pens, the carefully selected hams and bacon in the smokehouse, the final expert inspection by the U. S. government, and, lastly, the dainty wrapping in parchment paper, each step in the evolution of these nutritious and appetizing products is a guarantee that they will always please.

COUNCIL MEETING

REDECKING MAIN STREET
BRIDGE IS DECIDED UPON.

Permit issued to Campbell Bros. for Show Privileges—Will Take Measures to Finish Sidewalking the West Side of Garfield Street—W. J. Sewell Appointed Councilman to Fill the Vacancy.

The council met last night more for the purpose of filling the vacancy in the fourth ward, than for anything else, for there was no business to transact of any importance outside of that one act.

After some skirmishing to find a quorum the meeting was called and the first thing that was done was the nomination of W. J. Sewell for the vacancy. He was elected with the unanimous voice of the members present.

The advance agent of the Campbell Brothers' shows was at the meeting and asked for a permit to have his show in the city. The council granted the permission on the rate of $40 for the main show and $10 additional for each side show.

After those two matters of business had been transacted, the council settled down for a friendly chat and talked over the things that should be done and many that should be undone for the betterment of the conditions of the city.

Intrusion of Poles and Wires.

Complaint has been made by the contractors of the city that the lines and poles of the telegraph and telephone companies are so close to the sides of the buildings that when it becomes necessary to erect scaffolding by the side of the buildings for additions and repairs the wires and cross-arms are too close to permit their proper construction. The old ordinances were looked up and it was found that there was no restriction placed on the companies, and at a future time measures will be taken to protect the property owners against the encroachment of the companies and their wires.

The street sprinkling was discussed and the councilmen were of the opinion that the drivers of the wagons were becoming too social in disposition, as they would load their wagons in pairs and one would wait for the other while the second wagon was being filled at the stand-pipes. It was thought that they should keep their wagons running as much of the time as possible, in order to lay as much of the dust as might be.

Sidewalk on Garfield.

John Kees was present and asked that some action be taken by the council in regard to the sidewalk on the west side of Garfield street, near Jackson. Some time since the property owners had signed a petition asking for the establishment of a grade, and the street was surveyed and 400 feet of the walk had been built, and now the owners of the remaining 500 feet were not willing to do their part of the contract.

The council directed Mr. Kees to make statements to the street commissioner of those who would not build, and that official would then notify them to build. If they still refused the city would pass an ordinance and the walks would be built at the expense of the city and the amount charged against the property.

As to Main Street Bridge.

The street commissioner called up the matter of the redecking of the Main street bridge, and the matter was at last, after some discussion, referred to the committee on streets. It was stated that the bridge has been patched in some of the worst places, but that it was still in no condition to handle the heavy traffic of the coming wheat season. It was the opinion of the council that the decking should be purchased so as to be on hand when needed, and put in at the convenience of the commissioner.

It is the plan of the commissioner to deck the structure with 4x6 laid flat instead of on edge, as at present, and over this to lay another floor of the same material, cut in lengths half the width of the bridge. By this method the floor would be just as heavy as at present, and when it was necessary to repair it one side of the top deck could be removed at a time and the travel on the bridge would not be interrupted in the least. At the same time the lower layer would never be worn and would last for years. This plan will be adopted. The council then adjourned.

OFF FOR SKAGWAY.

W. F. Matlock's Twenty-Second Round Trip in Six Years.

W. F. Matlock will leave about the last of the week for Skaguay, where he will remain for about a month looking after the business interests which he has at that place. It is Mr. Matlock's intention to get his horses off to Canada either tomorrow or the next day, and after that he will be able to leave on his northern trip.

This will make the twenty-second round trip that Mr. Matlock has made to Alaska in the last six years, and he no longer looks on it as a pleasure trip, as some would who have never been over the ground.

W. N. Matlock, who is now in the north, is just commencing to open the claims he has taken for the year's work, and from the reports that are coming home they are as good if not better than those of last year. The works that were abandoned last year were still yielding, but it was thought best to take something new in order to make sure that the pay dirt would not run out before the end of the season.

SHIELDS' PARK.

May and Baby Owens Brought Down the House Last Night, and Entire New Program Takes Well.

The most remarkable talent ever exhibited in this city was seen at Shields' Park last night, in the sketch work of May and Baby Owens.

The little child, only 5 years of age, takes part in a comedy sketch, of 30 minutes duration, and acts and speaks its part with the ease and grace of an old actor.

The numbers were all exceptionally good last night, the polycope pictures being far better than ever before. The sketch by Wise and Milton, the singing and jokes of Welch, the illustrated songs by Bradbury, and the moving pictures were all well received by a good audience.

Amateur night, Thursday, promises to bring out some interesting numbers, as Manager Nelson is making a special effort to secure some good talent, there will be a treat on hand. A ticket for the drawing next Saturday is still given away with each admission.

Will Build Seventy Stables.

Ed Mangan was yesterday awarded the contract to construct 70 stables for the Walla Walla County Fair Association at its grounds in the south part of the city, says the Walla Walla Union. The new stables will be rushed to completion as the time for the first fair is not very far off. All work connected with the grounds is being hurried.

Fossils at Athena.

In excavating the 100-foot wing at the city well, at a distance of 14 feet below the surface, periwinkle shells and the bones of some animal were uncovered, says the Athena Press, by the laborers. The finding of the fossils leads to the belief that the flat at one time contained a creek.

O. R. & N. People in Town.

E. S. Benson, the auditor of the O. R. & N., accompanied by Mrs. Benson and A. H. Cunningham, the general storekeeper of the same road, are in the city on a tour of the road. They are traveling in one of the special cars of the company, and will leave the city this evening.

Heavy Sale of Echo Land.

Bertha Spargur and R. E. W. Spargur, her husband, have sold to De Witt C. Brownell for the sum of $4,000, a large tract of land near Echo. There are 1,320 acres of land in the tract, together with water rights that go with the land.

New Concrete Sidewalk.

R. Laing is constructing 100 feet of concrete sidewalk in front of his residence at the corner of Thompson and Railroad streets. He is also building a stone and iron fence around his property, which adds greatly to its beauty and value.

Police Court.

T. Davis, one of the floating population of the city, was up before the city court this morning, charged with being drunk on the streets, and was fined $5 by Judge Fitz Gerald, in default of which sum he was sent to the city jail for three days.

Will Give Away Prizes.

The Inland Empire Piano House gives a ticket to a prize drawing, with each 35-cent number of sheet music sold. The first prize is a $10 mandolin and the second a $3 music wrapper. The drawing will take place whenever 150 tickets are given out.

EIGHTY-FIVE BLOODED RAMS.

Charles Cunningham Importing Entirely New Stock.

Charles Cunningham returned last night from his trip to San Francisco, where he went some time ago to buy a lot of blooded rams for the restocking of his flocks. While in the city he bought a carload of 85 Rambouillet bucks, and they are now on the road north and will arrive in the city in a day or two. While on the road they are stopped each day and fed and allowed to rest. Upon their arrival here they will be taken from the cars and rested in this city for a day or so and then taken to the ranch of Mr. Cunningham.

It has been Mr. Cunningham's custom for many years to get an entire new lot of rams each year in order to infuse new blood into his sheep, and keep up the standard that he has set. The new consignment is of the best that could be got in the State of California, and are as good as has ever been brought to this county.

J. K. Brown, cashier of the Union Bank at New Holland, is missing. Some suspect embezzlement, others foul play.
