WHEAT SITUATION

COMPARATIVE SHORTAGE OF YIELD, BUT PRICES BETTER.

Deadlock Still Between the Farmers and the Buyers—Believed That the Farmers Will Realize as Much as an Average, On Account of the Price Being Better—Estimate of the Amount of Grain in the County.

The wheat situation of the county is not as good in yield, though it is as good in results for the farmers, as it has been in the years past. The total amount is far short of the amount that is generally put in the hands of the dealers, though the prices that the buyers have to pay will more than make up for the shortage in the crop.

The average yield is 4,000,000 bushels of wheat alone in the county, and taking this at an average yield of 25 bushels to the acre, will give 160,000 acres for the growth of that grain. It is generally the custom in this county to sow about one and a half bushels to the acre, though in some places the amount may be more or less; but on an average the amount per acre used as seed by the farmers is nearly as stated. This will take 240,000 bushels of the year's grain from the total, which the farmers hold at the ranches for the seed time in the fall and spring.

This amount never is taken into consideration in the wheat yield of the county, for the reason that it is never in sight, but is kept on the farms, and the buyer knows nothing of its existence as far as the market is concerned.

Subtracting the amount used for seed from the 4,000,000 bushels that are raised will give the farmers 3,760,000 bushels for sale. Of this amount the Milton mills will take 750,000 bushels, the Walters mill 200,000 bushels and the Byers mill 1,000,000 bushels, or a total of 1,950,000 bushels for the mills of the county, and there are some small mills that are not counted in the list. But taking these into account the mill consumption of the county will be the amount stated which from the amount held for sale will leave 1,810,000 for the export trade.

However, the Milton and Byers mills generally buy in the neighborhood of 500,000 bushels outside of the county, so that all told the usual amount of wheat held in the county for export will foot to 2,500,000 bushels.

But whether the farmers sell to the mills or to the exporters, they will still have the same amount of grain to sell, and the grain will bring them the coveted money, in proportion to the price that is paid for it. With the average crop of 4,000,000 bushels the farmers would have 3,760,000 bushels to sell, and at 50 cents for the bushel the grain would yield them $1,880,000. But with the estimated crop of 3,000,000 for this year, the farmers will fall down 1,000,000 in their crops, and will therefore have 2,760,000 bushels for the market.

At the price for this season's wheat (which will average 70 cents by the time that all of the grain is sold) the farmers will realize $1,932,000 for their short crop. At that rate there is no cause for tears and kicks at the ruthless hand of fate.

The deadlock is still on in the market it seems, for there is very little grain coming into the city, and most of the warehouses of the county are not as busy as they would like to be. Its lackness is partly due to the fact that the farmers are waiting for more money, and partly to the fact that they are not as yet ready to haul to the storerooms. But non-readiness is largely due to a lingering idea that the longer it takes them to get on the road the higher the price of the grain will soar.

In the meantime the millmen are claiming that they are paying too much, the exporters are waiting for the market to open, and the farmers are greasing their wagons for the time when they will haul 75-cent wheat to both of the buying classes.

AT LEHMAN SPRINGS.

Over 100 Guests at C. R. Dutton's Hotel.

There are now between 500 and 600 people camping at Lehman Springs and over 100 guests at C. R. Dutton's. The weather has been delightful for camping and new people are arriving every day. Manager Dutton is kept so busy waiting on his guests that he has no time to spare and as he puts it in a 'phone message, "is jumping sideways," every hour.

He can seat 34 people in his spacious dining room and has all his lounging facilities filled every night.

Buy Freewater Land.

A. S. Pearson, of Freewater, purchased 160 acres of land from Joseph Perygne of Starkey Prairie, yesterday. The land is situated two and one-half miles from Freewater, on the Walla Walla river, and 100 acres of it is in a high state of cultivation. Mr. Pearson immediately after the purchase, sold one-half of it to Louis Winters, of Starkey, and both Mr. Pearsons and Mr. Winters will build residences upon the land and reside permanently upon it. They will immediately put the idle land into cultivation and make homes of the tract.

Major Hall in Town.

Major D. E. Hall, of Portland, the claim agent of the O. R. & N., was in the city today, having come here to transact business for his company here and some of the little towns along the road. Mr. Hall knows all of the old-timers here and most of the new ones and is one of the best story-tellers on the road, so that he is a source of joy and a welcome guest whenever and wherever he goes.

From Ukiah.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gist, of Ukiah, are in the city today on business. Mr. Gist reports the grain crop very good in that district, but wild hay was very short on account of the early dry weather. They returned home this evening.

There are in Massachusetts 29,167 female cotton operatives as against 29,614 males.

Counterfeit in Circulation.

In accepting a $5 bill look and see whether it bears the imprint of the Fourth National Bank of Boston, check letter A, series of 1882, Tillman, register treasurer. When in doubt, take it to the bank and see whether it is genuine or one of the flouziest counterfeits ever foisted on the public.—Exchange.
