LOW RATES TO FAIR

RAILROADS EXPECTED TO INVITE TRAVEL.

Lewis and Clark Exposition Will Be Granted Very Low Rates—Roads All Favor Reductions—Efforts Will Be Made to Stimulate Traffic.

That the representatives of transcontinental lines who will meet a committee from the Lewis and Clark Fair will agree to quote unusually low rates for the exposition is regarded by railroad men as certain. Assurances have been given that the Lewis and Clark Fair will receive rates as low as any ever granted to a coast enterprise, says a Portland paper. This probably means that at least one fare for the round trip will be authorized, and it may be that a rate of $50 for the round trip from Chicago may be granted. Some railroad men believe that the $50 fare from Chicago is most apt to be used as the basing rate.

The only question that appears likely to be brought up for serious consideration between the conferees is the duration of time these rates shall be in effect. The officials of the fair are anxious that the rate be applied during the six months the fair is open.

Some railroad men are opposed to this policy, believing that certain selling days should be fixed and that regular fares be quoted on other days. Such officials insist that the companies cannot do business all summer on an exposition basis.

If any difficulty is had in reaching a conclusion it is likely to come from the southern lines. The northern roads, having close business relations with Portland and the state of Oregon, as well as other Northwest points, are inclined to be very liberal. They are likely to insist upon extending to the fair board almost every consideration that has been asked. While some protest may be made by southern lines, particularly those with no connecting lines into Oregon territory, it is not believed they will go so far as to endeavor to upset arrangements.

From what is known of the attitude of the Transcontinental Passenger Association the disposition of members is to agree to any proposal that is satisfactory to the northern lines, the ones most interested. This practically assures the Lewis and Clark Fair of the considerations that are desired.

The conference between a committee of the Lewis and Clark Fair and the committee from the Transcontinental Passenger Association will be held some time next week during the visit to the coast of Charles S. Fee, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific. As chairman of the committee Mr. Fee has asked all the interested roads to be represented. It is not known, as yet, how successful this movement will be, but at least Mr. Fee and A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the O. R. & N., will attend. The result of this meeting will probably determine the action of the Transcontinental Passenger Association.

It is rather significant that the conference over Lewis and Clark Fair rates is to be held at a time when the passenger associations have not fixed the rates to apply from this territory to the St. Louis Fair. In fact, it is likely that the Lewis and Clark rates will have been quoted before the St. Louis rates are settled.

The settlement of the Lewis and Clark rates two years before the exposition is opened will give the officials in charge a definite basis upon which to work in advertising, the big attraction. Equally as important, however, is the action which binds the railroads to aid the fair. Naturally, after the general passenger agents have agreed to favor low rates they will do a great deal toward advertising the fair. The railroads would, in any event, advertise the exposition extensively, but they are more apt to begin early and advertise more extensively than they are committed to the assistance of the enterprise.

The question of low railroad rates from the East is one that the fair officials have long desired settled. In the addresses made before the Transcontinental Passenger Association during its meeting in Portland the speakers brought out the fact that the fair could not be made a success unless low railroad rates were granted. There has, however, never been much doubt but that the transcontinental lines, acting for no other reason, would grant low rates to Portland. The exposition officials, though, would like to know as soon as possible what these rates are to be.

NEW FLYING MACHINE.

Seattle Man Now Constructing a New Device.

J. V. Janin, a mechanic residing in this city, has evolved a new flying machine theory, by the means of which he hopes to construct a soaring vehicle that will take the $10,000 prize to be given at the St. Louis Exposition for the flying machine that makes the best exhibition, says the Seattle Star. He says that he made his discovery in 1891, and has been working on the matter ever since.

The prospects of taking the big exposition prize have given him an animus to expedite the completion of the machine, and he is busy now making ready for its construction, which will cost $500. Yesterday afternoon he called upon City Engineer Thomson, and the latter, after looking over the plans, pronounced the scheme feasible. The machine by which Janin expects to make Santos Dumont, Langley and other would-be sky-flyers look as ridiculous as Darius Green, is a large mechanism, 200 feet long. It works on the principle of valve action, the means of propulsion being gasoline engines. Janin estimates that the machine can attain a speed of 250 miles an hour, enabling him to circle the world in six days. The cost of operation would amount to only 3/4-cent per horse power per hour. The machine, Janin says, can be directed with perfect ease.

MEETS AT BIRMINGHAM.

Plumbers and Gas Fitters From All Over the United States.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 17.—The annual convention of the United States Association of Plumbers and Gas Fitters, which opened here today, is unusually well attended. Members are present from Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities on the Pacific coast, as well as from all parts of the North and East. The sessions will continue several days and many important questions of interest to the trade will be discussed. The president of the association and presiding officer of the convention is William Merrick, of Beverly, Mass.

HARNESSMAKERS MEET.

Primary Object is to Head Off Encroachments of Wholesalers.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 17.—More than 100 harness manufacturers and dealers from over the United States are here attending the annual convention of the National Harness Manufacturers and Dealers' Protective Association, the principal object of which is to prevent the wholesale dealers from monopolizing the trade of the retailers. The first business session was held today with President John B. Wolcott, of Cincinnati, presiding. Reports from the various associations were read, which showed the organization to be in a flourishing condition.

Frank Oestroff, held in the Butte city jail, for the Wyoming authorities, for stage robbing, hung himself in his cell, Sunday morning.

Can anyone suppose that we would double the necessary cost of our brewing without a vital reason?

Would we spend so much on cleanliness? Would we cool the beer in plate glass rooms? Would we filter all the air that touches it? Would we age it for months? Would we sterilize every bottle?

Schlitz

We do it to attain absolute purity—to avoid the remotest possibility of germs—to make Schlitz Beer healthful.

Why accept a common beer, brewed without any of these precautions, when Schlitz Beer costs no more?

Your dealer may prefer to furnish a beer that pays a little more profit; but does it pay you to permit it? Isn't pure beer—Schlitz Beer—worth asking for?

DISTILLED WATER ICE

The New York Times has the Following to say in Regard to Ice

"Probably no bacteriological fact is better established than that much of the ice of commerce is dangerously impure. The assumption that water purifies itself in freezing was long ago shown to have but a limited basis in truth. The individual crystals are likely to be purer than the mother liquid from which they are formed; but ice is a mass of crystals in which may be entangled all kinds of impurities."

The germs are not only killed in the process of manufacturing the ice, but the condensed water passes through two coke, two charcoal and one sponge filter, leaving it absolutely pure to go into the cans.
